SIX-DIGIT SYSTEM to be installed BY TELEPHONE CO.

New Style Service Will Be In-Within Next Few Months, It Is Announced.

Every Portland telephone user must learn more advanced methods of operation when the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company completes its changes to give the city the "six-digit system" which is recognized as the most up-todate telephone service arrangement for an exchange the size of Portland, according to officials of the company. The officials have started classes to educate employes how to operate the new equipment, which is being installed at a cost of approximately $3,500,000, but a still larger task of teaching the public the facts about the rearrangement confronts the company.

Under this system, the manual and automatic methods of operation will be completely subordinated.' Every teleone operator will have to understand the principles of both methods of operation to successfully, complete a call.

For the present, the majority of tele- set offices. phone users will have manual telephones although the change in operation is a the entire telephone system to the sixdigit automatic method of operation.

mystem follow FOR AUTOMATIC USERS

From Automatic to Manual-The number desired is dialed just as though another automatic telephone was being called, namely, dialing two letters and four digits. When the first two letters of the of-ice name are dialed the apparatus automatically selects a line to the office As the four numbers are dialed, switches are operated in the manual of fice storing up these numbers. When the two letters and the four numbers are dialed a signal is lighted under the trunk upon which the call en-

The operator then depresses a key associated with the trunk and the number called is displayed by a lamp called the 'call indicator lamp." The operator then makes the connection to the number indicated by the indicator lamp.

CONTINUES UNTIL ANSWERED The indicator can store eight cails or numbers simultaneously. After the connection is made the ring-ng starts automatically and continues until the person called lifts the receiver or the person calling hangs up. If the line is busy a distinct interrupted tone will be heard. This is known as the "busy tone" and is the indication for the caller to hang up and wait until the line is cleared,
