Nine burglaries, the passing of two had checks and several petty larcenles from automobiles were cleared up by city detectives Tuesday afternoon with the arrest of seven gangsters of Sellwood and South Portland, from whom police wormed confessions of participating in an organized series of burglaries during the past two months. Recovery of $500 worth of loot was effected by detectives, who expect to ocata more stolen property. Included in the chanup were robber-ies of the M. Wax clothing store, 281 Front street, which was entered three imes in one week by burglars, who eluded detection for the time being, in spite of efforts of the police. SEVEN ARRESTED

Those placed under arrest, who later confessed to parts in one or more burg-laries, are: Max Olshen, 23, said by police to be the brains, of the gang; Lawrence Ameil, 18; Alvin Platt, 21; George Winams, 20; Dick Devonic, 17; Frank Keeley, 15, and John Conther-Bg. 17.

Police say the seven arrests clean up the two gangs implicated in the rob-berles, with the exception of Tony Dagostino, now being held for the grand jury on a charge of attempted burglary, with ball fixed at $2500. Dagostino is charged with attempting to burglarize the home of Paul C. Murphy, East Glisan street and Laurelhurst avenue, January 24.

He was implicated by the confessions of the others as a participant in the robbery of Gottschalk's drug store, 681 Milwaukie avenue, where two guns were stolen. Police say that it was these stolen guns which were used by the three prowlers who were interrupted by Special Officer Corcoran as they at-tempted to enter the Murphy home. ONE HAD STOLEN GOODS

The gangsters were apprehended by the united efforts of Inspectors Coleman, Drennan, Van Deusen, Schum and Morak, all of whom worked at different times the burglarles. The arrests were a le following the discovery of some of the stolen property in, one of the gang's possession. The loot taken in the burglaries comtrised principally clothing, with the exeption of the hasl made at the Miller & Van Dermark electric store. Following are burgaries in which members of the two gangs confessed participating:

C. C. drygoods store, Oregon City; M. Wax clothing store, 281 Front street, three times; Metropolitan Cap and Hat works, 1311/2 Second street; C. Fertig lothing store, 266 Clay street; J. H. Mc-

Keehan grocery, 1599 Milwaukie street, near Spokane avenue; Gottschalk's drug store, 681 Milwaukie avenue. Members of the gangs also confessed to a number of petty thefts from automobiles. Two had checks for $9 each were passed on Dahl & Penny and the People's market, by member of the gang who entered the electric store, where
