Dallas Taxpayers

Dallas, Or., Nov. 29.—At a meetiting of the resident taxpayers of the Dallas road district held Saturday, a proposition to levy a special tax of $10,000 on the district for the purpose of paving the Dallas-Falls City road within the city limits of Dallas was defeated by a three-to-two majority. This city also recently voted heavily against the special county road tax levy of $70,000. With both those propositions defeated, there will be little road work done in Polk county the coming year. YARNS

New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 29.—The market in worsted yarns has slowed up, both because consumers have pretty well covered requirements up to the first of the year and because spinners are sell sold up into 1922. Makers of bathing suits, however, are using fairly large quantities.

DAIRY PRODUCTS

St. Paul, Nov. 29.—The stocks of butter and eggs now held in storage warehouses in the Northwest have undergone a decided reduction in the last few weeks. A greater demand has made itself manifested in the markets here,

FERTILIZER New York, Nov. 29.—Quiet conditions in the trade for furtilizers is forecast for the remainder of the year. Operations will probably become narrow as the date of the government sale of nitrate the end of this month approaches.

New York, Nov. 29.—Buying of arsenic by insecticide makers is unusually heavy, in the belief that farmers next year will be in a position to buy heavily.

GRAIN

Kansas City, Nov. 29.—The reduction in freight rates on grain and bay which will go into effect in the territory west of the Mississippi river December 27 are expected to result in increased shipments by farmers, many of whom are holding off to take advantage of the majoritoms. the reductions. MEATS

St. Paul, Nov. 29.—The slow demand for dressed meat products has brought general complaint from the packing centers of the Northwest. This situation is reflected in the increased amounts of meets held in Minnesota storage warehouses. These holdings consist largely of beef, veal, mutton and poultry.

When the contract was let for pavement on the Morrison street bridge, the usual questions for dis-cussion areas concerning specificabridge, the usual questions for dis-cussion areae concerning specifica-tions, etc. All these questions were answered in a sentence by the au-thorities, who said, "Simply make it like the pavement on Hawthorne bridge." Incidentally, this answer served as a testimonial for War-renite-Bitulithic, because the pave-ment on Hawthorne bridge was laid over five years ago, and sustains more heavy traffic than any pave-ment in the city.
