

REV. RAY CLOSE
NEW SECRETARY
OF CHURCH BODY

Pastor of Third Baptist Church Will Direct Activities of Portland Council of Churches.

The Rev. Ray Edwin Close, pastor of the Third Baptist church, has been elected executive secretary of the Portland Council of Churches to succeed Rev. Ralph C. McAfee, resigned, according to an announcement made Saturday by Amos M. Smith, chairman of the executive board and president of the council. Close will assume his new duties February 1, the date upon which McAfee's resignation becomes effective. McAfee has resigned to accept a similar position at Kansas City, Mo., not Kansas City, Kan., as was previously reported.

At a meeting of the official members of the Third Baptist church Friday night it was voted to recommend to the church that the pastor's resignation be accepted, and that he also be released February 1, instead of requiring him to remain 30 days, in keeping with the law of the church.

LIKES HIS SUCCESSOR
Rev. Close may occupy his present pulp-pit for several weeks yet, as an accommodation to the congregation.

Close was recommended to the council committee by McAfee, who said this morning: "I feel very happy to leave this executive work of this association in the hands of a man as efficient as Rev. Close."

Close is a young man and characterized as "cosmopolitan."

R. U. Downs, principal of the Elliot public school and chairman of the board of deacons of Third Baptist church, said the pastor had endeared himself to the people of the church and especially to the young people.

Dr. O. C. Wright, executive secretary of the Oregon State Baptist convention, said that Close is fully qualified for the place.

HAS HAD EXPERIENCE Close is a native of Pennsylvania. He was reared in New York and spent part of his life in the Middle West. He was interested in religious work by E. R.
Martin of the American Sunday School Union for which organization he was a missionary in Eastern Washington.

Close was pastor of the First Baptist church of La Grande from 1912 to 1915, of the First Baptist church of Wenatchee from 1915 to 1918, and of the Greenleaf Baptist church of Seattle from 1918 to 1920, during which time he was Baptist camp pastor at Camp Lewis and served on the board of selection of the Y. M. C. A. for selecting overseas "Y."

He came to Portland March 1, 1920.
During his time here the Third Baptist church has had many accessions.

Why Cemeteries Are Transitory

In practically every large city the history of cemeteries is dismally the same. First comes financial embarrassment, second neglect, and then destruction, to make way for the needs of the living.

By their very natures it can be hardly otherwise, because cemeteries cannot give our dead the tender care and the lasting protection that are the due of every loved one.

The reasons are obvious. First, they who rest in cemeteries are prey to the merciless and unheeding elements. Secondly, succeeding generations have no compunctions if their interests are best served by a cemetery's obliteration.

These facts go far toward explaining why thinking people are turning to the modern, cleanly and reverent methods—Cremation or Vault Entombment. It explains, too, why many are removing their dead from cemeteries for the tender and PER-MANENT PROTECTION these incomparably better ways afford.

THRIFT WEEK TO FEATURE FRANKLIN
HABITS OF SAVING

Putting Aside Part of Income Each Week to Be Urged; Portland Drive Will Open Tuesday.

A program of economy, which will provide for the systematic saving of a portion of one's income each week, is embodied in national thrift week which will open Tuesday and continue until Monday, January 23. Raymond Van Vain, secretary of the employment department of the Portland Y. M. C. A., is director of thrift week in Portland. The idea is promoted by the Y. M. C. A. throughout the United States.

Thrift week, which starts on the birthday of Benjamin Franklin, is intended to inculcate Franklin habits of saving.
Tuesday is therefore known as national thrift day.

"Thrift does not mean the hoarding of money," says an announcement of the observance. "It means putting off money to best advantage. Some part of your income should go rightly toward building up a financial reserve. It is a savings account that tides a man over sickness, that enables him to make the first payment on a house or a piano or that provides for the education of his children through college. It also builds up the funds necessary to take advantage of good investments."

The importance of a family budget as a means of economizing will be emphasized on Wednesday, January 19, has been set aside as life insurance day, when the value and functions of policies will be emphasized. On January 20 "own your own home" day will be observed, when this important feature will be discussed.

The need for generous acts will be featured on Sunday, January 22, which has been designated as "share with your neighbor" day to send the children Monday will conclude thrift week.

"By means of making a will," says the announcement, "you are able to make provisions for your family, not as a man who simply leaves what he has, but with the same thoughtfulness with which you provide during your lifetime."

Suit Filed Against Crystal Ice Co. Is Dismissed, Report

Word has been received from Washington by Elton Watkins, attorney for the Crystal Ice & Storage company, that the complaint filed against that concern by the federal trades commission in April, 1921, charging it with having violated the federal anti-trust law, has been dismissed "for failure of proof."

This charge, when filed, aroused widespread interest. It charged, in brief, that the defendant company had violated the anti-trust act by gaining control of the Mt. Hood, Hazelwood and Norman ice cream companies, and thus securing a practical monopoly of the ice cream business in Portland, The Dalles, Roseburg, Myrtle Point, Pendleton and Bend, Or., and Grays Harbor and Centralia, Wash.

The notice of the dismissal of the complaint came to Watkins in a telegram from Washington.

Baptists Pleased With Selection of Dr. Villers, Pastor

"Everybody feels as though the acceptance of the White Temple pulpit by Dr. F. J. Villers of Detroit marks a new era in the life of the church," said Harry W. Stone, chairman of the pulpit committee, Saturday afternoon, in commenting on the news of Dr. Villers' acceptance.

Stone said he had talked with a large number of members concerning the acceptance. The announcement will be formally made from the pulpit today.

The new pastor is expected to arrive in the city about March 1.
