

Famous Indian to Play With Beaver Club: English Promoter Makes Offer to Dempsey

Jim Thorpe Is Purchased By Beavers

JAMES THORPE, hailed as the greatest all-round athlete in the world and considered by no less a person than Glenn Warner, famous football gridiron star, as the greatest football player who ever lived, is a Portland Beaver.

The great Indian's outright purchase from the Toledo club of the American association was announced Thursday by President Klepper after negotiations had been carried on for a period of over two months.

IS HEAVY SLUGGER

Thorpe, who is a regular outfielder but can guard the initial sack in a clever manner, is a terrific hitter. When he first broke in big time baseball with the New York Giants in 1912, after his suspension by the Amateur Athletic Union, he was miserably weak on curve balls. Now, however, he has switched from a right-handed hitter to a portside batter, and he whales the tar out of the ball as his averages of the past several seasons will show.

Last year with the Toledo club Thorpe hung up an average of 300, with a batting line of .191 hits, which drove in 112 runs, which is quite a record. His hits totaled 270 bases, 26 doubles, 13 triples and nine homers being registered. He scored 29 runs and stole 34 bases. He secured 22 bases on balls and struck out the same number of times.

SPEED ON BASES

With the Akron club of the International league in 1920 he batted .260, making 128 hits for a total of 294 bases and in the previous season with the New York Giants he batted .237 in 82 games.

Thorpe is fast on the bases and while not an outfielder of high calibre, his hitting has always stamped him as one of the most dangerous men who ever stepped up to a plate.

Thorpe is no spring chicken, but he is still a wonderful athlete as his playing in professional football last season indicated. He was born in Oklahoma City in 1888 and first sprang into athletic prominence by his wonderful football playing at the Carlisle Indian school under W. W. He also starred on the Carlisle baseball, basketball and track teams.

WON OLYMPIC HONORS

In the Olympic games of 1912 he won the decathlon and pentathlon championships, winning four out of five events and finishing third in the other in the pentathlon. In the decathlon he hung up a percentage of 8,412.955. Thorpe played professional baseball under an assumed name in the Eastern Carolina league as far back as 1909, but his acts as professional were not discovered until after the Olympic games.

Thorpe remained with the Giants in 1913 and 1914. The two following seasons he played with the Jersey City, Hazletburg, and Milwaukee clubs. In 1915 he returned to the Giants and the season over, was turned over to the Boston Nationals.

HAVE SIX FIELDERS

Portland paid a very handsome price for his services, the exact amount not being made public. Thorpe played with the New York Giants when they toured the world with the White Sox a number of years ago, and in "Chub" Foster in the games which was played in Portland.

The addition of Thorpe gives the Portland club six experienced players for outfield duty and indications are that all of them will be carried. Work being retained for utility infielder as well as outfielder.

With the exception of Cox and Hale, all the fly chasers are left-handed hitters.

Oregon to Meet Aps On Mat Saturday

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Feb. 10.—Oregon's wrestling aggregation will invade the Aggie camp Saturday afternoon. First year boys crushers from both institutions will meet on the mat at the same time. Fulton is in line for the title for the Aggies. Because of injury to his knee in the last meet at Eugene, Hubbard is laid up, and "Chub" Foster is on the sick list—so just who will enter the 125 is still a matter of conjecture. Fish, Allen or Heston are on the line-up for 145; Coyner and Madson for 155, and Stinson or Avritt for the 175.

R. Spearow May Be Seen in Penn Meet

University of Oregon, Eugene, Feb. 10.—Bill Hayward, Oregon track coach, says Ralph Spearow, broad jumper, high jumper and pole vaulter, is the only Oregon man he could consider taking to the Penna relay meet in April. He reports he is still looking for material. Abbott, Weber and Walkley are also considered likely men.

Saturday class competition will determine the status of campus tracksters. Captains will be elected from the four classes and a general work-out held.

About Automobile Differentials

An understandable article and the understandable diagram printed for the exclusive purpose of explaining to the layman the working of the differentials of an automobile will be a feature of the automotive section of The Sunday Journal next Sunday. The article is prepared by the automotive experts at The Journal, who for the last 18 months has contributed most intelligent descriptions of the various units of a motor car.

Sport Gossip in Eastern Circles

(By United News)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—The American League schedule is an unromantic document, resembling a suburban timetable or the sliding scale of the typographical union.

But when read with expert understanding this 1922 program reveals much more than mere statistics. For instance, the schedule shows that the Yankees will have Babe Ruth back in the lineup for their first game on the home lot. The Yanks open the season on Thursday, Feb. 16, at Boston in a contest with the Browns, April 20, when Ruth's suspension will expire. On that day, therefore, with Babe and his fellow outfielders, Bob Meusel and Bill Fitterer back in the game, the Yanks may expect a holiday crowd big enough to pack the stadium.

Of course it is still possible that Judge Landis will reinstate Ruth before the expiration of his banishment.

Much more is apparent to the apparent reader. It tells that Connie Mack, the parsimonious pilot of the hopeless Athletics, has been given two rich engagements with the Yanks this season, the Memorial day game at the Polo Grounds and the fourth of July game in Philadelphia. It is said that in 1921 the Athletics were enriched to the figure of $50,000 by holiday engagements with the Yanks, who are always good for a full house on a holiday.

For the first time since Babe Ruth began absorbing all the glory of the Yanks there has come an actual war from a fellow member of the team, Chick Fowler, the Yanks' chief outfielder, visiting the Washington meeting of the magnates, complained that the club pays Ruth so much that other players have trouble obtaining the salary they desire. Fowler is the lad who knocked a homer in the last year's world series while substituting for Ruth. He hasn't scored up yet, being dissatisfied with the price offered.

The malignant epidemic of holdout complaint which has swept through the ranks of the Athletics has caused the postponement of their training for one week, from February 16 to February 23.

The return of Johnny Buff from England—on his way home without putting on a glove over there, indicative to people who know the boxing game on both sides of the water that the English fans are awaiting something about champions. Buff was the first to go after easy change over there. However, he didn't want to risk his title in a regular fight with the British. The result was that he got no matches at all. Johnny Kilbane and Johnny Wilson, two other non-fighting champions, are planning trips to London in the expectation of taking the Britons for easy money. Kilbane candidly says he won't fight and Wilson, with almost equal candor, admits he can't fight—much.

BASEBALL

The B'nai B'rith Intermediates walloped the Arleta Athletic club first team, 19 to 12, in the 12th gymnasium, Kelen tenth and Mill streets, Wednesday night. The first half ended 7 to 4, with Arleta in the lead. The guarding of "Butch" Rosenburg and Captain Butte featured for the winners. Surber, Nemiro and Gunther made the points which defeated Arleta, while Kolkana was the big star for the losers. In going out of their class and defeating such a strong team, Coach Jack Routledge and his Intermediates are highly satisfied over the showing, and they are willing to meet all comers.

Ridgefield, Wash., Feb. 10.—The Ridgefield All-Stars will go to Kelso tonight to oppose the Kelso Methodist-Episcopal hoopers for a return game. Kelso defeated the locals, 27 to 17, here two weeks ago. Those making the trip from here will be: Shobert, Dittmer, Scotton, Hemminger, Cart, Sutton, Soler and Custard.

The Tillamook and Medford high school basketball teams will be brought to Portland by the Hill Military academy. Tillamook is scheduled to play the locals in the academy's gymnasium at Twenty-fifth and Northrup streets, Saturday night, and on Monday night Medford high will form the opposition. All teams are members of the Oregon State High School association, but the outcome of the contests will not have any bearing on the championship, as the squads are in separate districts, and the matches are more for the idea of promoting basketball here rather than to settle titles.

COTUARDS TO WRESTLE VAIDALS Washington State College, Pullman, Wash., Feb. 10.—The Cougar wrestling team will participate in its first tourney of the season here tonight against the University of Idaho representatives.

Ben Leonard Big Favorite Over Kansas

(By Damon Enayon) (Copyright, 1922, United News Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Tonight Benny Leonard, the sleek looking lad from the Bronx, defends his title of lightweight champion of the world against Rocky Kansas—well called rocky—of Buffalo.

Leonard, on form, should be a 1 to 10 shot.

He may not stop Kansas, but he ought to win on points by as far as from here to Niagara Falls.

It is the skilled mechanic against the laborious Kansas rugged toiler in the pugilistic pits meets a first grade artist. A backward, old-fashioned manner, the man from Buffalo steps into the Queensberry parlor to encounter a suave chap, polished with the refinement of fistic knowledge and gifted above ordinary mortals with ring style and class.

HAS THE CLASS

In all fields of athletic endeavor, class generally tells. Leonard has the class. Clever, cool, courteous, experienced, far above the Buffalo boy in the Queensberry classification.

He is the better fighter. He is ready. His right name is Ben Leonard. The result seems almost a foregone conclusion.

It is possible, of course, for Kansas to win.

It was possible for Georges Carpentier to win at Jersey City last summer.

Any time a fighter crawls into the ring it is possible for him to win against any other man in the world.

But in the case of Kansas, as in Carpentier's case, the element of position seems quite remote. His victory would appear a pugilistic miracle.

ERNE SHOWED HIM

Kansas is a blocky, rough, tough Italian. His right name is Ernest Teres. Why they ever changed this picturesque cognomen for Rocky Kansas, we do not know. His people came from Sicily.

Rocky got his first ring training from Frank Erna, once the champion lightweight and one of the greatest boxers of the ring. He is stout, stocky and stout of heart, an eager, earnest doer in the ring, but still lacking the sparkle that is Leonard's inheritance and which Leonard is probably not as good as he was a couple of years ago.

In fact, there is quite an element of mystery as to his real ability, especially a 135 pounder. Kansas' main chance is the possibility of the champion having gone farther back than anyone suspects.

Big Amateur Ring Card to Be Staged Tonight in Armory

WRESTLERS who meet in the special events on tonight's inter-club amateur boxing smoker in the Armory will be in there with more than the idea to win. He is stout, stocky and stout of heart, an eager, earnest doer in the ring, but still lacking the sparkle that is Leonard's inheritance and which Leonard is probably not as good as he was a couple of years ago.

Crack 'Y' Quintet To Play Multnomah Hoopers Saturday

44 F BASKETBALL fans who saw the University of Idaho team in action against two weeks ago figure they saw a fast combination, said J. Raymond Toomey, manager of the Multnomah Amateur Athletic club, when he held the February 24 card that "they had better turn out for next Saturday's game in the Winged 'M' gymnasium." The Walla Walla "Men's" Christian Association will form the opposition, and it is reported that the visitors make up the fastest and strongest quintet on the Pacific coast.

Youngster Wins Third Prize in Big Dog Derby

(By United News)

Winnipeg, Man., Feb. 10.—Eddie Jerome, 12, drove a nondescript team composed of a pointer, a setter and three collies into town for third prize in the annual dog derby over a 2 1/2-mile course.

The boy used a home-made sled behind his odd assortment of dogs, but spite of it all he beat over a number of crack teams of veteran racing dogs and flea sleds.

He was disappointed to find two others ahead of him, but he took his $20 prize money and bought a racing sled and he claims this is the last time he will ever be beaten.

New Mat Rules Give Fans Treat; Beeson Takes Main Bout

THE new White rules governing wrestling matches proved satisfactory in Thursday night's mat tourney in the Labor temple. In fact, the rules made the card, for the grapplers were forced to extend themselves throughout the entire call for rounds, rather than long-drawn-out affairs to a fall.

"Trolley" Beeson can enter the "I-Told-You-So" front row, too, "Trolley" lost the first fall to "Moose" Norbeck in 3 minutes and 25 seconds, but he came back, as he predicted, and threw his big opponent in 3 minutes and 50 seconds, and the last time in 40 seconds.

The Beeson-Norbeck affair was billed as the main event, but the best bout of the evening was the Bill Lux-Paul Kenny engagement. These two middleweights went at each other from song to song. Oscar Butler was to have met Lux, but he was taken ill and Kenny agreed to take Butler's place.

The lone fall of the Lux-Kenny match came in the third 15-minute round, when Lux picked up Kenny in mid-air until Paul saw the spectators minked at the ring, and just as it looked to him that the roof was about to meet the floor he dropped dizzily to the mat. Before he could get up he was in a trice being picked up, and not taking part in some trick airplane stunts, Kenny found himself tied in a knot and he had to give up.

Lux was the first to do anything in the round previous, but he dropped Kenny before the full effects of the swinging had made him unconscious. At any rate, the fans were given a thrill and they enjoyed it immensely. Lux was given the decision by virtue of scoring the one fall.

In the preliminaries John Videhoff won on aggressiveness over Jimmy Anderson, and Red Nutting won the decision over Jack Larry, neither winner being able to secure a fall. Promoter Ad Gasek refereed the two main bouts, with F. T. Merrill and M. C. Hill as the timekeepers.

EMPIRE GETS CONTRACTS

San Francisco, Feb. 10.—William McCarthy, president of the Coast league, has forwarded contracts to the following umpires: Pearl Casey, Jimmy Tomana, Jack Heardon, Edward Finney, William J. Byron, H. H. McGrew, Mal Eason and Jack Carroll. Jack Phyle resigned his position last fall and no contract has been offered Jack a roster.

Syracuse has scheduled 15 games for its Lacrosse players this year.

England Bidding For J. Dempsey to Meet Carpenter

(By Fairplay) (Copyright, 1922, By The Journal)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Word went about Broadway haunts today that a definite offer had been received from an English syndicate of $200,000 for a Dempsey-Carpenter fight. Insiders knew it was coming, and while Kearns is close-mouthed, he has been keeping close to the cable for the past 24 hours. This sum is equal to that which William A. Brady has offered for a Dempsey-Willis fight in England, but Kearns, for obvious reasons, prefers Carpenter.

Kearns, by the way, is greatly interested in the crack Philadelphia lightweight, Jimmy Duffy, who it was said today, will be matched to fight Lew Tendler, the fast Philadelphia southpaw, at the Madison Square Garden on February 24. Tendler's last New York performance was satisfactory neither to himself nor his friends. Joe Benjamin of San Francisco will have another try for fame that night, having been matched to meet Clonie Tait of Canada.

Rickard is not thinking much about the heavyweight title just now, but he is greatly interested in the light-heavyweight situation. Now that he has Harry Greb and Tommy Gibbons hooked up for the middle of March, he says that this battle will lead to a meeting between Gene Tunney, present holder of the title, and the winner of the Greb-Gibbons setto.

Greb and Gibbons, by the way, met at Dempsey's training quarters at Atlantic City last spring. Harry smiled in recognition, but Tommy's eyes shifted elsewhere.

"Guess he's forgotten me," smiled Greb, "although I don't see why, since I beat him six months ago in the ring."

Babe Herman of the West coast and Pepper Martin of the South are two other contenders for the title. The latter, Tex Rickard is compiling. It should be a great Jack Kearns night.

Hatchet Is Buried Colonsels at Peace

(By Universal Service)

NEW YORK, Feb. 10.—Peace between Ben Johnson, president of the American League, and Colonel T. L. Huston, part owner of the New York Yanks, was one of the results of the scheduled meeting of the league held in Washington, earlier today. The meeting was held in the New York Yanks, who returned here Thursday. Colonel Huston remained in Washington. He was said to be in Ben Johnson's company when the New York delegation left the capital city.

Harry Frasse, owner of the Boston Red Sox, was not included in the peace circle.

Nor was Colonel Jake Ruppert, Huston's partner, on the ownership of the Yanks, but Ruppert was never as hotly involved against Johnson as were his associates.

The break in the American league came during the 1919 season when President Johnson suspended Carl Mays for jumping the Boston team.

Rose City Golfers Organize; Work on Links Starts Soon

ORGANIZATION of the Rose City Golf club was perfected at an enthusiastic meeting of over 125 golfers at the Rose City clubhouse Thursday night.

After the adoption of by-laws and the setting of an initiation fee and the yearly dues, the golfers elected a board of directors of seven members, from which officers of the club will be elected. The initiation fee was set at $2.50 and the yearly dues at $10, payable January 1 and July 1.

The club members elected as directors were: G. S. Hemphill, Robert E. Smith, H. J. Jaeger, A. C. Dayton, A. H. Gould, H. L. George and H. L. White. The board meeting will be held next week.

The members accepted the plan of a course designed by George Otten. Work on the installation of the permanent course will be started in the very near future. Considerable clearance work on the property has been done already. It is hoped to have the course ready for play by the middle of April.

FINALS NEAR IN HOOP RACE

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, Feb. 10.—A silver loving cup has been offered by a local cloth store to the winner of inter-departmental basketball. Civil engineers won from the foresters last week by a score of 15 to 11. The agriculturalists defeated the electricals 22 to 12, and the mechanicals won from the miners. The final games will be played off next week.

BASKETBALL

THE Jewish Boys Athletic club basketball team defeated the Franklin high school team 23 to 7 in the Neighborhood house gymnasium Thursday night. Rodinsky, Sax and Cashman were the stars for the winners, while Pope was the individual feature of the Franklin play.

The lineup:

J. B. A. C. Position Franklin
Unkleles (4) Ives
Rodinsky (12) Curry
Shokoff (4) Pope
Sax (4) Rodinsky
Cashman (8) Levitt
Levitt (2) Sax
Rosenburg
Referee—Levin.

Oregon City, Feb. 10.—The Oregon City Athletic club-Canby, Or., basketball game here tonight promises to furnish plenty of thrills. The locals have not been defeated so far this year and they are out to keep the old state clean. Oregon City hereby challenges any independent quintet of Portland.

Coach Maurice ("Clipper") Smith will take eight Columbia university hoopers to Ridgefield, Wash., for a game with the high schoolers of that place tonight. The collegians have not been defeated as yet by a high school combination. Games are on the schedule with Astoria, St. Helens and Rainier, all of Section 9 of the Oregon State High School association.

An interpretation of one of the eligibility rules as pertaining to an athlete in the Portland Public High School league will be sought by Dr. W. A. Fenstermacher, coach of the Washington high school squad. Coach Fenstermacher protested the playing of Cliff Scallion of Franklin high on the ground that the star was not a student at the school for two weeks prior to the Washington Franklin engagement which Washington lost. Scallion entered the institution at the beginning of the present term and the game occurred two days following the opening. Now Coach Fenstermacher is said to want to know definitely whether or not a new student is eligible to compete before the required two weeks have transpired. The board of directors of the circuit will settle the matter.

Benjamin Is Ill With the 'Flu'; Bout Cancelled

Joe Benjamin, Portland lightweight, is ill with influenza in New York, according to a message received here Friday from Jack Kearns by Willie Bernstein.

Benjamin's illness has caused the Portland boxing commission to halt negotiations for Benjamin in four rounds in the local ring until sometime in March.

Benjamin's illness has caused Kearns to cancel two engagements in New York.

BOXING

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 10.—(U. P.)—Frank Farmer, the veteran heavyweight, proved last night that he is still of some use in the ring by battling Floyd Johnson of San Francisco to a six-round draw.

Lackey Morrow of Spokane and Frankie Britt, Tacoma, boxed an uninteresting six-round draw in the semi-windup.

Kid Johnson, Olympia lightweight, will make the trip to Corvallis for a two-game basketball series with the Aggies Friday and Saturday.

Little or no hope is expressed in the local camp that a victory will be won but a hard fight is expected.
