

GERMAN PEOPLE DECLARE CRASH TO BE INEVITABLE

By S. D. Weyer

Berlin, Nov. 8.—(I. N. S.)—A crash is coming in Germany, the only question being when and what form it will take. That sums up today the mood of the German people from the highest to the lowest as a result of the sharp slump in marks.

The opinion expressed by Arthur Von Gwynner, president of the Deutsche bank, that Germany must collapse, dragging France down with her unless she is assisted, was echoed today by other financiers and business men.

Indescribable pessimism reigns even among those of the nation's leaders who in the darkest days that followed the armistice always held out hope. They, too, now are in despair.

PREDICTION COMES TRUE

Three weeks ago when the American dollar purchased 1.0 marks those who predicted that the German exchange rate would go to 200 marks for the dollar were called calamity howlers.

Today glaring headlines announced that an American dollar buys more than 250 marks.

The economic consequences of this situation are incalculable and the gloom and despondency cannot be exaggerated. The German masses, though working feverishly, are nearly ready to throw up their hands in utter despair.

Financiers claim that Germany must secure outside assistance in the form of credits or an actual loan and that the indemnity burden must be lightened. The reparations commission will arrive here from Paris in a few days when Germany will openly place her cards upon the table to show how she has fared.

There is little likelihood of her securing gold to meet the indemnity installment due in January.

IF DOLLAR WAS 2 CENTS

The last Reichsbank report shows that there are nearly 99,000,000 paper marks in circulation. Americans can get an idea of what this means by imagining that the dollar has dropped to less than 2 cents in value.

"It is a picture of our financial misery which the devil could well hand to hell," said the Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung in commenting on the finance minister's speech in the Reichstag showing that the national deficit amounts to 53,000,000,000 marks.

A striking fact is that in the midst of all this misery there is scarcely any unemployment in Germany. An official estimate of the maximum number of idlers throughout the country is 100,000.

Japan's 'Grand Old Woman' to Present Petition for Peace

By Gearley Edwards

Special correspondent Universal Service, Washington, Nov. 8.—Madame Kaigi Yajima, Japan's "grand old woman," has registered at the Grace Dodge hotel, the hostelry for women recently opened by the national Y. W. C. A.

The "first woman of Japan" has brought with her a roll of rice paper 100 yards long, bearing the names of 10,500 women who represent the voice of women in Japan in prayer for the success of the conference on limitation of armament—for "world peace and an understanding between nations."

The petition will be presented to President Harding early this week by Madame Yajima personally, accompanied by her interpreter, Mrs. Henry Topping, and Secretary Miss Azuma Moriya. Some prominent American women, whose names have not yet been made public, also will be present.

Bridge Is Completed In One Week's Time

Montesano, Wash., Nov. 8.—Trains are using the new Schafer Brothers' logging railroad bridge over the Satsop river. The old bridge was washed out October 28 and high water prevented work on the new one until a week ago. The new bridge has two spans, 60 and 70 feet long. Piling for the bridge was cut in the nearby woods and the timbers were cut at the company's mill in Montesano. That a bridge of this size could be completed in one week is regarded as remarkable. Due to the speed with which the work was finished, the company's mills at Montesano were not compelled to shut down for want of logs.

It's Time That Counts

Often in filling a prescription, time is an important factor. That's why many people feel an all-night drug store fills an important community position. At Nau's your prescriptions are filled punctually, any hour of the twenty-four.

Hood River Citizens Seek Missing Youth

Hood River, Nov. 8.—Several groups of citizens were out this morning searching the brush and river banks for Ellsworth Leroy Hicks, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Hicks of this city. The boy, wearing blue bib overalls over his pajamas, and brown shoes, left the house at 5:30 o'clock Monday morning, before breakfast, to go into the yard, and dropped completely out of sight. Coincident with his disappearance a degenerate, who has been hanging around near the boy's home for several days, is missing and is sought.

3000 RUSSIANS KILLED IN BATTLE

London, Nov. 8.—(I. N. S.)—Three thousand communists were killed when Ukrainian rebels seized 10 Russian towns, according to a Central News dispatch from Helsingfors, quoting the Moscow Soviet newspaper Ivestia. Mobilization of Bolshevik troops has been ordered by soviet authorities at Odessa. The dispatch said.

Man Released From Colorado Prison to Face Charge Here

Ernest Miller, indicted in Portland November 2, 1918, on the charge of sending objectionable matter through the mails, will be brought to Portland from the Colorado state prison where he was sentenced for 25 years last February on the charge of robbing a train and from where he was about to be released Monday because of having won an appeal to the supreme court. Papers have been sent by Assistant United States Attorney Veatch for his return.

Miller jumped his bond for $500 before his case in Portland came up and fled to Switzerland. The case against him was never dismissed.

MISSING MAN LOCATED

Freewater, Nov. 8.—Charles Beckius, missing in the mountains for three days, walked into camp Sunday. While chasing a deer he lost his way. Snow was falling, so he camped where he was over night. Saturday was so foggy he remained in his shelter. Sunday morning he found he had wandered several miles to the south forks of the Walla Walla river.

Chicago Is to Have Its First Afternoon Hanging Tomorrow

Chicago, Nov. 8.—(I. N. S.)—An afternoon hanging will take place tomorrow for the first time in the history of Cook county.

Frank Ligreani, convicted of the murder of his school teacher wife in a farmhouse near Bartlett, Ill., will drop from the scaffold at 4:30 o'clock. The time was changed from dawn to afternoon, because as sheriff Charles W. Peters explained:

"I want every gunman and potential murderer in the county jail to be awake and realize that the death penalty is being exacted."

CLOSING OUT

THIS ENTIRE STOCK

Under the circumstances a detailed price list is practically impossible through the medium of the daily papers. However, let us assure you that every single, solitary article in this house, without any exception whatever, has been marked down to prices which will create intense excitement.

Here are a few. We will let you judge for yourselves.

To be sure, there will be a tremendous crowd here for opening days of this sale. Our prices will attend to that. We will try to take care of all comers as expeditiously as possible.

Impossible in the Regular Way at Such a Price

BUT WE ARE QUITTING

All the millinery trimmings, including feathers, flowers, shapes, velvets, ing feathers, flowers, slaps, velvet and silks at almost any price within reason.

After spending almost 10 years in building up a name and reputation for the White House, unforeseen circumstances compel us to abandon all our future plans and calculations, and to go out of business entirely, just as quietly as it possibly can be done.

Only one consideration is uppermost in our minds at this stage, and that is to turn everything into ready money; merchandise, fixtures, shelving, cases, and everything else contained in our establishment.

Prices have been cut down to the very lowest notch, with that single, solitary point in view.

The same identical policy of fairness and reliability for which this house has been known ever since it started will be maintained to the very end of the sale.
