

WILSON DRIVE ARE NAMED FOR STATE

That a woman, Mrs. Charles E. Simpson, proposed the Woodrow Wilson Foundation and that women have an unusual incentive for contribution to the success of the effort were assertions at the initial session of the state executive committee of the Oregon women's division of the Woodrow Wilson Foundation at general headquarters in the Journal building, Monday afternoon.

While decision to perfect a state-wide organization was reached, Mrs. Alexander Thompson, presiding, stated that effort would be concentrated in Multnomah county and among the women's organizations. She announced the following county chairmen in the women's division:

- Baker, Mrs. W. H. Parker, Baker; Benton, Mrs. Victor P. Moses, Corvallis; Blackman, Mrs. John Gaffney, Oregon City; Clatsop, Mrs. Mary A. Kampthorn, Astoria; Columbia, Mrs. J. W. Day, St. Helens; Curry, Mrs. R. Zumwalt, Fort J. Ford; Coos, Mrs. Leta Leslie, Coquille; Crook, Mrs. N. G. Wallace, Prineville; Deschutes, Mrs. Charles Wesley Erskine, Bend; Douglas, Mrs. William Bell, Roseburg; Gilliam, Mrs. Mark A. Weatherford, Arlington; Grant, Mrs. Angie Lawrence, Prairie City; Harney/Mrs. M. Othens, Burns; Hood River, Mrs. C. H. Casner, Hood River; Jackson, Mrs. Rose Schieffelin, Medford; Jefferson, Mrs. W. H. Hannon, Madras; Josephine, Miss Minnie Ireland, Grants Pass; Klamath, Mrs. Maude Saldwin, Klamath Falls; Lake, Mrs. Sam B. Best, Stauffer; Lane, Mrs. Frank L. THOMAS FAILS IN EFFORT AT RUSHING

In British Columbia during most of the hearing, he ought not to say anything about it. But he will side in with Frank. Talk about railroading and pairing off—a chorus of hisses prevented his completing the sentence.

admitted that the first coil, against the advice of Stanton, was placed in a furnace in which little fire was required to heat the rooms depending upon it, and that after the coil had been removed to an end furnace first recommended by Stanton, where more fire was required, the trouble ceased.

Fred Hobbs, foreman of the sheet metal department, related the finding that the roof of Washington high school being damaged by boys and men.

O. R. West, plumber, told about the incapable man pouring cold water in a hot dry glass of a donkey engine at Washington high school, given by the defense as one of the reasons for Stanton's discharge.

Clarence Irwin, 16-year-old janitor assistant, said he had had conversations with carpenters and other men who spoke as though Stanton was hard to get along with, but had managed to patch them up. The defense brought out that Irwin had been working on Stanton's ranch, but that he was not there.

Frank Ross, another high school boy assistant, also testified that he had talked to some of the men who did not think things were very harmonious under Stanton's management.

Proctor, chief of the bureau of records and supplies since July 1, and formerly with Whitfield, Whitcomb & Co., who drew up the plan of organization for the properties department, advised that the district under the present "system." To this "system" he attributed Stanton's past mismanagement.

In spite of the fact that the district had the lumber, Proctor insisted it was a saving, because without the $750 investment in lumber might not have known it had it.

SHULL GIVES REVIEW
D. J. Phillips, returned to the stand, stated it was impossible for him or anyone to have installed the motion picture machine before the morning of August 9 and the evening of August 10 and still do it outside of school hours.

Following the close of the case, Shull gave a brief review. He referred to the first charge, that employes have been employed in mechanical work outside of the school district and have been paid for this work by this district, and cited the motion picture machine installation related by Phillips and corroborated by Captain Edmondstone and Odell.

THOMAS BREAKS IN
"They could have put on the stand Stackhouse. I understand he is the political manager down there. These things are managed by him."

Here George B. Thomas broke in. "If you understand that, I would like to have your information. Where do you get that kind of hope? There is nothing in the testimony about political management."

BELIEVES M'BAIN
"There are men with records of from five to 12 years of faithful service and good work who were laid off, and there are men still employed who are unmarried. Our board passed a resolution giving preference to married men, and evidence shows that men were being simply to get rid of certain men they wanted to get rid of, because they kept on any number of unmarried men and they are still on the payroll."

RESIGNED AGENT SEES NO HOPE FOR CHINA IN PARLEY

Universal Service Staff Correspondent
Washington, Dec. 5.—The T'yu, secretary general of the Chinese delegation to the conference, has resigned.

Mr. T'yu was recently appointed minister to Cuba and he has applied to be sent immediately to his post.

CHINA NOT RECOGNIZED
It developed tonight that a new and extended consortium for China has been agreed to by the powers at the conference. China is not recognized as one of these powers.

LAWRENCE DENIES U. S. HAS ENTERED 4-PARTY ALLIANCE
By David Lawrence
Washington, Dec. 5.—"The United States government will hardly agree to any three power or even four power pact to substitute the Anglo-Japanese alliance as suggested from Japanese sources. The same proposal has been made by British spokesmen."

Dr. Eze, one of the Chinese delegates to the Shantung conference, said that the committee today discussed the rail-road question for 45 minutes, when the meeting adjourned at the request of the Japanese.

CHINA MUST CONSENT
The United States will not be a party to an international agreement for the administration of China to which China herself does not consent.

Mr. Balfour has made tentative plans for calling the last days of December, but even if he carries out these plans, it need not mean that the whole agenda of the conference will be completed this month and that there will remain many details to be carried on by lesser representatives headed by the ambassador.

Another objection to a three-power arrangement is the impression which it might give to special interests. The United States government is contending for the genuine application of the "open door" policy, which in the minds of Washington government officials means equality of commercial opportunity.

China has already made it clear that she wishes this conference to go on record as opposing the making of any treaty or convention relating to Far Eastern affairs which does not give China an opportunity to participate.

RESIGNED AGENT SEES NO HOPE FOR CHINA IN PARLEY

The information gathered by the advisory committee headed by Senator George Sutherland is in the hands of the various delegates. It contains the views of famous men of science on such matters as poison gas and also the views of distinguished men on the general subject of devices for rendering war less probable and less destructive to the civilization.

As to the information gathered by the committee, the public is restless because it understands so little what is being fought for in the way of a pacific settlement. The administration and the American delegates are determined to go through with the plan on which they are launched.

Mr. T'yu was recently appointed minister to Cuba and he has applied to be sent immediately to his post.

OWYHEE DISTRICT HELD LEGAL BODY BY SUPREME COURT

Salem, Dec. 6.—There is no law in Oregon by which an irrigation district or any other corporation of similar character can either "die a natural death or commit suicide," according to Justice McBride, in an opinion handed down by the supreme court this morning upholding the legality of the organization of the Owyhee irrigation district in Malheur county.

The case was instituted by Martha B. Greig, attacking the legality of the district and seeking to enjoin the district from imposing taxes, selling bonds or otherwise acting as an irrigation district. Among other things it was contended by the plaintiff that the district had abandoned its corporation franchise by reason of the fact that during the years 1914 to 1918 inclusive no election of officers was had and the old officers continued to hold over and by reason of the further fact that no bonds have ever been voted or irrigation system constructed.

Justice McBride declared in affirming the decree of Judge Dalton Biggs of the Malheur county circuit court. "However, it was not dead, but sleeping, and, having now awakened to newness of life, it is entitled to use its long dormant powers for the purposes for which it was constituted."
