The thought of Christmas also carries with it the thought of a child made It is also a time when many fathers and mothers flock to the hurch to listen to their happy children ing and recite the familiar story of he birth of Jesus in a lowly Bethlehem

Many of Portland's little tots are not only rejoicing today at the thought of standing on the church platform before vast assemblage, or over the prospects of being remembered by Santa Claus, but also in the thought that they are going to bring joy, happiness, blessing and comfort to children in other parts of the world. The "white Christmas" spirit has grown rapidly the past few years. This season the Sunday school chilen of the city are united in a camthe starving orphans in Armenia 'and Russia, and also to provide necessities for their destitute playmates in Portland. The department of international good will of the Portland Council of Churches calling upon the churches to observe Christmas Sunday as International Good Will Christmas. It is the hope of the icil that the teachings of Jesus about good will and brotherhood will receive much emphasis from the pulpit. A resolution will be conveyed to President

Union Bible Classes Drew Big Attendance

The large audiences attending the Portland Union Bible classes, conducted by the Moody Bible Institute, are eviby the Moody Bible Institute, are evidence of a growing interest in the popular study of the Bible.
