Washington, Nov. 8.—(I. N. S.)—The compromise tax revision bill providing for the abolition of the excess profits between Burnside and Everett sta; builder, H. P. Barrett; $2000. SHARP DEBATE EXPECTED A sharp debate is expected to develop in the house before the tax bill is-formally referred to conference. Advocates of the 50 per cent maximum surtax on incomes desire to commit the house conferees to an agreement with the senate on this rate, while others will urge that the house conferees be given a free hand in dealing with changes made in the bill

It is estimated that the bill as passed by the senate will yield approximately $3,250,000,000 for the fiscal year ending next June 30, or $200,000,000 less than the present revenue law.

The new revenue bill provides broad changes in the methods of taxation that have been employed since America entered the war, and makes material reportation, cuts surtaxes and eliminates most of the so-called nuisance taxes.

As altered by the senate, the bill provides for the collection in taxes by the treasury of $3,250,000,000 during the fiscal year which ends June 30 next. This ompares with $3,460,000,000 which would have been brought in under existing law had it remained in effect throughout the year. During the next fiscal year, is figured, the new measure will yield at least twice that amount. That would be $6,000,000,000. They figure that duties n imports take from the final taxpayer about five times as much as the govern-ment receives. With $600,000,000 from the tariff, that would amount to $3,000,

The total burden is thus about $9,000. 000,000, of which the treasury would get about $3,600,000,000.

rom $200 to $400. Surtax rates under $10,000 likewise are decreased so that the surtax between $8000 and $10,000 will are expected during the fiscal year to Large incomes are benefited by the reduction in the surtax rates. The sen-ate bill provides for a maximum of 50 per cent, reached when the income is $290,000. The house provides for a maximum of 32, because reached at $66,000. The differences would be adjusted while the bill is in conference between the two chambers.

In place of the excess profits tax the senate has provided for a flat tax of 15 per cent on corporation incomes, which compares with 10 per cent under existing law and 121/2 in the house bill. Corcorations in the year would pay $800,-000,000, half from the excess-profits tax and half from the income tax. REPEALS STOCK TAX

The bill also will do these things: Repeal the capital stock tax as of July 1, 1922, meantime imposing a tax of $1 a thousand on the capital of small corporations and $2 on that of large Holding companies are exempted from the payment of taxes on subsidiaries. Impose a levy of 60 cents a gallon on medicinal malt liquors, $1.20 a gallon on medicinal and $6.40 a gallon on distilled

Repeal January 1 taxes on sporting goods, proprietaries, chewing gum, reduce the candy tax from 5 to 3 per cent cut the tax on art goods in half and repeal the tax on admissions of 10

Repeal January 1 the soda fountain tax, and reduce taxes on fountain syrups and carbonated water. Leave inheritance taxes unchanged, except for increases in the levies on the Eliminate tax on life insurance prem-

The house and the senate are in agreement on normal income taxes and the repeal of the transportation and excess profits taxes. They are at odds on the surtax rates, and the corporation income tax and many minor levies. Chief differences in conference will revolve about the surtax rates, which the administration is desirous of keeping at the maximum imposed by the house.
