Sale of salvage that has been colected by Mayor Baker's unemployment ommittee during the week has commenced already in the retail stores of the Red Cross, Salvation Army and public welfare bureau. In addition to the regular employes of these stores a committee of women from various clubs and organizations of the city will serve as volunteers. Mrs. Milton Kahn is in general charge of these volunteer saleswomen, who will stay on the job till the last piece of waste material is sold. The women have been assigned for the work in groups, each group taking a certain day of the week and reporti every week on that day as long as
