

FATHER ASKS FOR COURT ORDER TO EVICT WILFUL SON

W. A. Voigt, 61, residing at 485 East Holman street, filed a complaint in circuit court this morning asking for an order evicting Arthur C. Voigt, his son, from the home, directing him to remove all his personal effects, ordering him not to try to force his mother into estrangement from the father, and restraining him from harassing or abusing his younger sisters.

During the last two years Arthur C. Voigt has gradually assumed an attitude of "arrogant superiority," the complaint says, and in this he has been aided by his mother. This attitude has spread to the younger children, the complaint continues so that on January 3, August, one of the sons, had to be placed under arrest because of his abuse of a younger sister. August and another brother, Hugo, were lectured by Municipal Judge Rosman as a result of the incident. Afterwards Arthur told his father to get out of the house, it is charged.

The father retaliated, according to the complaint, by demanding that Arthur get out of the house, but when he wouldn't the father was too weak to enforce his order.

"He has been persistently offensive," the complaint says of Arthur, "assuming an attitude of arrogant superiority and of greater brain power and intelligence than that of the father."

"He has announced his intention to take his father's place as the head of the family and to discipline the younger members of the family. He has frequently made statements that the father is incompetent to perform his duties as head of his own family."

PROTEST AGAINST BUYING ARMY BLANKETS OVERULED

Objections to the county purchasing agent buying army blankets for use of county prisoners were submitted to the county commissioners this morning by local business houses. The local concerns stated they could not sell their blankets as cheaply as army stores sell the army blankets, but when the local business houses stated that the lowest bid for 50 blankets, submitted by a local concern, was $1 a pound, while the army blankets cost only 5 cents a pound. The commissioners, after feeling the texture of the two blankets, decided that the army blanket was much the better in quality as well as in price and they would not change their policy.

INJURED MAN SUES AUTO DRIVER FOR $6250 DAMAGES

Charles Scollard has filed suit in circuit court against Will T. Wright, asking $6250 damages for injuries received in an automobile wreck between Oregon City and Portland, June 9, 1921. Scollard states that he was a passenger in an automobile coming to Portland, which parked for a few minutes on the extreme right-hand side of the highway. Wright, going toward Oregon City, rammed them, the complaint charges.

73500 DAMAGES ASKED

Lucille Broderick today filed suit in circuit court against the P. R. L. & P. company, asking $73500 damages as a result of an accident at Grand avenue and East Clay street, where a taxicab in which she was a passenger was struck by a street car. Excessive speed and recklessness are charged to both defendants.

William H. Hays to Look Into Things in Hollywood Colony

Washington, Feb. 8.—(U. P.)—One of the first official acts of William H. Hays, czar of the American motion picture industry, will be a trip to Hollywood, Cal., according to a close associate.

His present intention is to go to the Pacific coast about April 1 for a month's stay. During that time, unless the plans are changed, he will inspect every phase of life in the Hollywood motion picture colony to acquaint himself first hand with conditions there.

Courtland Smith, formerly president of the American Press Association and "dollar a year man" in the postoffice department, who will be Hays' aide in his work, will accompany his chief to the coast.

Since the Arbuckle case there has been much talk of the movie industry leaving California and of the establishment of a new "Hollywood" on Long Island. It was learned authoritatively that no such plans are being considered. Hays is at Miami, Fla.

Most Crime Cases During Month Are Solved, Say Police

Arrests and convictions brought about by the work of the detective bureau under Captain John T. Moore, chief inspector during the month of January show that over a majority of the criminal cases reported to them for that period were cleared up and the crimes solved, according to a report submitted to Chief of Police L. V. Jenkins.

During the months there were 43 burglaries, 17 holdups, 91 bad check cases, 22 forgeries and 215 larcenies. The record shows 28 burglaries cleared up, 59 larcenies cases settled, and 11 holdup men arrested. Twenty forgers were arrested and 83 bad check cases cleared up.

A total of 274 arrests were made for the month and 239 vagrants investigated.

COMMANDER OF LEGION ATTACKS JAPANESE LABOR

That the Japanese have abrogated their picture bride agreement by taking Japanese of this country to Japan, where they can marry and bring their brides back with them at a cost of no greater than that of the picture bride's former passage, was asserted by G. L. Goodell, state commander of the American Legion, in a fiery address before the Portland Ad club at the Benson this afternoon.

"The Japanese cannot colonize this country, if for no other reason, because we cannot compete with them," said Goodell, who was cheered when he suggested a "five-year holiday" in immigration. "We cannot live as cheaply as the Japanese; we cannot work as cheaply, and if we let them into agriculture we will find them our competitors in business and in finance."

SAYS HARTWIG EXISTS

Otto Hartwig, president of the State Federation of Labor, nailed as a canard the report that there is not the utmost harmony between the American Legion and organized labor.

"Look upon organized labor," he suggested, "not as an institution that considers itself beyond criticism, but as a human institution that can be criticized. It should be cooperated with and that should cooperate with business and commercial organizations and the farmer."

Hartwig described the work under way at the Labor Temple and in the high schools to make the mechanic more proficient and to lift from the reproach of "shoddy" work.

CONTROLS BIG QUOTA

George Jewett, general manager of the Northwest Wheat Growers' association, stated that this cooperative marketing organization of growers now controls about one third of the wheat produced in four Northwest states that will be moved through North Pacific ports. He said that in establishing general headquarters in Portland the advantages of this location were recognized. He added that all growers in the organization will receive compensation on the same basis for their products.

Major Cassius Peck asked the club's aid in Americanization week.

"None of us are doing our duty in the Americanization of the foreign born among us," he said.

Schools Look Into Janitorial Systems Of Other Districts

Captain George Edmondstone, superintendent of school properties, left Tuesday night for Seattle to investigate the janitorial employment system in use in the Seattle schools. Edmondstone was authorized to make this trip by the school board, to obtain data and actual figures for comparative purposes in deciding upon the method to be adopted in Portland. The Seattle plan originated in Cleveland, Ohio, and is urged by Director George B. Thomas. Under it the janitors are paid upon an hourly basis, instead of the contract system now in use in Portland.

Director Thomas, who obtained permission from the board at the time of Edmondstone's authorization, to accompany Edmondstone and to pay his own expenses, changed his mind about going.

Robert Potter was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary on a charge of forging a check.

FARM BUREAU TO MEET

Oregon City, Feb. 8.—The annual meeting of the Clackamas county farm bureau, at which officers are to be elected and plans for activities of the association outlined, will be held in Oregon City February 23. County project leaders, selected from the community leaders now being appointed, will be chosen.

Save the bird in hand—The others may be hard to catch

With enough money, enough time and enough luck, a man may get back the health he has lost—or part of it.

It takes patience, too.

And then there may be no success, or only a little.

It's better to save what you have than hunt for what you've lost—as the most successful health-restorers will tell you.

Much of the loss of health is due to faulty, careless diet. Wrong meals at all times and right meals at wrong times lead the long-suffering digestive organs with elements of destruction, or starve the tissues and glands of needed elements.

Grape-Nuts is a delicious cereal food which has the qualities of scientific nutrition. It supplies the full richness of those splendid food grains, wheat and malted barley, together with the vital mineral elements, so often lacking from foods. Served with cream or good milk, Grape-Nuts gives full nourishment without over-loading the stomach.

A splendid thought for breakfast or lunch, for those who would keep health—

John G. Barratt To Participate in K. P. Annual Meet

John G. Barratt left Wednesday for Middletown, Ohio, to participate in the reunion and celebration of the fifty-ninth anniversary of the Knights of Pythias February 13. Mr. Barratt has been a member of the Knights of Pythias for over half a century, and is the only living charter member of the lodge at Middletown, Lafayette lodge No. 37. He will be a guest of the lodge, which forwarded all traveling expenses. A gold emblematic jewel will be presented to him by the lodge during the ceremonies and many old-time members will be present. Barratt resides in Portland with his son, W. J. Barratt at 531 Reynolds street. He probably will be gone three weeks.

BOARD TO REJECT GROWING CROPS AS PRIMARY SECURITY

Washington, Feb. 8.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—The position of the war finance corporation with reference to advances to a $5,000,000 corporation under organization by Dr. Charles J. Smith of Portland and particularly with reference to loans on growing crops, is stated in a letter from Eugene Meyer Jr., managing director of the war finance body, to McNary.

Growing crops cannot be accepted as principal security, it is stated, but exception will be made in individual cases to the general rule against such security when other endorsements are sufficient. The concluding part of Meyer's letter says:

"In view of the large capital to be paid in by the corporation proposed to be organized by Dr. Smith and the endorsement by bonds or other financial institutions of the Farmers' obligations offered as collateral security, the board is willing under the circumstances to except from the provisions of paragraph 3 of circular 27 applications on behalf of this corporation. You understand, of course, that every application is considered upon its own merits and while growing crops, under some circumstances, will be accepted as part security for an advance, it would be very unfortunate if Dr. Smith should go ahead with the completion of the organization in which he is interested under the misapprehension that the board would accept as the primary or substantially the only security for agricultural advances on paper of this character, with respect to which even under the most favorable circumstances a large element of risk is involved."

POINDEXTER IS SCORED

Pasco, Wash., Feb. 8.—Many railroad men and others attended a meeting Monday night, arranged by the four big brotherhoods. Knute Hill, Farmer-Labor candidate for congress at the last election, spoke, referring to the Newberry case and scoring Senator Poindexter for his attitude.

Columbia Lutheran Conference Opens

The annual meeting of the Portland district of the Columbia Lutheran conference opened this afternoon at Immanuel Lutheran church, Nineteenth and Irving. The first session was a pastoral conference. Tonight, holy communion will be celebrated at a mass meeting. The main business session is set for Thursday morning, and a theological discussion on Revelation 3:7 after the afternoon. A mass meeting Thursday night will conclude the conference.

Lincoln Society Speakers Will Be Heard in Schools

The Lincoln society, following its plan of last year, will furnish speakers for Portland schools next Monday, in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

L. D. Mahone, president of the society, gained permission from Superintendent D. A. Groat to secure speakers for the high schools alone, but upon requests of numerous elementary schools that are calling for patriotic speakers also, Mahone is endeavoring to provide speakers for all the schools so desiring them.

To Determine Mental Condition of Accused

A hearing has been called for this afternoon by United States Commissioner Fraser to determine whether J. Timmons is a moonshiner and deserves punishment, or whether he merits treatment in a hospital. If the hearing shows Timmons to be mentally unbalanced he will be sent to the veterans' hospital at Sillicum, Wash., said Assistant United States Attorney Byrnes. If not he will be prosecuted under the Volstead act.

PHONE MERGER IS HELD AS MEANS OF LOWER RATES

That an annual saving in excess of $30,000 will be made by the Northwestern Long Distance Telephone company and the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company if their petition to the interstate commerce commission is approved and that this saving will be reflected in better rates for the telephone users of Oregon and Washington, is one contention made in the merger petition, according to Jay S. Bowerman, secretary and general attorney for the Northwestern company.

Bowerman said that the terms of the consolidation are for a lease of 15 years at an approximate rental payment by the Pacific company of $34,000 a month. The contract gives the Pacific company the right to purchase the Northwestern interests and the Northwestern the right to compel the Pacific company to buy. The purchase price is set at $55,000.

"This petition," said Bowerman, "is filed under the act of last summer, which authorizes consolidation of interstate telephone utilities when the interstate commerce commission believes patrons of the companies will be benefited."

The petition shows that the Northwestern company owns a line extending from Corvallis through to Port Angeles, Wash. The Pacific company has idealistic lines, and the Northwestern company has no local plants in the larger cities and makes all of its connections through the Pacific company.

"Under a decree of the Federal court the Northwestern company has been forced to do business on the same rates and terms as the Pacific company. With no competitive advantage in rate making the company has stood still for several years. It has never been able to finance extensions."

"Through the activities of the Northwestern company the Pacific company has been kept decidedly progressive in its activities in the Northwest. The result is that the best long distance service in the country may be obtained in Oregon and Washington."

Mazamas Guests of Birthday Party in Y.W.C.A. Tea Room

Four Mazamas, including Richard W. Montague, president, were honored with a birthday party at the weekly luncheon of the club today at the Y. W. C. A. tea room. The event was in accordance with the custom of the Mazamas of having a birthday cake and special features, whenever the birthday of any of its members comes on Wednesday. This is the first time as many as four birthdays have been celebrated at one time. Besides Montague, W. P. Porman, Mrs. W. W. Evans and Mrs. Verne Ketchum were guests of honor.

Readjustment of Cannery Wages to Be Given Hearing

The second meeting of the cannery conference, called by the industrial welfare commission to revise wages paid in canneries throughout the state, will be held Thursday at 9:30 a. m. in the offices of the commission, 616-648 courthouse.

Various questions concerning piece rates and time rates on canning fruit, and sanitary conditions in berry fields, hopyards and fruit orchards will be considered preparatory to a new order to govern next season's operations.

All meetings of the conference are open to the public and women cannery workers have been especially invited.

Aberdeen, Wash., Feb. 8.—A telephone message from Moclips states that a 30-foot launch, with two men on board, has come ashore near that place. The men are signalling for help and the craft is likely to go to pieces in the breakers, the informant said. The name of the boat was not obtained.

Lincoln's Birthday No Holiday for City

Monday will not be a holiday for city employees. The council disapproved Commissioner Pier's suggestion that the day be set aside to commemorate the birth of Abraham Lincoln.

COLUMBIA WOODEN SHIP BUILDERS' CLAIMS SPEEDED

Washington, Feb. 8.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Tribulations of wooden shipbuilders and a new plan of settlement of all shipbuilding claims were the subject of discussion today at a conference in which Chairman Lasker and Commissioner Chamberlain of the shipping board and Senators McNary and Stanford participated, together with Chief Counsel Schlesinger and other legal advisers of the board.

Lasker announced that he is preparing a letter to President Harding proposing that congress be asked for legislation to vest exclusive jurisdiction over claims in the claims commission of which Judge Meals of Ohio is chairman, which has already heard many of the cases. After a telephone conversation with the president, Lasker said he believed this action will be taken.

Wooden shipbuilders who are here pleading for settlements were deeply discouraged by developments during the last few days, when it was learned that the shipping board had passed a resolution to vest exclusive jurisdiction over claims in the claims commission, headed by Admiral Palmer, which was to be given authority to make arbitrary settlements and thus unhorse the Meals commission.

Meals remains

Meals went to the White House prepared to present the resignations of himself and his colleagues, as they were unwilling to act as rubber stamps. The president persuaded Meals to remain and now comes the announcement that the Meals commission is not to be interfered with.

Nine wooden builders of the Columbia river are in a separate class, having in the stress of war, at the time provisions of the Macy wage scale were accepted, signed a release to the government. They say they were assured this was necessary, but that the government would make good with them when the time came for settlement.

RELEASE QUESTIONED

Local officials decided that this release should be set aside, but shipping board attorneys doubted that this could be done, although conceding the propriety of doing it.

Under the plan now virtually agreed upon, Schlesinger informed senators today that he believed that Columbia river builders can be included in the scope of claims to be passed on by the claims commission, divorced from the shipping board These include the claims of William Cornfoot and George L. Rodgers. Of those who built or prepared to build wooden ships on the Columbia, it is believed, I. K. Day, alone, has secured final settlement. Day was not among those who signed the release to the government, his work not having advanced to the point when he was required to sign.

Glenn R. Tier, director of the American Legion free employment agency, and Arthur W. Jones, director of the city's free employment agency, appeared before the county commissioners this morning and strenuously objected because the county roadmaster hadn't applied to the two free agencies for all the men who are employed in clearing the Columbia river highway.

The commissioners, after a discussion in which both sides became irritated, decided to leave the matter entirely in the hands of the roadmaster as to who he should apply to for workmen, with the inference, however, that the agencies would be given preference.

UP TO ROADMASTER

"Ninety per cent of all the unemployed in Portland are registered with our two bureaus," Tier declared.

This statement, coupled with Jones' explanation that the American Legion agency is as free to non-Legion ex-service men as it is to Legion men and that the city's agency is free to all men, served to clear the atmosphere and satisfy the commissioners, who had evidently felt that they were being forced into showing preference for certain classes. Chairman Rudeen directed, however, that the roadmaster retain the right to use his own judgment.

"I can't imagine anything more sad than this situation, where men who want to work can't find anything to do, no matter how menial," said Commissioner Holman.

HAS ELEMENT OF SADNESS

"There is a good deal of sadness about the spectacle," said Jones, "by the fact that many employers are taking advantage of the condition of the men to reduce wages to so low a figure that the men who do secure jobs can hardly live on the money they receive."

The county now has more than a hundred men working on the snow blockade east of Mist falls on the Columbia river. Most of these men come from the two free agencies, but a few unemployed ex-service men and men from the public welfare bureau were picked up by the roadmaster and commissioners from men who applied to them personally.

John G. Barratt To Participate in K. P. Annual Meet

John G. Barratt left Wednesday for Middletown, Ohio, to participate in the reunion and celebration of the fifty-ninth anniversary of the Knights of Pythias February 13. Mr. Barratt has been a member of the Knights of Pythias for over half a century, and is the only living charter member of the lodge at Middletown, Lafayette lodge No. 37. He will be a guest of the lodge, which forwarded all traveling expenses. A gold emblematic jewel will be presented to him by the lodge during the ceremonies and many old-time members will be present. Barratt resides in Portland with his son, W. J. Barratt at 531 Reynolds street. He probably will be gone three weeks.

BOARD TO REJECT GROWING CROPS AS PRIMARY SECURITY

Washington, Feb. 8.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—The position of the war finance corporation with reference to advances to a $5,000,000 corporation under organization by Dr. Charles J. Smith of Portland and particularly with reference to loans on growing crops, is stated in a letter from Eugene Meyer Jr., managing director of the war finance body, to McNary.

Growing crops cannot be accepted as principal security, it is stated, but exception will be made in individual cases to the general rule against such security when other endorsements are sufficient. The concluding part of Meyer's letter says:

"In view of the large capital to be paid in by the corporation proposed to be organized by Dr. Smith and the endorsement by bonds or other financial institutions of the Farmers' obligations offered as collateral security, the board is willing under the circumstances to except from the provisions of paragraph 3 of circular 27 applications on behalf of this corporation. You understand, of course, that every application is considered upon its own merits and while growing crops, under some circumstances, will be accepted as part security for an advance, it would be very unfortunate if Dr. Smith should go ahead with the completion
