

NEWBERRY VOTE RISES AS ISSUE IN EVERGREEN STATE

Seattle, Jan. 16.—George E. Ryan, vice chairman of the Democratic Washington state central committee, who, in spite of his recent illness, probably will take on his shoulders the management of the Democratic campaign this summer, says the Democrats will make a desperate effort to land as many seats in the coming legislature as possible. The recent Newberry vote in the United States senate will be used as political material for national purposes and the claims of the unsuccessful working of the new code and the poll tax, for the state campaign.

The Newberry vote has been made an issue by the Seattle Star and the fact that Senator Fendleton failed to line up with Senator Jones to oust Newberry will be used against him in the coming campaign. There has not been any rush of candidates to oppose Senator Fendleton, so it is still a question whom the Star will support. Congressman J. Stanley Webster of Spokane and Judge Kenneth Mackintosh of Seattle have been mentioned, but both have stated positively that they will not run, and with Mayor Hugh C. Caldwell's recent declaration against running for office the field is still vacant.

COYLE TAKES TO AUTOS

Lieutenant Governor W. J. Coyle was recently mentioned by one of the evening Seattle papers as a candidate for senator, but Coyle has about completed a deal for an automobile agency and says the idea is foolish. It is entirely probable that if Coyle is candidate for anything this next year it will be for governor.

George Christensen, banker, recently elected mayor of Stevenson, has announced that he will run for the state senate. His opponent for the Skamania-Klickitat district will be John C. Crawford, who will be a candidate to succeed himself.

A. E. Judd, a Cheshal real estate man, who was a member of the fourteenth and fifteenth legislatures, will be a candidate for the state senate again this year. He did not run for reelection in 1920, as he was an unsuccessful candidate for governor. His opponent will be Herbert Swafford, Republican.

Former United States Senator George Turner of Spokane, will be a candidate for the lower house of the legislature, according to Ryan. His opponents in the fifth Spokane district will probably be J. D. Bassett and F. B. Danahy, who will run for reelection. Turner will make his campaign on his state sales tax which he will endeavor to pass in case of his election.

TODD WON'T RUN

A recent effort in Seattle to get J. P. Todd, fish broker, to run for mayor has failed. Todd has announced that he will be a candidate against William E. Wray for the state senate. E. Guise, former speaker, has also announced his candidacy. Dan Landon, veteran member of the legislature, has announced that he will not run and that leaves the field open for Thomas Murphree, who has always said he would not run against Landon because of the trimming he knew he would get.

A hot fight is promised in the Thirty-seventh district, as Ed Palmer has moved into that district from Eagle

George and is going to run against Howard Taylor, president of the state senate. To make this race interesting Robert A. Triplett will also run, and either James Kinne or Thomas Hammond of the Young Men's Republican club will be a candidate.

Girl Secretaries Ask Privilege of Swarming Senate

(By Universal Service)
Washington, Jan. 16.—Shall the historic dignity of the United States be disturbed by pretty girls with bobbed hair and short skirts which permit the display of a foot or more of filmy silk stockings?

This is the question agitating the august committee on rules, which has before it an amendment permitting the female secretaries and clerks of senators the same floor privileges as are now enjoyed by the male secretaries.

There is a sharp division of sentiment on this important question. Many senators would stand for these loud dresses violating their dignity and upsetting their precious debate by marching in on the floor. Goodness knows what they would do if they got there. I suppose they would do their best to convert the senate into a variety show.

One of the so-called flapper secretaries to whom these remarks were related dismissed them scornfully in two words: "Sour grapes," she said bitingly. So there you are.

Alleged Bad Check Passer Is Arrested

Clarence F. Boner, charged with passing worthless checks, was arrested at Grand avenue and East Morrison street late Saturday night by Inspectors Horack and Davis, and held on the complaint of T. J. Meyers, drug store proprietor at 128 Grand avenue, who says he cashed a worthless check for $12.50. Boner says he won the check in a gambling game and that he did not know it was worthless.

Arrest Father on Non-Support Charge

Dallas, Or., Jan. 16.—Leon C. Taylor, a resident of Medford, was brought back to this city Saturday by Sheriff John W. Orr. Taylor, who formerly resided at Independence, was indicted by the grand jury, charged with non-support of his minor children. He will have his trial in circuit court this week. Otto Bimmenger on perjury charges, has been set for Tuesday afternoon.

ANTI-LYNCHING, BONUS, FOREIGN DEBT BILLS NEXT

By John Gleasoner
United News Staff Correspondent
Washington, Jan. 16.—Congress this week will direct its attention to three important measures, passage of which is desired by the administration—the foreign debt funding bill, the soldier bonus bill and the anti-lynching bill.

The debt funding bill is to be reported out by the senate finance committee probably today, minus some of the restrictions that have proved objectionable to the administration. Consideration will be started at once. The bill will provide for putting the $11,000,000,000 owed this government by foreign countries in definite form—now the loans are secured simply by "demand notes." Maturity would be 25 years hence. A provision probably would be included to defer interest payments for a period of years because of present inability of the debtor nations to make payments.

HARDING WANTS ACTION
The administration has urged passage of this bill for months and recently the president has exerted a strong pressure on the senate to obtain action in that body.

After the debt funding bill is reported out, the senate finance committee will prepare a soldier bonus bill, with the idea of reporting it out in a short time. This measure, it is expected, will contain provisions for making its first payments through taxation.

Later payments may be cared for through interest on the debts of foreign governments. But President Harding will insist that, whatever its form, the measure contains definite provisions for raising money for the payments it will authorize.

The anti-lynching bill, desired by the administration to redeem a party campaign pledge, will be brought up in the house later in the week.

Democrats will continue their filibuster against it.

RESERVE BOARD FIGHT UP

Tuesday the senate will vote on the bill supported by the farm bloc to put the farmer on the federal reserve board. The administration's objection to a legal stipulation of this sort is expected to carry.

An attempt will be made simply to amend the reserve act to provide for representation for agriculture in the same way that representation for business and industry is now provided. The ways and means committee of the house will hold hearings on the proposed amendment to the constitution to forbid issuance of tax exempt securities. The committee investigating Senator Watson's charges of cruelty to soldiers will resume hearings. House committees will continue their work on the appropriation bills.

The succeeding weeks will witness attempts on the part of the leaders to bring about greater unity of action with the executive branches and greater unity within the party organization. There will be an effort also to obtain more decisive action.

This is the result of a series of conferences among leaders during the past 10 days. President Harding has pressed congress and there has been agreement on the necessity for greater unity and efficiency.

Widow Will Lose $75,000 if She Marries Again

Chicago, Jan. 16.—(I. N. S.)—If one of Cupid's darts pierces the heart of Mrs. Ernie K. McNett, widow of Charles S. McNett, Evanston, Ill., attorney, she will have to sacrifice $75,000 of her husband's estate, according to provisions of the McNett will, filed Saturday.

Under provisions of the will, Mrs. McNett is named sole beneficiary of the McNett fortune, aggregating $125,000, if she does not remarry. In event she is again married she will receive only $50,000 of the estate.

Roseburg, Jan. 16.—At the annual meeting of the Roseburg Chamber of Commerce Friday night, directors were elected as follows: J. W. Hamilton, J. E. McClintock, L. B. Moore, C. A. Lockwood, Bert G. Bates, O. C. Baker and Deane Babar. These directors will appoint a president. Plans for publicity work during the year were discussed, and resolutions passed favoring several projects.

Operated on Wrong Foot; Ask Damages

(By United News)
New York, Jan. 16.—Claiming that the surgeon operated on the perfect foot of his daughter instead of the injured one and that as a result she is now crippled in both feet, David Engle of Brooklyn has entered suit for $10,000 against Dr. Samuel Kleinberg of New York. The surgeon declares that the accident resulted from a nurse's mistake and that she prepared the wrong foot for the operation.

CRIPPLE ATTACKED BY ARMED BANDITS

Two armed bandits Sunday night held up Miles Starr, crippled proprietor of a confectionery store at 530 Washington street, and while one of them scooped out the contents of the cash register the other kept jostling the helpless man from his seat to prevent him from interfering. For some reason the bandits were frightened away, taking with them about $7, while they left $12 undisturbed in the cash drawer.

Toggenen who late Saturday night entered the Twentieth Century bakery, 150 Page street, rifled the cash register and attempted to break into the safe, but either failed or were frightened away after they had succeeded in knocking off the combination with a hammer.

Y. Sumidjo, Japanese truck driver, who lives at the bakery, returned home Saturday night and saw that the cash register had been broken, but he did not discover that the safe had been tampered with or call police until Sunday morning.

Thieves jimmied a window of the E. H. Bollman store, 757 Thurman street, and after ransacking the place away with $4 in cash, besides a large number of watches and flashlights. Detectives say the robbery looks as though it were the work of boys.

While Frances Alexander and Laura Clanton were away from their rooms at 85 East Eighteenth street, Saturday night, prowlers ransacked the place and stole a large amount of women's apparel, a watch and several articles of jewelry.

Skating Crowd Hit By Airplane; Woman Killed; One Injured

(By United News)
Redbank, N. J., Jan. 15.—An airplane operated by James Casey, a former army flyer, dashed into a crowd of skaters on the Shrewsbury river, near here, Sunday, killed Mrs. Anna Hounihan and severed the arm of her brother-in-law, Lawrence Conley, before the aviator could regain control of his machine.

Casey was attempting to rise from the ice when the accident occurred.
