

NEW IRRIGATION BILL MAY BRING SOUTH'S SUPPORT

Washington, Nov. 14.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—The battle to put water on the thirsting lands of the West, and at the same time to meet the hopes of former service men inspired by utterances of men high in the public service, is about to enter a new phase.

Senator Charles L. McNary, chairman of the reclamation committee of the senate, is expected soon to offer a new bill, which will vary chiefly from the Smith-McNary bill by inclusion of plans for reclaiming swamp lands in the West, and by more liberal provision for soldier entrymen.

This, it is believed, will bring to the support of the measure the practically solid vote of the Southern members of congress, who have looked askance at the proposal of a large scheme of Western irrigation without any mention of reclamation of swamp lands by drainage. It will also increase the pressure from the American Legion and other soldier organizations, that favor constructive work to place ex-service men on the land.

The Smith-McNary bill was framed early this year as a comprehensive measure, to "claim" the subject of Western irrigation, by providing $250,000,000 for immediate use and a revolving fund that would operate to irrigate every tract of Western land that is found feasible to reclaim. Senator McNary and the Western governors talked that bill over with President Harding, and have felt sure of his support at the regular session, beginning in December. They have not urged it before then because of other legislation that was pressed upon the attention of congress.

Mr. McNary has also felt assured that the measure could be passed in the senate, but it would encounter the opposition of many members from the South, because it failed to include the reclamation of swamp lands of that section. There have been indications recently that the bill would have had sledding in the house and that only by including some provision for the waste lands of the South could its passage be hoped for.

The new McNary bill brings such elements to support the bill as will insure its consideration. There are still Western Republican senators, who do not want to take the South under the reclamation umbrella, but the strategy of the situation seems to call for some such action if the bill is to be gotten seriously under way.

Leg Broken When Dog Runs Over Boy

La Grande, Nov. 14.—When a large Shepherd dog ran into Wesley Fargar, aged 7 years, the impact was so great that the boy's leg was broken just above the knee. Young Fargar, with a number of companions, was seated by a bonfire when another boy on horseback ran by with the dog in pursuit. The dog plunged through the crowd before it could stop.

SURPRISE PARTY TENDERED
Jefferson, Nov. 14.—The Young People's alliance of the Evangelical church, following a business meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Trebes turned the affair into a surprise party for Lawrence Trebes, celebrating his twenty-second birthday anniversary.

La Grande Against Higher Phone Rates; Hearing This Week

La Grande, Nov. 14.—The public service commission will hold hearings here this week on the application of the Home Independent Telephone company for an increase in rates. Increases are sought on all classes of service. The single-party lines are paying $2.75 a month and the increase asked would make the cost of this service $3 a month. The two-party lines pay $2.25 a month and it is the intention to increase this to $2.50 a month. The four-party lines, which include the majority of telephones in the residence section, now pay $1.75 and an increase to $2.50 is asked.

It is expected opposition will develop to the increase in rates. At the city commission meeting much opposition was voiced on the part of officials present, because of the poor service being given, and by more liberal provision for soldier entrymen.

Grays Harbor Cases Shown by Sheriff To Prove Activity

Aberdeen, Wash., Nov. 14.—Replying to criticism that the dry law is not enforced in Grays Harbor county, which National Prohibition Director F. A. Hamline recently described as the worst spot in the state, Sheriff Gibson has made public a statement of the records of his office for the first 10 months of the current year. During this period the sheriff's force has conducted 221 searches on search warrants, obtained 159 convictions in justice of peace and police courts, and has sent 107 to the higher courts on appeal, conviction obtained on 16 of these cases and the remainder dismissed. A total of $3,140 was assessed as fines and costs in justice and police courts, and the fines and costs in the higher court aggregate $3900. Forty moonshiners have been seized, 21 of these 75 per cent were liquor violation cases. The sheriff says in conclusion that evidence in liquor cases is hard to obtain.

Winter Auto Park Is Planned at Hoquiam

Hoquiam, Wash., Nov. 14.—Though the tourist season closed almost two months ago, Hoquiam Auto park, at the eastern end of Emerson avenue, is still being put to regular use. When F. W. Mathias, caretaker, went to lock the place up for the winter, he found that four motoring parties were camped there and using the stoves and other conveniences. The camp will probably not be closed this winter, Mathias said.

Washington, Nov. 14.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—The state finance corporation has announced another loan in Oregon to the amount of $30,000.

MRS. WURTZBARGER TO STAND TRIAL IN THE FEDERAL COURT

Mrs. Alma Louise Wurtzbarger must stand trial in the federal court for the murder of her husband, September 4, on the Chemawa Indian reservation, according to an opinion rendered this morning by Federal Judge C. E. Wolverton.

Mrs. Wurtzbarger's counsel had filed a motion challenging the jurisdiction of the federal court in the case, alleging that the trial properly belongs in the Marion county circuit court. The court denied the motion, after giving authority to prove that the reservation is government property.

The woman is alleged to have killed her husband with a hammer while he was sleeping. The court also dismissed the involuntary petition in bankruptcy filed by the Bank of Gresham against the Northwest Potato Starch and Milling company, on the grounds that the petition did not show that the alleged bankrupt had committed an act of bankruptcy.

Judge Wolverton also sustained the referee in bankruptcy in an order disallowing the claim of the Tillamook County bank against the estate of Clara Kellow. The bank made a claim of $1188 against the estate of Clara Kellow, after alleging that it had loaned $1188 to the account of O. Kellow and Clara Kellow on August 5, 1919, and payable November 5 following. Clara Kellow denied she ever received the money, or was indebted to the bank.

A judgment in favor of the plaintiff was given in the case of James C. Davis, agent for the United States railroad administration, vs. J. C. Medlin. The railroad administration brought suit against Medlin for full payment of freight charges for a cattle shipment. Medlin objected to the tariff under federal control, paying only the rates formerly fixed by the interstate commerce commission. The court held that the railroad administration had authority to increase the rates, and ordered Medlin to pay the difference.

WILHILO ARRIVES WITH BIG JOURNAL PRESS

Steamer Wilhilo, from New York, as she was drawing up to Terminal No. 1 Sunday noon. Part of the Wilhilo's Portland cargo is The Journal's new 100 ton octuple newspaper printing press, the largest type of single press built.

The Journal's new octuple printing press, the largest type of single press made, arrived in Portland harbor Sunday day aboard the steamer Wilhilo and late today or Tuesday work of unloading the big machine will begin.

A special representative of the manufacturer, R. Hoe & Co., will arrive here Tuesday and as soon as the press can be trucked from Terminal No. 1 to the Journal building work of setting it up will be undertaken. It is expected that it will be ready for trial runs between December 10 and 15 and in regular service before Christmas.

With this new press, The Journal's press room equipment will include two octuple presses, one sextuple press and one quadruple press with a total capacity almost as great as the combined capacity of the other three Portland newspapers.

The new press will expedite the printing of The Journal's eight daily editions, having a total circulation of 75,000, and of the three Sunday editions, having a total circulation of approximately 94,000. The press was ordered in 1919 and required two and one half years to build.

Maxwell was appointed Saturday to fill a vacancy in the board of county commissioners, caused by the resignation of Commissioner J. B. Sanborn of Pullman. Maxwell has twice been elected auditor, after filling out the unexpired term of J. J. Kimm, who resigned. H. R. Penn, a deputy in the auditor's office, was named.

Charges Are Made That Exploitation Of Land Has Begun

Olympia, Wash., Nov. 14.—Exploitation of lands adjacent to the White Bluffs-Hanford project recently accepted by Dan Scott, director of the department of conservation and development, under the soldier settlement act, is already being attempted, according to charges made by Director Scott. A telegram from Ivan P. Goodner, chief engineer for the Columbia basin survey, asked permission to investigate the irrigation possibilities of 12,000 acres of railroad land near Hanford for representatives of the mayor of Elroit, who has the land under option.

Director Scott refused permission on the ground that the principals should first take up the matter with the administrative officials at the capital, as provided by the state law.

Three Suspects Face Charges of Burglary

Burglary charges will be placed against Ben Lehmester, Howard Griggs and Clifford Griggs, three young men arrested early this morning in the act of attempting to enter the Economy Barber shop, Second and Yamhill streets. They confessed to the police that they had robbed the Markell department store at Union avenue and East Morrison street about a month ago and several other business houses, the police say. They got only a small amount of loot in each case.

HEINZ OVEN BAKED BEANS with Tomato Sauce

Ask, "Who wants Heinz Baked Beans?" and all hands go up. With good reason too. The taste is unforgettable. The reason lies in the oven baking—dry heat ovens as of old. But the delicacy of the dish is enhanced by the luscious tomato sauce which Heinz makes so well from the choicest red ripe tomatoes. It is a mighty good food for growing children—and for you, whoever you are.

Leading grocers in Portland quote these prices on Heinz Baked Beans: Small, 11 or 12c Medium, 16 or 17c Large, 30 or 28c

Make This Test Watch how your teeth respond

This ten-day test has shown to millions the way to whiter, safer teeth. It is a free test—you should make it. No other method known can do what Pepsodent does for teeth.

To end the film
The object is to fight the film, which dims the teeth and causes most tooth troubles. Dental science has worked years to do that. Film is that viscous coat you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. The ordinary tooth paste does not combat it satisfactorily, so brushing leaves much of it intact. It is the film-coat that discolors, not the teeth. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Millions of germs breed in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus all these troubles have been constantly increasing, despite the tooth brush.

How we combat it
Dental science, after years of searching, has found ways to combat film. High authorities have proved them by clinical and laboratory tests. The best dental opinion now approves these methods. Leading dentists everywhere are urging their adoption. Millions of people, as a result, now employ them daily. The methods are combined in a dentifrice called Pepsodent. And a 10-Day Tube is offered free, so all who will may quickly know how much it means to them.

Five much desired effects
One ingredient of Pepsodent is pepsin. Another multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva to digest the starch deposits which cling and form acid. It also multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva, to neutralize the acids which cause tooth decay. Two factors directly attack the film. One of them keeps teeth so highly polished that film cannot easily adhere. Pepsodent combines the best that modern science knows to combat the great tooth destroyers. It has brought a new era in teeth cleaning.

Watch it act
Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coat disappears. You will see several new effects, and the book we send will tell you what they mean. This is too important to forget. Cut out the coupon now.
