WEATHER FORECAST
Portland and vicinity: Thursday occasional rain; Friday, Saturday, Sunday, occasional rain; week position, more frequent rain; light to moderate westerly winds.

WEATHER CONDITIONS
High pressure prevails east of the Mississippi river, on the coast of Northern California and Southern Oregon, and from the interior of Alaska southward to the northern Pacific region. In other sections the pressure is low, the principal depressions being central in Southern California and near the Aleutian Islands. Precipitation has occurred in the Northwest, but elsewhere fair weather has prevailed. Snow is falling in Wyoming, North Dakota, Montana and Alberta. Colder weather prevails over the Northwest, the greatest fall in temperature having been in Northern Alberta, where a temperature is reported. Much milder weather obtains in the Mississippi valley and central plains states.

Relative humidity at Portland: Noon yesterday, 11 per cent; 2 p. m. yesterday, 35 per cent; 3 a. m. today, 85 per cent.
Precipitation since January 1: Total, 30.41 inches; normal, 34.60 inches; deficiency, 4.19 inches.

The graduates are required to finish course of study in the Old Testament, in Jewish history, reading, writing and speaking the Hebrew language and Hebrew laws.

Ringler Wins Out On Technicality in Dancehall Raid Case

On the grounds that the county commissioners are not authorized to grant dancehall licenses, the case against Montrose M. Ringler, charged with operating a dance on the boat Blue Bird without a license, was dismissed Tuesday afternoon by District Judge Hawkins.

Ringler's boat was raided by deputy sheriffs a week ago last Sunday. While awaiting trial he applied to the county commission for a license, but withdrew his application before the case came to be heard, evidently on the advice of his attorneys that a license was not necessary. Under the law the county court is authorized to grant licenses, but Multnomah now has no county court.

Apparel Shop to Reopen Business At Its Old Stand

The United Apparel shop at the northwest corner of Park and Morrison streets will be reopened under its present management, following alterations to the interior of the building, according to announcement made today by S. J. Levitt. The lease on the property was secured several months ago by Segal & Seval, and it was announced that the apparel shop would go out of business. Levitt stated today that he had again secured control of the building on a lease running for a six year period at an aggregate rental of about $100,000. The new store would be opened early in January, according to Levitt.

Holdups Take $7 In Early Robbery

H. R. Hinkley, 274 Park street, was robbed of $7 and a tie pin by a lone bandit who held him up at Park and Madison streets at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening. Hinkley was walking along the street when he felt the pressure of a gun against his back. The robber hastily snatched a $5 pin and took the change and ran away. The assailant was shabbily dressed and wore no mask.
