New Evidence Held To Show Beebe Not 'Tool' of Another

Stuart, Seattle: Henry Thiessen, Sweet

Idaho, and Oswald West, Port-

Albany, Or., Nov. 8.-Evidence that has caused abandonment of any theory that Pete Beebe, held for the alleged murder of John and William Painter on their ranch near Lacomb, October 19, may have been the tool of a "master mind," has been found, according to District Attorney L. G. Lewelling.

While the evidence is of a minor immade public, Lewelling said he has become convinced that Beebe is alone guilty.

The district attorney has acquired knowledge, he said, that Beebe has, during his life-long residence in the Lacomb and Crabtree neighborhoods, conducted himself shrewdly and in no manner as would a half-witted person. This, the district attorney said, would account for the strange story the prisoner told and his alterations when confronted with proof that in many instances he ad not told the truth. Beebe still maintains his innocence He has become accustomed to his fail environment.
