

MOTHER FIGHTS OPERATION ORDER TO LIMIT FAMILY

Denver, Nov. 29.—Confronted by the reported recommendation of Judge Royal E. Graham of the Denver juvenile court that she submit to an operation preventing her from giving birth to more babies, Mrs. Clyde Cassidie, wife of an Italian notary, and mother of five children, is at bay today fighting with the ferocity of her sex to safeguard her right to motherhood.

As an alternative to submitting to the operation Mrs. Cassidie faces the loss of her other children who will be made wards of the state of Colorado.

The Cassidies were brought into court on a charge signed by State Highway Officer Flint, who stated that their home is unsanitary and in a condition which warrants a state guardianship for the children. The charge relates that several agencies have failed to get the Cassidies to make their home respectable.

WIFE RESISTS ORDER

When the purpose of Judge Graham's recommendation was made known to Mrs. Cassidie by her husband today she broke down.

"I'm not going to do it," she fairly screamed.

"They wouldn't get past that front door," she cried, waving a long butcher knife.

"We are caring for our children all right. The court is down on my husband for trouble he got into 15 years ago," Mrs. Cassidie bitterly denounced the just and the "old cats and busybodies" among the social welfare workers. "If some of these fellows would raise a few children they would be doing better work than butting into other people's affairs," she said.

CONSULTS AN ITALIAN INTERPRETER

Cassidie, an Italian interpreter, makes between $50 and $75 a month, he said.

"Trying to soothe her, the husband picked up one of his sons and hugging him, said:

"They can't have our children. I don't believe it is right for the court to do such a thing. They'll have to take my children over my dead body."

"If I have children," the frantic mother cried, "it is the glory of God. They can't stop me."

WHILE JUDGE GRAHAM SAID HE HAD NO JURISDICTION TO ORDER SUCH AN OPERATION, THE STERILIZATION ORDER IS, IN EFFECT, MANDATORY, SINCE THE COURT, AT ITS OWN DISCRETION, TAKES THE OTHER FIVE CHILDREN AWAY FROM THE COUPLE.

JUDGE DIDN'T MEAN IT

Judge Graham is a county judge at Georgetown and was sitting in juvenile court of Denver in the absence of Judge Ben Lindsay, who is away on a lecture tour.

"I did not mean to make an order of any kind," Judge Graham said today.

"I merely said I thought it ought to be done, providing the couple would consent, or the children should be taken away from them."

News of the case aroused the entire staff. Leading women welfare workers were divided on the question of the justness of a sterilization operation. Most of them condemned it.

Denver pastors denounced such procedure. Other prominent Coloradans said if there was mental weakness in the family both parents should be sterilized.

Mrs. Cassidie has until January 10 to consider and make her decision.

Anti-Narcotic Act Gets 40 Medicos in Trouble at Chicago

(By United News)
Chicago, Nov. 29.—Forty physicians will go to trial here within the next six weeks on charges of having violated the Harrison anti-narcotic act, according to an announcement by Charles F. Clyne, United States district attorney.

Federal agents have unearched evidence, it is claimed by Captain John B. Boddie, assistant United States district attorney, showing large quantities of drugs were disposed to addicts through permits filled at designated drug stores. The druggists are also to face trial.

The first of the list will be arraigned December 2, and prosecutions will continue until the cases are completed, it was said.

More than 300 drug addicts will testify against the physicians, all rounded up by federal agents and now under treatment. Those addicts who refused to offer testimony are being kept in jail and will be used when the trials start.

Sheriff Zouch Houser, who was elected to fill the place left vacant by Till Taylor, cannot attend. Jacob Marin, the deputy who was knocked unconscious by the men when they escaped, will not be able to go to Salem, he said.

MARSHAL'S DEATH RESULT OF FIGHT WITH PRISONER

McMinnville, Nov. 29.—C. H. Neal, night marshal, who died Saturday night following a fight with George Scott, whom he arrested for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, came to his death in the line of his official duty and as a result of the struggle, the coroner's jury, which heard evidence in the case decided Monday.

The autopsy revealed a bursted blood vessel at the base of the brain, according to the testimony of Drs. Michaux and Goucher. They said the rupture was probably caused by exhaustion and excitement, incident to the struggle with Scott.

Witnesses at the inquest told of the trouble which led up to the encounter.

Scott was eating in Terry's restaurant when he fell from a stool. He had been under the eye of Neal for two days and when he fell the marshal entered and told Scott he was under arrest.

Scott asked on what charge and Neal answered that he was under arrest and the marshal proceeded to lead him out to jail, when Scott put up a hard fight, the struggle lasting five minutes until the marshal, aided by others, subdued him.

On the way to the jail, Chief of Police Snodgrass was met and accompanied Neal and his prisoner to the jail, where Scott struck Neal and knocked him against the stove. As Neal came back to his feet he was struck on the head by Scott, who fell on his face.

Scott was sentenced to six months in the county jail. Inspectors, remembering having seen Owens in company with Dahlberg, located him and took him to headquarters. Under the impression that Dahlberg had confessed Owens admitted taking part in the robbery. He has a prison record, having served time at Walls Walls.

CONFESSING ROBBERY OF EAST SIDE STORE

Dahlberg was sentenced to six months in the county jail. Inspectors, remembering having seen Owens in company with Dahlberg, located him and took him to headquarters. Under the impression that Dahlberg had confessed Owens admitted taking part in the robbery. He has a prison record, having served time at Walls Walls.

An attempt will be made to fix the guilt of the crime upon Roberts because he is known to have been the last man to see Chung, because he directed him to the rear of the building where he was slain, and because Chung made a dying statement that he had been killed by a black man.

Chung is alleged to have been a narcotic drug peddler.

FOREIGN NATIONS MAY WITHDRAW TROOPS IN CHINA

Washington, Nov. 29.—Agreement among the powers to withdraw from China detachments of troops stationed there since the Boxer uprising more than 20 years ago is expected to result from discussions now beginning in the committee on Pacific and Far Eastern affairs.

The Chinese have asked the immediate removal of the troops, as well as the removal of foreign police forces, in return for guarantees that foreign interests and citizens will be protected.

JAPS WANT PROTECTION

The Japanese have indicated their willingness to accede to the Chinese demands when suitable assurances are given that Japanese interests and subjects will not be harmed. Prior to the conference it was stated they had offered to withdraw garrisons from certain points and they view with favor the suggestion that forces be removed from other places.

The Japanese maintain by far the largest number of soldiers, and look chiefly to the Japanese that the Chinese demands will apply. Great Britain also has indicated a willingness to withdraw soldiers and police, and no objections are expected from the United States, France or other powers.

The Chinese argued that the need for soldiers brought in after the Boxer uprisings no longer exists. The broad basis for the request was that their presence constitutes a violation of China's sovereignty and is a continual source of friction between the Chinese government and governments of other countries.

The Japanese maintain considerable forces in Shantung and in Manchuria in connection with their leaseholds there and for the purpose of guarding railroad properties. In addition, there is a Japanese garrison at Hangkow, established during the revolution for the purpose of protecting Japanese citizens, which has never been removed. The Chinese object, as well, to police stations established by Japan in Manchuria, which are now said to number about 30.

These forces are in addition to those resulting from the Boxer troubles.

AMERICA HAS FORCE THERE

The United States maintains 1500 soldiers, mainly at Peking and Tientsin in France, Italy, Belgium, Great Britain and Holland likewise have soldiers in various cities.

The Chinese excepted from their demands the legation guards, which are maintained by treaty. But they did object to the unwarranted use of this treaty privilege.

The Chinese also asked the removal of foreign telegraph and wireless stations, maintained without Chinese regulation or supervision. It is proposed that these be transferred to China, and that payment for them be made.

The committee Monday adopted the report of its sub-committee approving the withdrawal from China of foreign maintained postal systems, on condition that an efficient postal system is maintained and that the French co-director of the Chinese postoffice be retained. It was proposed that the withdrawal be completed by January, 1923, but Japanese delegates declined to agree to this. They stated that because of the large number of postoffices maintained by Japan, study would be required to see if the removal could be effected by that time. Further, they said they wished to communicate with Tokyo.

Body of Dog Racer Found Frozen Hard In Moose Lake Ice

(By United News)
The Pan-Manitoba, Nov. 29.—Sitting upright in his sleigh, the body of Walter Goyme was found in Moose Lake by a trader.

The famous dog racer, winner of the 1920 Hudson Bay Derby, went through thin ice on Moose Lake, 30 miles north of here, two weeks ago.

A party from Dupas trading post followed his trail, when several pups that had followed Goyme returned. They found the end of his trail far out on the lake and returned, believing his body could not be recovered until spring.

T. Lamb, a trader and old friend of Goyme, went in search. At a point 20 feet from the edge of the lake he saw the body of a dog beneath the ice. Cutting a hole he recovered Goyme's body and his nine-dog team. Two other dogs that apparently were following Goyme, were frozen in the ice.

Goyme apparently had extricated himself and team after breaking through the ice farther out. His clothing apparently froze and when they broke through again, near shore, Goyme was unable to move to help himself.

Goyme's body will be brought here and held pending advice from his brother, in Los Angeles, and foster mother, at Ruby, Alaska.
