New York, Nov. 19.—(U. P.)—American
Telephone continued to be the feature of the in-Telephone continued to be the feature of the industrial list on the stock exchange today, making its daily new high at 116 %, up %. Sentiment in the general list was confused. Marine preferred was weak, opening off 1% on more widespread knowledge that reports regarding a large settlement coming from the government had little foundation in fact.

Railroads showed a uniformly strong tone. Strength in apecialties on an unusually large scale of transactions absorbed most of the interest in the New York stock market in the two hour session today. International Paper and one or two of the low priced oils became the center of specula-tive attention, while some of the issues which advanced sharply earlier in the week were com-paratively neglected. The market closed strong. Transactions ran close to a million share rate, setting the pace of the two previous sessions. But despite the heavy volume of dealing it was noticeable that the general list failed to gain ground on stocks like Studebaker, Pullman and Mexican Petroleum. These stocks, which were the leaders of the recent advance displayed heavy tone.
