

New Manager of Portland Beavers to Be Named Within Short Time by Bill Klepper

Wills Shows Speed in His 1st Workout

ALTHOUGH he totes around in the neighborhood of 250 pounds, Harry Wills, holder of the world's colored heavyweight title, stepped around the Olympic gym Tuesday afternoon with the speed and cleverness of a lightweight.

The giant colored brawler worked out for over an hour before the largest crowd that ever witnessed a boxer train in Portland. He punched the bag and skipped rope, in addition to doing a little shadow boxing. He put one sparring partner away in a couple of punches and stepped around the ring with Willie St. Clair and Young Sam Langford.

St. Clair and Langford are not slow on their feet, but they looked that way against Wills.

UNABLE TO CUT LOOSE

The big fellow was unable to cut loose with any of his sparring partners, but he carries a wicked punch as he demonstrated when he tore the punching bag from its socket.

Wills will enter the ring a big favorite over Martin. He has everything in his favor, yet he is the greatest. Despite this fact, "Denver Ed" has an outside chance for a victory. Wills has been beaten and has been floored by some opponents whom he defeated, and if "Denver Ed" connects with his right Wills may see stars, but chances are that he will not, in the opinion of many who saw the Eastern work out.

TICKET SALE LARGE

The advance ticket sale has surpassed that of any smoker ever staged in Milwaukee. There are still a few ringside seats available, but indications are that these will be taken before Thursday noon.

The gallery tickets will be placed on sale at the arena Friday evening at 8 o'clock, when the doors will be opened. First come first served is the commission's ruling on the buck pasteboards.

DR. GELLERT RESIGNS FROM PORTLAND BOXING BODY

Dr. Sam Gellert, examining physician of the Portland Boxing commission and the sole remaining member of the original commission appointed by Mayor Baker, has resigned his position.

Dr. Gellert, it has been rumored for some time intended to leave the post, but it was not until recently that he decided to resign. He had made public the announcement of his resignation.

It would not be surprising to see Dr. Thomas Ross, an ardent devotee of the ring sport, be named to fill the vacancy.

The Portland Boxing commission decided Tuesday not to stage a fight during the coming week on account of the inter-club contests scheduled for Thanksgiving day even between representatives of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club and the Olympic club of San Francisco.

Failure of the Portland boxing fans to give better support to the smokers staged by the commission may result in but one smoker being staged each month, unless the attendance at the bouts to be held during the first week in September show a marked increase.

Last week's smoker drew but a little over $100, which is very small, considering the fact that the prices were within reach of every lover of the manly art of self-defense.

The commission has decided to make another payment on the Shrine loan, which will bring the indebtedness below the $1500 mark.

BASKETBALL

THE Young Men's Athletic club basketball team has been practicing for two weeks, and Thursday night a practice game will be played in the Neighborhood House gymnasium against the Japanese students.

Manager G. Sussman wishes to arrange games for the Y. M. C. A. representatives and he can be reached by calling Main 6218 between 7 o'clock and 9 o'clock any evening.

The department store basketball league will hold a meeting next Tuesday night in room 612 Oregon building, Fifth and Oak streets, and several new teams are wanted. There are several openings in the unlimited circuit as well. The junior league composed of the Simon store juniors, Albina juniors, Lincoln leagues, Young Men's Athletic club, Jewish Boys' Athletic club and Amicus club will open the 1921-22 season soon after December 1.

ZYBZKO TO DEFEND TITLE

Denver, Colo., Nov. 16.—(U. P.)—Stanislav Zybzko, heavyweight wrestling champion of the world, will defend his title here tonight against Joe (Toots) Mondt, Rocky Mountain champion.

County Jail Strong Wills Pays a Visit

MULTNOMAH county has a good stout jail on the seventh floor of the courthouse. Harry Wills, colored heavyweight champion, proved it Tuesday morning when he tried to pull the jail down and failed.

Wills, who will box Denver Ed Martin Friday night, was shown through the jail by Deputy Sheriff Beckman and Frank Kendall. Their progress down the corridor was interrupted by such exchanges as this:

Voice from black man in cell: "Hi, Harry, good luck when you meet him."

Harry, grinning: "Thanks, bo, but I makes my own good luck."

When the party reached the kitchen there was a shout from a gang of trustees. The trustees ran to a window overlooking the inner court of the courthouse.

"They're breaking moonshine," they yelled.

"Good Lord, man, don't say that," cried Harry and dashed to the window.

He had to take off his stiff hat, bend over and twist his head between the bars before he could look out.

Just then a tender hand parted his coat and the sound of a board descending upon him rang out like a shot. It was in trying to get his head out and stand up straight that the fighter nearly pulled the jail down.

"Darn it, yo' all framed me," he snorted, with remarkable insight. "Never mind," the boys consoled him, "O'wood and nearly all the others got the same thing."

Harry's ruffled countenance smoothed into a smile.

Mid-Columbia Hi League May Quit; Bad Feeling Cause

GOLDENDALE, Wash., Nov. 16.—L. L. Reeves, principal of the Maryhill, Wash., schools and secretary-treasurer of the Klickitat County Inter-scholastic Athletic association, in commenting on athletics in the Mid-Columbia league, comprised of the towns of Goldendale, White Salmon, Stevenson, Hood River, The Dalles and Dufur, says that a bitter partisan feeling exhibited by supporters of the football and basketball teams in the different towns that has been apparent for years is increasing, causing bad feeling between the players who leads to unfair and rough playing, the permitting of players to participate who are not eligible under interscholastic rules, attempted intimidation of referees, all of which is detracting from the purposes of interscholastic athletics.

Professor Reeves attributes the trouble to an overzealous interest exhibited by partisan supporters of teams who are not directly interested in interscholastic sports and the principles that are expected to be brought out and maintained for the furtherance of athletics in connection with school work.

As a remedy, he offers two suggestions. One would be for the Washington teams in the league to withdraw from the Mid-Columbia league schedule of football and basketball games and the scheduling of independent games until such time as a better feeling can be established between the towns and schools in the present league. The other would be for the league officials to secure and pay for the services of neutral referees from towns outside the league to officiate in all games played.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 15.—(U. P.)—Unofficial word has been received here that Centre college would accept the October 21 date offered on Harvard's next year's schedule.

Sheriff Bear Faces Second Indictment

Yakima, Wash., Nov. 16.—A second indictment was returned by the grand jury Tuesday against Sheriff Paul R. Bear and Attorney Charles F. Bolin, charging extortion in connection with the handling of the illicit liquor traffic in this county by threatening Albert R. Keyes with imprisonment unless he executed a writing releasing all claims for damages against Albert Barron on attack charges. Barron was a bootlegger. It is alleged in the indictment that an indictment was also returned against Joe Douglas, a deputy sheriff, for bearing and for a time acting jailer, charging acceptance of a bribe of $100 from Henry Thaut, arrested on a charge of making moonshine.

Worker Shot for Escaped Convict

Redding, Cal., Nov. 16.—(U. P.)—Charles E. Bradbury, powerhouse operator at Junction City, Trinity county, was shot in the leg by E. D. Cowan, guard from Folsom, Cal., penitentiary, last night when Cowan mistook Bradbury for an escaped convict he was hunting.

Auto Park Rest Room Not Liked As Pest House

Corvallis, Nov. 16.—The Corvallis auto park rest room, fitted up as a pesthouse, did not suit its first inmate, for he left under cover of darkness and without notice. A member of a traveling Chautauqua, visiting Monroe, was held by his physicians to have smallpox. Officials were in a quandary to find a place to isolate him. Inquiries to Albany, Salem and other cities failed to produce assistance, so the rest room at the auto park was turned over to the sick man. Monday morning the patient was missing. Campers said he left with friends who came by auto. Nothing further has been heard of the case.

Solons Release Bill Rodgers New Beaver Boss Is Undecided

William "Rawmeat" Rodgers, former captain of the Portland Beavers, whose release as manager of the Sacramento club was announced Wednesday by Charles Moreing, Rodgers is in Portland, making a bid for the management of the Beavers.

By George Berts

PORTLAND'S new baseball manager will not be named for at least a week. This was the declaration of President William H. Klepper of the Beavers, who returned Wednesday from Seattle.

"I am not ready to announce my selection as manager yet," said Klepper. "I am getting new applications every day. In fact, I just received a wire from Roy Corhan, former San Francisco shortstop, applying for the position."

WANTS PLAYING LEADER

"If it is possible, I am going to try to secure a playing manager. I believe that a playing manager is a bigger asset to a ball club than a bench leader."

Klepper stated that he had talked with Bill Rodgers, who was released Wednesday as manager of the Sacramento team, in Los Angeles regarding the management of the team, but declined to state whether Rodgers would get the position.

RELEASE NO SURPRISE

Rodgers' release as manager at Sacramento was no surprise to those on the inside in baseball circles. Neither was the appointment of Charley Pick, who was field captain of the Solons last year, be a surprise. It was almost certain that Rodgers would be replaced by Pick when the Moreings purchased him from the Boston Red Sox.

Rodgers had endeavor to see Klepper Thursday in an effort to line up the job. Rodgers would make an ideal manager for the Beavers. He has the pep and is always playing for the break in the game. He is always out on the coaching line urging his players even if they are behind. He has the "pep" that is necessary in the makeup of a manager.

TO PLAN CHANGES

Klepper will devote all his time toward the building up of interest in baseball in a series of exhibition games while on the way north from spring training camps. He will plan on the new changes in the ball park, as it appears certain that the Vaughn street grounds will be used again in 1922.

Klepper plans to remodel the entrance to the park and also put in a few additional box seats. It is also planned to have two reserved sections in the grandstand.
