Gambling on High School Contests Hurts Sports in Chehalis
Chehalis, Wash., Nov. 17.—J. A. Wright, coach of the Chehalis high school football squad, and D. T. Coffman, chairman of the committee from the Citizens' club interested in high school activities, discussed before the Rotary club, Wednesday, the gambling that has been going on at the high school football games. Wright asserted it is killing amateur football and must be stopped if the sport is to be kept clean. He laid much of the rough play of recent games to gambling outsiders. He absolved the schools and the players, but said the practice was gradually working
