Municipality Must Stand Expense of Delay Street Extension if Property Not Sold, Says Adams

In addition to two sales of delinquent property by the city to be held in February, William Adams, city treasurer, announced Saturday afternoon that the largest sale of property ever held by the city will be conducted March 2.

This sale, he said, involves hundred of lots in the northeast portion of the city which are delinquent on assess ments for the extension of Delay street. The amount of delinquincy is approximately $12,000.

"The Delay street extension asses ments were entered in the lien docket, October 18, 1921," Adams explained. "Unless the land is sold the extension will fall through. In this event the city will have to stand the expense of the extension, for if all of the property as-sessed does not pay, or is not sold, the city, by law, has to refund to those who did pay the amount of their assess-ments."

The sale, he said, would be held at 10 o'clock, March 2, at the east door of the court house.

Two sales are scheduled for February : Observed by Scots one February 15 and the other February 27. The one to be held on the fifteenth is for delinguencies for the extension of The 162d anniversary of the birth of street and the improvement of Fiftleth Willamette Boulevard and Stafford Robert Burns, bard of Scotland, was street S.
