

GRANGERS DIG IN, ON BUSINESS TILL STORM BLOWS BY

Forced to abandon a tour of the Columbia river highway today the National Grange again turned to business and in convention assembled at the Multnomah hotel this morning revised the digest of the national laws of the organization.

All of the discussion was technical and none of the revisions made were drastic. Most of the discussion hinged on regulations regarding the future growth of the Grange.

One resolution concerning reclamation and land settlement problems was introduced by H. E. Williams, master of the West Virginia grange and delegates from the eastern state. The resolution was placed in the hands of the resolution committee for later consideration.

Another business session was scheduled to start at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The banquet which was planned to take place this evening in the Evening Star Grange hall on Division street has been cancelled due to weather conditions.

A business session will be held Tuesday morning beginning at 10 o'clock at which the annual election of officers will take place. At the same time the annual meeting of the National Grange will be held.

Tribute to the memory of members of the national grange who died during the past year was paid at the annual memorial exercises held in the Multnomah hotel Sunday afternoon with W. W. Deal of Idaho, national chaplain, in charge of the services.

FIVE ARE HONOURED Five deceased members were honored, including one master who died in office. They were W. N. Giles, master of New York grange; Mrs. Aaron Jones, wife of Indiana past master; Mrs. George A. Bowen, wife of Connecticut past master; Mrs. Andrew M. Belcher, wife of Rhode Island past master, and Mrs. H. O. Hixley, wife of New Hampshire past master.

Floral offering for each of the dead were presented by their respective state representatives and friends of the grange. The exercises were simple, friends paying tribute to the deceased members with brief remarks and a short song service.

A social meeting was held Sunday evening at the Multnomah. No special program was arranged for the entertainment. The board of managers of the National Grange Monthly also met in the evening for a general discussion of the paper's policies.

South Bend, Wash., Nov. 21.—The engine of the train which traverses the narrow peninsula known as North Beach, separating Willapa Harbor from the ocean, proved himself a friend in need to a flock of sheep when he pulled the whistle cord. The blast of the locomotive warning signal so startled a bear, which was chasing the sheep, that he gave up the chase. Another bear raised a pig pen, killed a 150-pound porker, tore off one of its hind legs, tossed the leg over the fence and carried it into the brush.

It also was shown that in response to a telephone call from the credit manager of the St. Francis hotel, San Francisco, Johnson had authorized the cashing of a check. Chicago Publishers Issue Ultimatum to Striking Printers

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Publishers are awaiting the action of members of the printing crafts here in answer to an ultimatum insisting the men go back to work. The action of the publishers requesting a resumption of work is believed to be an effort to bring negotiations to a head, thereby settling the strike among book printers, color press establishments and job offices.

A resolution to break off negotiations if the men had not returned to work Monday was defeated among the publishers. Many of the compositors have declared ruin would result from failure of the printers to execute struck work in defense of the closed shop.

The climax came when 350 printers were called out in protest to an injunction secured by the compositors to restrain the closed shop division from signing further contracts with the men.

Unidentified Body Found With Bullet Hole Through Head

The body of an unidentified man was found by employes at the Terminal railroad yards Sunday morning with a bullet hole through his head which he had evidently inflicted upon himself with a .32 calibre automatic which was at his side. LUMBER BUSINESS IS STIMULATED

Special Correspondent of The Journal. Detroit, Nov. 21.—Business is being stimulated here by rising prices and reasonable weather. Railroad cars have become scarce and this week they are in the market for high grade lumber. Car reporting is increasing and lumbermen say that it is almost impossible to obtain more than a few thousand feet of roofing, siding or other lumber. The lumber commission is struggling to get orders for construction. Prices at the lumber mills range from $32 to $42 a thousand feet and there is little stock on hand. It is predicted that this will mean much higher lumber prices here and in the retail stores, the cheaper lines of merchandise are moving in increasing volume. Winter has been improved by the approval of several municipal improvement projects in the election Tuesday. More than $10,000,000 will be spent in city work. That money, State roads to be built early in 1922 also will aid in getting the job done. The state highway involves construction of 900 miles of highway and the expenditure of about $18,000,000.
