

It's All Here and It's All True MADCAP PRINCESS—Here's a "rogue" story! How the madcap princess danced the mortgage of the castle of her forbears. It is one of many interesting features in The Sunday Journal magazine.

It's All Here and It's All True THE WEATHER—Tonight and Wednesday, fair; westerly winds. Maximum temperatures Monday: Portland, 47; Astoria, 45; Boise, 61; New York, 44; Los Angeles, 64. St. Paul, 28.

ACCEPTS "IN SPIRIT AND IN PRINCIPLE"

THE Right Honorable A. J. Balfour, who spoke for Great Britain at today's session of the Arms Limitation conference. Although 73 years old, Mr. Balfour is described as the embodiment of youth. In a dramatic speech he emphasized his country's widely scattered possessions but yielded "in admiration and appreciation" to the Hughes plan for limiting navies.

©HCF

'FAT' ARBUCKLE JURY MAY BE POKED TODAY

Eight Tentative Jurors, Including Two Women, in Box at Noon Adjournment; One Has Never Seen Comedian on Screen.

San Francisco, Nov. 15.—"We will show that there has been rank perjury by some of the witnesses in this case," declared Charles Brennan, attorney for Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, shortly before the opening of the afternoon session of court today.

"We will also show that witnesses have been intimidated and threatened, and that at one notable session, where this took place, District Attorney Brady was present," Brennan said.

EIGHT IN BOX

Eight tentative jurors, including two women, were in the jury box at noon recessed at noon today, indicating that unless peremptory challenges are used extensively, the jury to try Arbuckle will be complete before the adjournment.

Mrs. Anna Butler, who said she had never seen Arbuckle on the screen, was the eighth juror passed for cause. The prediction was made by Edwin McNab, chief counsel for Arbuckle, that a jury will be completed late today.

Assistant District Attorney Sprong Golden returned from Chicago today with hints of a surprise to be sprung in the event the defense endeavors to place in evidence depositions regarding the physical condition of Virginia Rappe, obtained in Chicago.

M'NAB MAKES CHARGE Extra police had to be called out today to hold back crowds which gathered through and around the hall of justice, where the trial is being held.

Clanking clash after clash throughout the first day, McNab just before adjournment last night charged that he would prove by seven witnesses that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

District Attorney Brady in reply rose and told the court that he would not accept the mayor's resignation until the proof had been produced.

ARBUCKLE FUZZLED Arbuckle with through the interminable questioning of counsel with his eyes on the face of his tall, mouse chief of counsel, McNab. From time to time is superceded by bewilderment at the involved hypothetical questions shot at the jurors.

Two jurors, one outstanding in the questioning of jurors. The state will rely to a considerable extent on circumstantial evidence. The defense will depend on expert medical testimony to clear Arbuckle.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

'FAT' ARBUCKLE JURY MAY BE POKED TODAY

Eight Tentative Jurors, Including Two Women, in Box at Noon Adjournment; One Has Never Seen Comedian on Screen.

San Francisco, Nov. 15.—"We will show that there has been rank perjury by some of the witnesses in this case," declared Charles Brennan, attorney for Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle, charged with manslaughter in connection with the death of Virginia Rappe, shortly before the opening of the afternoon session of court today.

"We will also show that witnesses have been intimidated and threatened, and that at one notable session, where this took place, District Attorney Brady was present," Brennan said.

EIGHT IN BOX

Eight tentative jurors, including two women, were in the jury box at noon recessed at noon today, indicating that unless peremptory challenges are used extensively, the jury to try Arbuckle will be complete before the adjournment.

Mrs. Anna Butler, who said she had never seen Arbuckle on the screen, was the eighth juror passed for cause. The prediction was made by Edwin McNab, chief counsel for Arbuckle, that a jury will be completed late today.

Assistant District Attorney Sprong Golden returned from Chicago today with hints of a surprise to be sprung in the event the defense endeavors to place in evidence depositions regarding the physical condition of Virginia Rappe, obtained in Chicago.

M'NAB MAKES CHARGE Extra police had to be called out today to hold back crowds which gathered through and around the hall of justice, where the trial is being held.

Clanking clash after clash throughout the first day, McNab just before adjournment last night charged that he would prove by seven witnesses that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

District Attorney Brady in reply rose and told the court that he would not accept the mayor's resignation until the proof had been produced.

ARBUCKLE FUZZLED Arbuckle with through the interminable questioning of counsel with his eyes on the face of his tall, mouse chief of counsel, McNab. From time to time is superceded by bewilderment at the involved hypothetical questions shot at the jurors.

Two jurors, one outstanding in the questioning of jurors. The state will rely to a considerable extent on circumstantial evidence. The defense will depend on expert medical testimony to clear Arbuckle.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

ARBUCKLE ATTEMPTED TO HOLD COURT. McNab, in his last speech, charged that the district attorney had "impounded witnesses and threatened them with jail" unless they signed statements favorable to the prosecution.

WAR DOOMED, MORAL CODE SUBSTITUTE

By Mary Roberts Rinehart. Written Exclusively for Universal Service (Copyright, 1921, by Universal Service). Washington, Nov. 15.—Whatever the extreme pacifists may believe we have not yet entirely done with war. But eventually we shall have done with it. Call it economically too expensive, call it a growth of the humane instinct, call it increasing religious conviction, call it world extermination if it continues, the fact remains that war is gradually folding up its banners and preparing to depart.

And with war will go something that is a part of the great passion of life as we see it, something terrible but spectacularly majestic, hideous but dramatic, ugly but impressive. Unthinkable as it is in this era of civilization, it has yet been the ladder by which men have risen to heights of sacrifice and heroism they would not otherwise have dared.

BATTLESHIPS TO VANISH But war will go. The battleship will vanish from our seas and the soldier from the land.

The vast impediments of war, the guns and swords, the rattle of artillery, the hub of cavalry, the line of marching men, will go. The crowds on the pavements, stricken and yet uplifted will go about their peaceful business. And there will be no war.

No yet. Perhaps not for a long time. But war is dying and let us deal generously with it, now that we may.

(Continued on Page Two, Column One)

Text of Speech By Balfour

Continental Hall, Washington, Nov. 15.—(I. N. S.)—Following is the text, in detail, of Arthur J. Balfour's memorable speech before the armament conference:

"Mr. Chairman: I have invited those who desired it to continue the discussion which began on Saturday last. I think it would be very unfortunate if we were to allow the events of Saturday to pass without some further observations on the part of those to whom you, Mr. Chairman, addressed your speech, and, if for any reason which I shall venture to explain in a moment, I am the first to take up the challenge, it is because of all the powers here assembled the country which I represent is, as everybody knows, most intimately interested in all naval questions.

"Statements of all countries are beginning to discover that the labors and difficulties of peace are almost as arduous and require almost as great qualities as those which are demanded for the conduct of a successful war.

REPORT TAXES EVERYBODY The struggle to restore the world to the condition of equilibrium, so violently interfered with by five years of war, is one that taxes and must tax the efforts of everybody. And I congratulate you, if I may, Mr. Chairman, on the fact that you have added a new anniversary which will henceforth be celebrated in connection with this movement toward reconstruction in the same spirit in which we welcomed the anniversary, celebrated only a few hours ago, of the date on which hostilities came to an end. If the 11th of November is a date imprinted on grateful hearts, I think November 12 will also prove to be an anniversary welcomed and thought of in a grateful spirit by those who have suffered from the war.

"I count myself among the fortunate of the earth in that I was present, and that I had a share in the proceedings of this afternoon.

(Continued on Page Eighteen, Column One)

SCHOOL BUSINESS INQUIRY IS ASKED

An immediate investigation of the department of properties of school district No. 1, created last December, with Captain George Edmondstone in charge as superintendent, has been demanded by the school board by Director Frank L. Shull, as a result of numerous reports received concerning the conduct of the department.

The matter will be formally presented to the board at its regular meeting Wednesday night. Following is the resolution providing for the investigation:

COMPLAINTS ARE LISTED "Resolved, That an investigation of the department of properties be made at an early date, particularly as to reports that certain employees have been discharged without cause; that men in the employ of the board have been engaged in work not connected with the school at school time, and to determine whether the cost of conducting the department of properties is excessive under the present management.

The department of properties is in charge of all building and maintenance work, all janitor service, school cafeterias and repair work of all sorts. Superintendent Edmondstone, upon taking charge of the department, established his offices in the old Felling school, away from the school offices in the courthouse.

EMPLOYEES DISCHARGED Early last spring there was a general change in personnel, many old employees being discharged, and others resigning rather than be transferred to the office in the Felling school building.

Several complaints during the year have been made of the lack of coordination between the department of properties and the business department, and the failure of the properties department to make proper reports.

Byron and Todd are charged in the indictment with using the mails to promote a land fraud deal. They are alleged to have agreed to furnish 132 Marion county residents with timber lands, worth about $20,000 each, in return for a $1000 payment. They are alleged to have secured many $500 initial payments from victims, who are named in the indictment.

The government has subpoenaed about 75 witnesses in this case, which is estimated will cost the government about $10,000 to try.

Yakima Sheriff Is Under Indictment

Yakima, Wash., Nov. 15.—Sheriff Pad P. Bear and C. F. Bohn, Tappanville, charge, were indicted here Monday on a charge of extorting money from bootleggers through the use of the mails. The indictment is that by threatening Fred B. Crumley with prosecution on the charge of the unlawful possession of liquor they secured from him $400 in cash. No charge was ever preferred, nor was the money ever accounted for to the proper authorities. The indictment comes as the result of several weeks of investigation into the general charge that there has been official graft in connection with the handling of illicit liquor traffic.

Missing Girl Found Dead in Icy Waters

Everett, Wash., Nov. 15.—(U. P.)—The body of pretty 18-year-old Dorothy Grimm, lost since last Saturday in the woods near Tye, was found at daybreak today in the icy waters of the Stillaguamish river. The coroner's office at Everett was notified and officials left immediately for the scene. Whether the girl was murdered or death was accidental will not be determined until the arrival of the coroner.

Girl Saves Banker Pinned Under Auto

Boardman, Nov. 15.—W. G. Scott, banker at Lexington, met with a serious accident Sunday, when his automobile turned turtle on the Columbia highway near Meesner, pinning him underneath. Miss Doris Boardman, high school girl, driving to church, directed the plight and assisted in bringing the injured man to Boardman, where he received medical attention. The drive to Hepper Junction to catch a train for home. He suffered during the ride and internal injury is feared.

Lardner in Wild Auto Ride Phone Book Misses Harding

By Ring W. Lardner (Copyright, 1921, by Ring W. Lardner). Washington, D. C., Nov. 15, 1921.—Amongst the important questions which remained unsettled at late hour last night was what about the man who did it. I bring my dinner clothes, it is like to take at least two weeks to get a reply to either question and by that time the answer to no 2 won't make no difference as I will be back on Long's Island where a man their representative will have done and not just because he is a member of the staff of investigation into the general charge that there has been official graft in connection with the handling of illicit liquor traffic.

WAR DOOMED, MORAL CODE SUBSTITUTE

By Mary Roberts Rinehart. Written Exclusively for Universal Service (Copyright, 1921, by Universal Service). Washington, Nov. 15.—Whatever the extreme pacifists may believe we have not yet entirely done with war. But eventually we shall have done with it. Call it economically too expensive, call it a growth of the humane instinct, call it increasing religious conviction, call it world extermination if it continues, the fact remains that war is gradually folding up its banners and preparing to depart.

And with war will go something that is a part of the great passion of life as we see it, something terrible but spectacularly majestic, hideous but dramatic, ugly but impressive. Unthinkable as it is in this era of civilization, it has yet been the ladder by which men have risen to heights of sacrifice and heroism they would not otherwise have dared.

BATTLESHIPS TO VANISH But war will go. The battleship will vanish from our seas and the soldier from the land.

The vast impediments of war, the guns and swords, the rattle of artillery, the hub of cavalry, the line of marching men, will go. The crowds on the pavements, stricken and yet uplifted will go about their peaceful business. And there will be no war.

No yet. Perhaps not for a long time. But war is dying and let us deal generously with it, now that we may.

(Continued on Page Two, Column One)

Text of Speech By Balfour

Continental Hall, Washington, Nov. 15.—(I. N. S.)—Following is the text, in detail, of Arthur J. Balfour's memorable speech before the armament conference:

"Mr. Chairman: I have invited those who desired it to continue the discussion which began on Saturday last. I think it would be very unfortunate if we were to allow the events of Saturday to pass without some further observations on the part of those to whom you, Mr. Chairman, addressed your speech, and, if for any reason which I shall venture to explain in a moment, I am the first to take up the challenge, it is because of all the powers here assembled the country which I represent is, as everybody knows, most intimately interested in all naval questions.

"Statements of all countries are beginning to discover that the labors and difficulties of peace are almost as arduous and require almost as great qualities as those which are demanded for the conduct of a successful war.

REPORT TAXES EVERYBODY The struggle to restore the world to the condition of equilibrium, so violently interfered with by five years of war, is one that taxes and must tax the efforts of everybody. And I congratulate you, if I may, Mr. Chairman, on the fact that you have added a new anniversary which will henceforth be celebrated in connection with this movement toward reconstruction in the same spirit in which we welcomed the anniversary, celebrated only a few hours ago, of the date on which hostilities came to an end. If the 11th of November is a date imprinted on grateful hearts, I think November 12 will also prove to be an anniversary welcomed and thought of in a grateful spirit by those who have suffered from the war.

"I count myself among the fortunate of the earth in that I was present, and that I had a share in the proceedings of this afternoon.

(Continued on Page Eighteen, Column One)

SCHOOL BUSINESS INQUIRY IS ASKED

An immediate investigation of the department of properties of school district No. 1, created last December, with Captain George Edmondstone in charge as superintendent, has been demanded by the school board by Director Frank L. Shull, as a result of numerous reports received concerning the conduct of the department.

The matter will be formally presented to the board at its regular meeting Wednesday night. Following is the resolution providing for the investigation:

COMPLAINTS ARE LISTED "Resolved, That an investigation of the department of properties be made at an early date, particularly as to reports that certain employees have been discharged without cause; that men in the employ of the board have been engaged in work not connected with the school at school time, and to determine whether the cost of conducting the department of properties is excessive under the present management.

The department of properties is in charge of all building and maintenance work, all janitor service, school cafeterias and repair work of all sorts. Superintendent Edmondstone, upon taking charge of the department, established his offices in the old Felling school, away from the school offices in the courthouse.

EMPLOYEES DISCHARGED Early last spring there was a general change in personnel, many old employees being discharged, and others resigning rather than be transferred to the office in the Felling school building.

Several complaints during the year have been made of the lack of coordination between the department of properties and the business department, and the failure of the properties department to make proper reports.

Byron and Todd are charged in the indictment with using the mails to promote a land fraud deal. They are alleged to have agreed to furnish 132 Marion county residents with timber lands, worth about $20,000 each, in return for a $1000 payment. They are alleged to have secured many $500 initial payments from victims, who are named in the indictment.

The government has subpoenaed about 75 witnesses in this case, which is estimated will cost the government about $10,000 to try.

Yakima Sheriff Is Under Indictment

Yakima, Wash., Nov. 15.—Sheriff Pad P. Bear and C. F. Bohn, Tappanville, charge, were indicted here Monday on a charge of extorting money from bootleggers through the use of the mails. The indictment is that by threatening Fred B. Crumley with prosecution on the charge of the unlawful possession of liquor they secured from him $400 in cash. No charge was ever preferred, nor was the money ever accounted for to the proper authorities. The indictment comes as the result of several weeks of investigation into the general charge that there has been official graft in connection with the handling of illicit liquor traffic.

Missing Girl Found Dead in Icy Waters

Everett, Wash., Nov. 15.—(U. P.)—The body of pretty 18-year-old Dorothy Grimm, lost since last Saturday in the woods near Tye, was found at daybreak today in the icy waters of the Stillaguamish river. The coroner's office at Everett was notified and officials left immediately for the scene. Whether the girl was murdered or death was accidental will not be determined until the arrival of the coroner.

Girl Saves Banker Pinned Under Auto

Boardman, Nov. 15.—W. G. Scott, banker at Lexington, met with a serious accident Sunday, when his automobile turned turtle on the Columbia highway near Meesner, pinning him underneath. Miss Doris Boardman, high school girl, driving to church, directed the plight and assisted in bringing the injured man to Boardman, where he received medical attention. The drive to Hepper Junction to catch a train for home. He suffered during the ride and internal injury is feared.

Lardner in Wild Auto Ride Phone Book Misses Harding

By Ring W. Lardner (Copyright, 1921, by Ring W. Lardner). Washington, D. C., Nov. 15, 1921.—Amongst the important questions which remained unsettled at late hour last night was what about the man who did it. I bring my dinner clothes, it is like to take at least two weeks to get a reply to either question and by that time the answer to no 2 won't make no difference as I will be back on Long's Island where a man their representative will have done and not just because he is a member of the staff of investigation into the general charge that there has been official graft in connection with the handling of illicit liquor traffic.

WAR DOOMED, MORAL CODE SUBSTITUTE

By Mary Roberts Rinehart. Written Exclusively for Universal Service (Copyright, 1921, by Universal Service). Washington, Nov. 15.—Whatever the extreme pacifists may believe we have not yet entirely done with war. But eventually we shall have done with it. Call it economically too expensive, call it a growth of the humane instinct, call it increasing religious conviction, call it world extermination if it continues, the fact remains that war is gradually folding up its banners and preparing to depart.

And with war will go something that is a part of the great passion of life as we see it, something terrible but spectacularly majestic, hideous but dramatic, ugly but impressive. Unthinkable as it is in this era of civilization, it has yet been the ladder by which men have risen to heights of sacrifice and heroism they would not otherwise have dared.

BATTLESHIPS TO VANISH But war will go. The battleship will vanish from our seas and the soldier from the land.

The vast impediments of war, the guns and swords, the rattle of artillery, the hub of cavalry, the line of marching men, will go. The crowds on the pavements, stricken and yet uplifted will go about their peaceful business. And there will be no war.

No yet. Perhaps not for a long time. But war is dying and let us deal generously with it, now that we may.

(Continued on Page Two, Column One)

Text of Speech By Balfour

Continental Hall, Washington, Nov. 15.—(I. N. S.)—Following is the text, in detail, of Arthur J. Balfour's memorable speech before the armament conference:

"Mr. Chairman: I have invited those who desired it to continue the discussion which began on Saturday last. I think it would be very unfortunate if we were to allow the events of Saturday to pass without some further observations on the part of those to whom you, Mr. Chairman, addressed your speech, and, if for any reason which I shall venture to explain in a moment, I am the first to take up the challenge, it is because of all the powers here assembled the country which I represent is, as everybody knows, most intimately interested in all naval questions.

"Statements of all countries are beginning to discover that the labors and difficulties of peace are almost as arduous and require almost as great qualities as those which are demanded for the conduct of a successful war.

REPORT TAXES EVERYBODY The struggle to restore the world to the condition of equilibrium, so violently interfered with by five years of war, is one that taxes and must tax the efforts of everybody. And I congratulate you, if I may, Mr. Chairman, on the fact that you have added a new anniversary which will henceforth be celebrated in connection with this movement toward reconstruction in the same spirit in which we welcomed the anniversary, celebrated only a few hours ago, of the date on which hostilities came to an end. If the 11th of November is a date imprinted on grateful hearts, I think November 12 will also prove to be an anniversary welcomed and thought of in a grateful spirit by those who have suffered from the war.

"I count myself among the fortunate of the earth in that I was present, and that I had a share in the proceedings of this afternoon.

(Continued on Page Eighteen, Column One)

SCHOOL BUSINESS INQUIRY IS ASKED

An immediate investigation of the department of properties of school district No. 1, created last December, with Captain George Edmondstone in charge as superintendent, has been demanded by the school board by Director Frank L. Shull, as a result of numerous reports received concerning the conduct of the department.

The matter will be formally presented to the board at its regular meeting Wednesday night. Following is the resolution providing for the investigation:

COMPLAINTS ARE LISTED "Resolved, That an investigation of the department of properties be made at an early date, particularly as to reports that certain employees have been discharged without cause; that men in the employ of the board have been engaged in work not connected with the school at school time, and to determine whether the cost of conducting the department of properties is excessive under the present management.

The department of properties is in charge