Commission Rules So Aitchison and Hall May Continue

Washington, Jan. 3.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Anticipating the early confirmation of Clyde B. Altehison on the interstate commerce commission, the commission has given him and Commissioner Hall, whose term also expired on January 1, temporary appointment as special assistants, which enables them to retain ession of their offices during the short interregnum. McNary expects to call up the nomination at the first executive session, probably tomorrow, and is believed only LaFollette and posbly one or two others will oppose the infirmation, which they will be unable to delay for long.

All members of the Oregon delegation were here for the reopening of congress today except McArthur. Stanfield, who made a trip to Chicago during recess, returned late Saturday.

Lloyd George Peps Up on Golf Links; Worries on Shelf

Cannes, Jan 3.—Lioyd George, the weight of European problems temporarily lifted from his mind, is enjoying his first real vacation since 1912, and is apparently regaining his usual good health. Clear-eyed and rosy as a young man, he goes golfing every day without a care in the world, and as though the reparations problem, disarmament and the fate of Ireland were of no concern to him. And those who watch him are amazed at the vitality of a man who for seven years has battled with more political roblems than any premier of Great

Lloyd George has worked without any respite and under a tremendous mental and physical strain. Time after time he has planned a holiday, only to find his arrangements cancelled at the last through the press of business which he must turn back. In four days at Cannes the premier has regained his old time form. His secretaries say that the reason for it is that he has delegated all except the most important matters to his trusted subordinates, and then "forgetting it." Whenever possible he makes his state decisions, the more important ones at least, at the breakfast table. But when the middle of the forences comes the premiddle of the forencon comes the pre-mier completely throws off the burden and becomes wrapped up in gelfing prob-

Ray King, deputy sheriff, whose auto-mobile is equipped with a police siren, gave it a short blast as he was ready to ass the motor truck. Evidently the driver thought he was being pursued immediately speeded up and wrecked his machine on the first in the road. He then disappeared over

King sent for the patrol wagon, was unable to take more than a third of the load back to police headquarters.

The license plate of the truck is registered to R. L. Thompson, Cornelius hotel. Police were unable to locate him at a late hour Monday night.

Slate Cleaned by La Grande; Pays Off All Warrants

La Grande, Jan. 3.—The city of La Grande turned over a new leaf with the new year. For the first time in its history no uncalled warrants are outstand ing, a call having been issued 10 days ago for all warrants to be payable last Saturday. The history of the city shows that with the development of the city manager form of government the amount of warrants outstanding at the end of each year which could not be called in steadily decreased until this year, when the city was able to start with a clean On the first of January, 1918, the city was unable to pay warrants in the amount of $89,925.54. A year fater this had increased to $97,750.06. Then there was a turning in the tide of city affairs and in 1915 only $69,446.60 was not called for payment. The next year this de-creased to $63,618.15 and a year later only $52,613.81 in warrants was not called for payment. On January 1, 1918, there again was a slight increase in the amount the city found unable to call, the total at that time being $83,124.75.

A year later the amount had decreased to $45,483.10 and in 1920 it was down to
