DISPLAY SERMON

Realms of Oregon's industrial empire will appear all-encompassing to those who visit the green room of the Oregon building this week and view the Oregon home exhibit, which has been arranged through the concerted efforts of approximately 10,000 organized women of

The model bungalow room exhibit, sponsored by the Portland Federation of Women's Organizations, was opened informally at noon Monday and at the formal opening at 4 o'clock in the after-noon Governor Olcott and other state officials were in attendance.

This exhibit is the first on record where an attempt has been made to display a completely equipped home, with every necessity and luxury manufactured in Oregon. There are five rooms in the display and each is completely urnished in artistic style.

INDUSTRIES DEPICTED The exhibit sets forth the fact that Oregon industries produce 95 per cent of everything that enters into interior furnishing and that the average home owner does not have to buy things that are not produced within the boundaries of the state. Advertising is not being displayed in connection with the exhibit. To make the exhibit a success 82 women's organizations of the city have joined hands to back the efforts of the Oregon industries committee of the federation of which Mrs. H. C. Hodgkins is chairman, in arranging the exhibit. Committees headed by Mrs. Kathryn Coffield and Mrs. Augusta Wood se lected the furnishings with the cooper ation of the exhibit committee of the Associated Industries of Oregon, of which R. B. Bain Jr. is chairman. The five model rooms occupy the entire length of the green room and there

Arbuckle May Not Take Stand During His Second Trial

> San Francisco, Jan. 24.-Courtroom spectators may be robbed of the thrills of hearing Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle give his personal version for a second time of his Labor day party and the events which led up to the death of Virginia Rappe, with responsibility for which he is charged.

> The defense admitted today that the action of the state in starting to read the entire transcript of Arbuckle's testimony at the first trial into the record of the second trial may result in a decision not to call Arbuckle as his own > star witness. The state started reading the transcript late yesterday after taking testimony of a newspaper reporter who had talked to Arbuckle before the comedian first came to San Francisco on the day following Miss Rappe's death. The state desired to show alleged discrepancies between the story the reporter said Ar-buckle told him and Arbuckle's story told from the witness stand.

FORMULATE PLAN

Washington, Jan. 24.—(WASHING-ON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)-Early in February the national council of the United States Chamber of Commerce will meet in Washington to formulate a program for "dealing with the railroad situation," with the idea, it is stated, of leaving the Esch-Cummins transportation act untouched, but suggesting that further legislation may be

According to the announcement issued by the chamber, "some business men see a drift towards government ownership and operation unless there can be worked out some plan by which the roads can be put on a self-supporting basis. They feel that the transportation act should be given a longer trial, and that attempts which are being made in congress to amend the act, if successful will precipitate a crisis which may make it impossible for the roads to continue under private management." MAY BE DECEPTIVE

Doubt is expressed that gains in railroad earnings shown thus far may not have been gained at the expense of proper maintenance, so that, because of deferred maintenance the roads may not be as far out of the woods as the increases in the balance sheets might iin-

There is considerable ferment in congress over the railroad question, mani-fest in speeches calling for reductions n freight rates and for changes in the transportation act. La Follette is lead-ing in a demand that the rate making rule of the act be repealed, so the interstate commission will not be required to fix rates that will yield a reasonable return on a valuation found by the com-

Although such a value has been found by the commission, which in round num-bers is $19,000,000,000, La Follette's contention is that no true valuation can be had on present data, and that the com-mission has been forced to use in effect or in large measure, the book values of the railroads, which he asserts are six or seven billion dollars too much. Commissioner Henry C. Hall recently denied that the commission had taken the railroad's figures. In a hearing before the senate interstate commerce committee, he said that while the valuation work of the commission is far from complete, it has working data of enormous volume which it was able to

TWENTY BULIONS AS VALUE The aggregate value of all the railroads, as shown by their property investment accounts, is in round figures $20,000,000,000, and there is a difference of a little more than 5 per cent between the railroad and the commission valua-tions. Mr. Hall said that the results reached by the commission were a com-posite of many minds, and the best judg-ment that could be formed from all the evidence. Any statement that it was based on carrier property investment accounts, he said, is "not defensible in any sense."

Canal Soon to Be Self-Sustaining, Says Gov. Morrow

New York, Jan. 24. — Within a few years the Panama canal will be a paying proposition for the United States government, declared Governor J. J. Morrow of the canal sone, on his arrival here aboard the steamship Santa

Morrow is going to Washington to confer with the congressional appro-priations committee and the secretary of war. He refused to comment on charges of former Canal zone employes that he was domineering in his attitude toward them, and that he threatened to fill their places with negroes. "I will ask congress for $4,000,000 less tofore. Our appropriation will be cut to $4,000,000, necessitating a big reduction in the working force.

"With this appropriation the canal will more than pay for itself. In December the tolls were more than $1,000,000. The canal will be more than self-sustaining within a few years."
