

FOSTER ROAD'S EXTENSION PLAN IS READY TO FILE

Cost of Project, Which Includes Right-of-Way Purchase, Is Estimated to be About $20,124.

Plans for the extension of Foster road from Fifty-second street to Fifteenth and Powell Valley road and the acquisition of the 35-foot right of way on the south side of the road from Fifty-second to Seventy-second street will be filed in the office of the city auditor, Monday, A. G. Johnson, assistant commissioner of public works, announced Saturday.

The cost of the project as estimated by O. Laurgaard, city engineer, will be $20,124. This will be levied against the owners of property abutting on Foster road from East Fifth to East Eighty-second street. As apportioned the assessments will range from $2 to $12 a lot.

In an investigation of the extension project it was discovered that 40 years ago Foster road crossed the wooded patch to the west of its present ending, at Fifty-second street, joining Powell Valley road at Fifteenth street. The county, however, traded the right of way for that of East Fifty-second street, which is also a county road.

By arrangements with the county the city agreed to take over Foster road, provided $65,000 was paid to the city to cover the cost of paving an 18-foot strip from East Fifty-second to East Eighty-second. The warrant was received from the county Thursday, and the road will be formally accepted by the city Wednesday.

Plans are also being drawn up by the city engineer to make the road 90 feet wide between Fifty-second and Seventy-second streets. This project includes moving the streetcar tracks, now on the south side of the road, to the center of the street, establishing new curb lines and paving the entire width. From Seventy-second to Eighty-second streets the 18-foot strip of paving will be laid, the cost to be covered by the warrant received from the county. The only assessment for that part of the improvement project will be for city busines and drains that will have to be installed, Laurgaard stated.

$15,000 STUTZ PUMPER IS O. K., DECLARES ARBITER

C. F. Wagner, engineer of the Oregon insurance rating bureau, stated in the conference Saturday called by C. A. Bigelow to decide upon the merits of the new $13,000 Stutz pumper purchased for the fire department, that the machine was in no way to be considered inefficient, or inferior to any other make. The point of contention over the machine was brought up by Fire Chief John E. Young, who objected to the fact the pumper has a 6 inch suction and a 2 1/2 inch water-way, whereas the present apparatus had a 3 inch suction and a 3 inch water-way. That this difference would throw a greater strain on the apparatus than was necessary was the contention of the chief. Wagner pointed out that the main thing in fire apparatus was to get a piece that would deliver water at a fire and that the Stutz pumper did that without any mechanical difficulty.

Assistant Chief Laudenklos and Bat-ton Chief Holden stated they thought the Stutz pumper was superior to any the department had or any that they had seen in operation. The testimony brought forth in the conference showed that Chief Young had not been present at the official trial of the pumper and that the others had been.

Bigelow stated that Young had objected to the Stutz pumper even before he saw it and charged him with being prejudiced against it without cause. The specifications for the pumper called for a delivery of 1000 gallons of water a minute at a pressure of 120 pounds. The official record showed that the pumper actually delivered 1095 gallons at a pressure of 123 pounds. The results of the other tests were: At a pressure of 215 pounds the pumper delivered 517 gallons and at 225 pounds pressure 412 gallons. The report was signed by Wagner and the master mechanic of the fire department.

ASSESSMENT APPROVALS ARE SLOW TO COME IN

Notices of approved and proposed assessments for street improvement and sewer construction, amounting to $276,245.32, have been sent out by George R. Funk, city auditor, during the last week. Of the total amount but $28,714.56 has been approved and the remainder may be objected by the property owners involved before December 12. After that date the assessment will be declared.

Those already approved are for College street from Twelfth to Sixteenth street, $8721; Main street, Reynolds avenue and East Ninth street district improvement, $16,005.45; and the East Tenth and Holman streets trunk sewer system, $5292.11. The assessment for these three projects became due last week and will become delinquent December 11. If the levy is not paid by December 31 the city will start tax delinquency foreclosure proceedings.

The proposed assessments amounting to $246,630.76, of which $195,052.77 is for the Balch Gulch sewer system, will be finally approved by the city council December 14, unless remonstrances are filed. Other than the Balch Gulch system the projects included in the proposed assessment are for the sewer in East Thirty-second street from Alameda to Twenty-second street, $4280.55; the sewer in East Fifty-sixth street from Rose City Park to Alameda, $539.60; the sewer in Liberty street from East Thirtieth to Twenty-second street, $4280.55; the improvement of Cora avenue from East Thirty-seventh to Forty-second street, $7112.16; Ravensview Drive district improvement, $26,852.25; the Homer and Perlander street district improvement, $2723.30 and the district improvement of Washah, Baldwin and other streets, $10,546.94.

The application of P. J. Schall to operate a tinshop at East Thirty-fourth and Glisan streets will also be considered, as will the application of S. Pollitt to operate a cleaning establishment on East Thirty-fourth street between Belmont and Yamhill streets.

PIER DECIDES NOT TO MOVE

CITY TO GO UP TO SPEEDWAY

Inmates of the zoo up in Washington park are unpacking their goods and chattels, for Commissioner Pier has decided that they shall not be moved out to the Rose City Speedway.

Several months ago the commissioner "definitely and conclusively decided" that the animals would be moved from their present home to the old country club. The move was to have been made this winter, but in the meantime the residents of Rose City Park built a nine hole golf course on the grounds, leaving no room for the zoo. The tax conservation commission also did certain things to the budget and the commissioner decided to play on the safe side and not move the animals.

The decision now is to leave the animals where they are until a more suitable place can be found for them. Residents of the Heights near the park have protested against the zoo on account of the noise and odor, but so far no location has been found for the animals.

PIER'S BUSINESS LICENSE SCHEME TO BOB UP AGAIN

For the fifth time the ordinance prepared by Commissioner S. C. Pier, regulating licenses of certain businesses in the city will be considered at the meeting of the city council Wednesday. The ordinance, which has been buffeted about by the council for the past two months, provides a regulatory fee for various occupations and according to Pier will afford the city an annual revenue of approximately $20,000.

BUFFALO IS DEAD BUT HIS SPIRIT GOES MARCHING ON

Old Joe, former king of the buffalo herd in Washington Park, will rule in spirit hereafter, for his head has been mounted and will be placed on exhibition Monday in the office of C. F. Keyser, superintendent of parks. Old Joe was acquired by the city in 1905 from the Lewis and Clark fair. His death last year was the result of a fight with two younger bulls for the supremacy of the herd.

The buffalo herd now consists of six animals, Keyser said; two bulls, three cows and a calf.

DAYS OF 1818 RECALLED BY RARE NEWSPAPER SOUVENIR

Presented by Mrs. John de Biles, 621 Northrup street, a copy of the Connecticut Courier printed in 1818 was placed in the city hall museum last week. The paper has a particular interest to the folk of the Northwest for it tells of the visit of a young naval officer to Astoria in 1818 while the British flag was still flying over the fort in spite of the terms of the treaty of Ghent, which terminated the war of 1812.

APPOINTMENTS SCHEDULED

Formal action will be taken by the city council Wednesday on the appointment of L. L. Robertson and Archie F. Roth as special police officers.
