

Coast Colleges Want Share of "Big Game" Receipts: Fleet Team Balks on Terms for Game

Coast Teams After Slice Of 'Pie' Coin

UNLESS the Pasadena Tournament of Roses officials are willing to cut the "pie" with the contending teams in the New Year's gridiron classic between the East and West, they might find the task of securing a coast eleven to participate in the contest this season, as well as in seasons to come, a difficult one.

California is not figuring on playing at Pasadena this year and is endeavoring to arrange a post-season game with Yale in the Stanford stadium. If Yale turns down the offer, an effort will be made to bring out some other eastern team.

SAN DIEGO HAS GAME.

The Blue and Gold scored on the Pasadena game last year, because it did not share in the receipts. The Pasadena tournament is a money making proposition, but all the profits are kept at home.

Seeking to get a bit of advertising and also to divert a part of the flow of gold from Pasadena, San Diego has arranged to stage an East vs. West game December 28, center college of Danville, Ky., will represent the East, but just what coast eleven will be chosen remains to be seen.

COUGARS FAVORED.

California is out of the running, because it is dickering for a game of its own. Stanford is not considered strong enough, and Oregon is also out of the question on account of its Honolulu trip. This leaves Washington State, O. A. C. and the University of Washington. If the University of Southern California defeats O. A. C. and W. S. U. in games that are billed for the next two weeks, it would not be surprising if the Trojans were selected to represent the coast.

There is also some talk of having a non-college team represent the coast. The only two teams that are worthy of considering are the Multnomah club and the Pacific Fleet.

If neither the Multnomah or Fleet teams are considered, the Washington State Cougars should be the logical representatives of the coast.

NORTHWEST TITLE IN AIR.

The championship of the Northwest Intercollegiate conference football race will be decided Thanksgiving day. The Washington State and Whitman teams are leading with percentages of 1000 each having won two games without suffering a defeat. Whitman is scheduled to play Idaho Thursday. A victory will clinch the title for the Missionaries, otherwise the honors will go to Cougars. The W. S. C.-Washington game will not figure in the Northwest race as the Sun-Dodgers are not a member of the conference.

Oregon is undefeated in the conference also.

Wrestlers to Meet Tonight at Arleta

Oscar Butler, Portland middleweight grappler, and "Bull" Walker of Nome, Alaska, will engage in the main event of the wrestling card to be held tonight in the Arleta W. O. W. hall. Butler is being groomed for a match with Ted Thye and Walter Miller.

Charley Olsen and John Vidoff will meet in the main preliminary. There will also be another preliminary contest. The first bout will start at 8:15 o'clock.

Mumps Force Game To Be Called Off

North Bend, Or., Nov. 22.—S. E. Bryant, representing the North Bend high school football team, went to Albany to confer with Burkes Ford of Lebanon high relative to the proposal to cancel the North Bend-Lebanon football game. Lebanon sent word here that the Turkey day battle would have to be called off because of an epidemic of mumps among the footballers. The visitors contend that they would rather forfeit the guarantee rather than play in their present weakened condition.

This is a disappointment to Coos Bay fans for they would like to see their team in action once more before the 1921 season is completed. Efforts are being made to arrange a game with the Corvallis high but the outcome of the Corvallis-Albany game Thursday afternoon will determine whether or not the challenge will be accepted, according to W. H. McMaster, principal of Corvallis high.

The men who will probably make the trip are McFadden and Richert, ends; Howell, Locey and McKenna, tackles; Hayden, Christensen and Clark, guards; Stewart, center; Kasberger and McKenna, quarters; Summers, Miller, Gill, halves, and Powell and Tousey, full backs.

Program for Club Smoker Announced

THE program for the inter-club smoker in the Winged "M" gymnasium Wednesday night has been completed and Wendell S. Poulsen, chairman of the boxing and wrestling activities of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, is ready to send the first contestants into the ring at 8:15 o'clock. The Olympic club stars arrived in Portland Monday and immediately went to the club and took a much needed workout.

Three preliminary boxing and one preliminary wrestling bouts will be held before the two main events in each division. Meyer Richtenstein of the B'nai B'rith Athletic club will box Dave Sullivan of the Amateur Athletic association at 130 pounds; Joe Blank, 135 pounds, of the B. B.'s, will tangle with Bud Stengel, 125 pounds, of the Multnomah club. This is a return bout and even though Stengel outweighed 10 pounds, he agreed to take on his opponent. However, Chairman Poulsen may find it necessary to send Stengel against Walter Dellamore of the Olympic club in the 135-pound class, inasmuch as Don Smith, the Multnomah representative, is having a difficult time getting down to 135 pounds, and Dellamore will not give away anything. In this case Smith will meet Blank and Stengel will take on Dellamore.

Clayton Frye, Multnomah, will meet Herman Alpers, Olympic, in the 145-pound main event; Ed Richmond, Multnomah, and Crabtree, Army, will meet in the 145-pound preliminary. Crabtree, according to his instructors, is the class of the Pacific coast amateur writers, and he will be ready to give Richmond a neat lacing.

Among the wrestlers Wilkinson and Carl Freilinger, both of Multnomah, will appear in the 175-pound preliminary, while the main event will feature Bolin, Multnomah, versus Ed Roper, Olympic club, 120 pounds, and Virgil Blumkin, Multnomah, versus Nate Sosnosky, Olympic club, 135-pounds.

George Bertz and Billy Stepp will act as judges for the bouts, with Dr. B. F. Loomis refereeing the wrestling, and Olmar Dranga officiating in the boxing end of the program. George L. Parker will be the time-keeper for all bouts, while Sergeant Harvey E. Davis will be the announcer.

Members of the University of Oregon football team will be guests of honor, as will the Multnomah football team. The two eleven teams will play at Multnomah field the following afternoon.

Oregon Aggie Squad Starts South for the Game With Trojans

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 22.—The Oregon Aggie football team will leave today for Pasadena, where they will play the University of Southern California Saturday. This game will finish the season for the Aggies. It is expected that 18 men will make the trip in addition to the coach, and that the team will have another chance at the South. The "Fighting Aggies" are reported in fine condition after their game against Oregon last Saturday. The Aggie punter, H. H. had his shoulder hurt. It is not known whether the injury is serious enough to keep him out of the game with the Trojans.

The men who will probably make the trip are McFadden and Richert, ends; Howell, Locey and McKenna, tackles; Hayden, Christensen and Clark, guards; Stewart, center; Kasberger and McKenna, quarters; Summers, Miller, Gill, halves, and Powell and Tousey, full backs.

Billiard Tourney Will Close Today

Chicago, Nov. 22.—(I. N. S.)—The championship 182 ball line billiards tournament here will close today with Roger Conly of Paris playing Ora Morningstar at 3 o'clock and Willie Hoppe, the champion, playing Jake Schaefer at 8:30.

Hoppe has won five games and lost none, while Schaefer has won four and lost one. Should Schaefer defeat Hoppe tonight a tie for leadership in the tournament standings would result.

Hoppe has won five games and lost 25 yesterday. Schaefer won from Morningstar, 400 to 300, and Edouard Lorenans, 400 to 300, and George Sutton of San Francisco, 400 to 175.

Sun Dodgers' Rifle Team Bills Matches

University of Washington, Seattle, Nov. 21.—The University of Washington rifle team will meet teams from the University of California and Yale university this year, according to arrangements that have just been completed.

Both meets will be held at the University of Washington. The competition with California will take place during the first week of December. The Yale team is expected to arrive here for the shoot early in March.

Rifle shooting is one of the minor sports at the University of Washington, and a minor sport award is given to those making the team. At present there are approximately 100 students on the local squad.

Penn Staters Facing a Stiff Grid Battle

INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE SPORTS EDITOR.

NEW YORK, Nov. 22.—(I. N. S.)—This has been a season of many upsets on the gridiron.

Center's victory over Harvard, Harvard's triumph over Yale, Navy's humbling of Princeton and many other games that resulted in surprises have done their bit toward keeping the football fan guessing.

As a result, followers of the game have come to the conclusion that it is best to take nothing for granted in football and critics are wary today about picking favorites in the final games of the season.

Several games of importance remain to be played.

The Pitt-Penn State contest at Pittsburgh, Thursday, and the Army-Navy game at the Polo grounds, Saturday, are the headliners.

While followers of football are disposed to regard Navy and Penn State as favorites to win these games, the fact remains that the betting public here is up in the air on how to size the army battle between the cadets and middies, and adherents of Penn State, while confident their eleven will triumph over the Pittsburgh Panthers, are not offering the best odds ever put down on a football team.

Penn State's players, too, have taken Pitt seriously and worked harder for this game than any other contest of the season. The Navy looked great after the Princeton game, and still looks good. The defeat of the middies by Penn State was no disgrace for the Annapolis team as the 13 to 7 score indicated. Army looked good in the Yale game. The cadets seemed to be a team of surprising strength. But along came Notre Dame and swamped them under a 28 to 0 score, which sent their stock sliding down the toboggan. However, Army, like Harvard, fights hard against the one opponent that any other team, and Coach Daly's boys may surprise everyone.

TO START FOR N. W.

After the Penn State-Pittsburgh game Coach Berdek will pick his squad for the long trip to Seattle where University of Washington is to be met by the Nittany Lions on December 3. California beat this team, 72 to 3, and it will be interesting to see what Penn State can do with it after a long trip across the country.

Iowa has not yet accepted the invitation of the tournament of roses committee at Pasadena to play California's champions on New Year's day. La Fayette or Notre Dame may be invited by the Golden Staters.

West Point, N. Y., Nov. 22.—(I. N. S.)—With French and Smythe back in the line-up and all the other regulars in their places, today, Army dug into its final session of hard scrimmage for the Navy game. Army coaches will spend the rest of the week polishing up the defense of the cadets.

Columbia Seeking Game at Pendleton

Manager George Haller of the Columbia university football team has issued a challenge to the Pendleton high school aggregation for the 1921 championship of Oregon. The date selected for the proposed match is December 3 and by that time the weather is expected to be such that the East Oregonians will be able to stage a contest. Manager Haller's challenge stated that the Portlanders would bring Pendleton to the Rose City in 1922.

The prep-schoolers are claiming the scholastic title of Portland by virtue of last Saturday's 5 to 0 victory over the Astoria high school at Astoria. Washington high, winner of the Portland public school championship for 1921, played a scoreless tie with the sea-siders early in the year and since then Astoria has defeated some of the best contenders for state honors. Manager Haller believes that Pendleton is the only high school squad left which has a real claim, but if the Round-Up city youths don't accept the Columbia challenge, the collegians will claim the title.

FOOTBALL

THE Kenilworth football players are requested to turn out for a practice tonight starting at 7 o'clock on the Clinton-Kelly school grounds. The squad will hold another workout Wednesday night at the same time and then they will be ready to take on the Ridgefield, Wash., high at Ridgefield Thanksgiving day.

Members of the Goldenstate-Washington football team remained longer in Portland than they figured on. The squad played the Hill Military Academy eleven on Multnomah Field Friday afternoon and the next day were guests of the Academy on a night-longer tour, later attending the Multnomah-Army contest. By Sunday morning the terrific storm which hit parts of the Northwest made railroad travel so uncertain that the athletes were forced to stay over until Monday.

The soccer football game scheduled for last Sunday were called off because of the weather. Many of the players were willing to don their suits but the Portland Soccer Football association felt that the footing was so uncertain that it would be asking too much to have the players take any chances of breaking their legs or causing permanent injuries.

Newberg, Or., Nov. 22.—The Newberg high football squad defeated the Hood River High here Saturday, 13 to 0. Nelson was the Newberg star.

Ridgefield, Wash., Nov. 22.—One of the most important high school football games in Clarke county to be played on Thanksgiving day will be between Ridgefield and Stevenson.

Washington Works Hard for Grid Test With Pullmanites

Seattle, Nov. 22.—Although heavy snows have hindered the workouts of the Sun Dodger eleven in preparation for its Thanksgiving day game with Washington State college, the respite from training has not been without its compensations, and the entire squad has been favored by the let up in scrimmage practice.

Captain Ray Eckmann, left halfback; Bob Ingram and Newmad "Zeke" Clark, tackles, and Hanford Haynes, center, are the players most affected by the freedom from scrimmage. Eckmann was pretty badly bruised up in the California game, but the present rest has put him back into top condition.

Clark's injured knee seems to have completely recovered, and the big fellow appears certain to be back in the line. Clark has been unable to play in the last two games. His running mate, Bob Ingram, also has recovered from illness contracted just prior to the Stanford game, and seems to be in excellent shape. Although Ingram played against both Stanford and California, the effects of his illness were clearly shown in his playing.

Haynes, who alternates with Langhorne at the center berth, has recovered from injuries that have impaired his playing for the past two weeks, and although Langhorne is slightly favored because of his weight, it is practically a toss up as to which of them will be at center.

Coach Bagshaw has disbanded the second varsity squad for the season, and now has but one squad of 25 players turning out for practice. The former Everett coach is working hard on his charges for their game on Thursday. Both he and the assistant coaches are lining up against the varsity in practice, and the first team men are finding the going mighty hard in consequence.

Brownsville and Lebanon Play Tie

Brownsville, Or., Nov. 22.—The football game played here last Friday between the Lebanon and Brownsville high schools resulted in a tie score of 6 to 6, instead of 8 to 6 in favor of Lebanon as first reported. The mistake was made in that a touchback was counted as a safety for Lebanon, adding two points, which should not have been considered. Brownsville fell on the ball behind its own goal line after it had been fumbled by the opposing team. Brownsville now claims equal honors with Lebanon on the Willamette valley championship and is anxious for another game with Lebanon to decide the title.

New Pin Record Made

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 22.—A new world's record for a single event was set up here in the midwest bowling tournament when George Becker, Milwaukee, rolled 735 in three games. His score was 210, 247 and 278. Becker's mark surpassed that of Harry Cavan, Pittsburgh, who previously held the single championship with 718.

Paddock's Records Will Be Approved By A. A. U. Officials

(By United News)

Chicago, Nov. 21.—Records set by Charles Paddock of the Pacific coast flut will be officially sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic union Tuesday during its session here, it was stated by officials.

Paddock will be given credit, it was stated, for his 41.5 seconds sprint in the 220-yard dash, breaking the old record, and for tying the 100-yard dash record in 9 3/5 seconds.

For the first time there is a woman delegate to the A. A. U. She is Mrs. Ferdinand Leo of Hawaii, and her interest is mainly swimming.

The amateurs are busy with a mass of routine work, covering athletic events in all parts of the country during the last year.

Robert Weaver, Los Angeles, president of the A. A. U., will be re-elected to that office if he will accept a second term, it was declared, and if he refuses the honor is expected to go to Charles D. Lynch, Detroit.

Fleet Squad Seeks Bigger Cut of Gate

THE board of directors of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club has put it strictly up to the authorities in charge of the Pacific Fleet football team, whether or not the sailors meet the Winged "M" eleven on Multnomah Field December 3, as planned for almost a year.

Harry Fischer, manager of the clubmen, received a letter last week in which was stated that a guarantee of $3000 must be made before the Fleet team would think of coming to Portland. Coming on so short notice it rather stunned those who had figured it a foregone conclusion that everything had been arranged peaceably. Manager Fischer went before the board of directors of the club at the regular weekly meeting Monday night and explained the situation.

WANT BIG GUARANTEE.

Club officials realize that $3000 is more than they feel they can guarantee, but they did decide to guarantee $2000 with a second $1000—this new offer was conveyed to the south by telegram Tuesday morning. When the Pacific Fleet coach is working hard on his charges for their game on Thursday, Both he and the assistant coaches are lining up against the varsity in practice, and the first team men are finding the going mighty hard in consequence.

Coach George Philbrook is grooming his players for a hard battle against the University of Oregon athletes on the Winged "M" lot Thursday afternoon. Although the weather has been far from satisfactory the last three or four days and railroad tieups have been forced, the Lemon-Yellow squad will be able to arrive in Portland sometime Wednesday, unless some unforeseen accident should happen.

Hart Spellman, line coach at Oregon, was a Portland visitor Monday, and he reported that the collegians would be ready to give Multnomah the hardest contest of the 1921 campaign. After Oregon put up such a game under heavy odds last Saturday against the Oregon Aggies, the clubmen are looking forward to a tough scrap, and they are not going to take any chances.

Furthermore, members of the Multnomah team have ambitions of forming one of the combinations which will be seen in action at Pasadena, Cal., New Year's day afternoon. They want to get over the Oregon delegation Thanksgiving day, and they are in hopes that the Pacific Fleet officials won't back out of their proposed affair. A victory over the fleet and a win over Oregon would clinch Multnomah's claim to the right to go to Southern California, now that the University of California is figuring on staging an East vs. West match of their own in the new Stanford stadium.

GAME TO START EARLY.

The game here Thursday will start promptly at 1:30 o'clock, and there will be no waits and delays, says Manager Fischer. The officials, Sam Dolan, referee, E. Plowden Stott, umpire, and Ralph O. Coleman, head linesman, have been instructed to start the match on the scheduled hour in order that an early Thanksgiving dinner can be had by the spectators. The advance sale of tickets at Spalding's indicates that a good attendance will be on hand, and those in charge are hoping for good weather to insure a large turnout.

Mumps Force Game To Be Called Off

North Bend, Or., Nov. 22.—S. E. Bryant, representing the North Bend high school football team, went to Albany to confer with Burkes Ford of Lebanon high relative to the proposal to cancel the North Bend-Lebanon football game. Lebanon sent word here that the Turkey day battle would have to be called off because of an epidemic of mumps among the footballers. The visitors contend that they would rather forfeit the guarantee rather than play in their present weakened condition.

This is a disappointment to Coos Bay fans for they would like to see their team in action once more before the 1921 season is completed. Efforts are being made to arrange a game with the Corvallis high but the outcome of the Corvallis-Albany game Thursday afternoon will determine whether or not the challenge will be accepted, according to W. H. McMaster, principal of Corvallis high.

Oregon Aggie Squad Starts South for the Game With Trojans

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Nov. 22.—The Oregon Aggie football team will leave today for Pasadena, where they will play the University of Southern California Saturday. This game will finish the season for the Aggies. It is expected that 18 men will make the trip in addition to the coach, and that the team will have another chance at the South. The "Fighting Aggies" are reported in fine condition after their game against Oregon last Saturday. The Aggie punter, H. H. had his shoulder hurt. It is not known whether the injury is serious enough to keep him out of the game with the Trojans.

The men who will probably make the trip are McFadden and Richert, ends; Howell, Locey and McKenna, tackles; Hayden, Christensen and Clark, guards; Stewart, center; Kasberger and McKenna, quarters; Summers, Miller, Gill, halves, and Powell and Tousey, full backs.

Public Up in Air

The Pitt-Penn State contest at Pittsburgh, Thursday, and the Army-Navy game at the Polo grounds, Saturday, are the headliners.

While followers of football are disposed to regard Navy and Penn State as favorites to win these games, the fact remains that the betting public here is up in the air on how to size the army battle between the cadets and middies, and adherents of Penn State, while confident their eleven will triumph over the Pittsburgh Panthers, are not offering the best odds ever put down on a football team.
