

3 DRUG PEDDLERS ARE FOUND GUILTY

So Hoo, Chin Chung and Joe Wa Lee were found guilty on two counts, violation of the Harrison narcotic act and of the opium act, by a federal court jury Wednesday afternoon.

The Chinamen were arrested after delivering Sunday to James Brown, federal narcotic agent, across the street from the police station, 73 ounces of narcotics in 10 cans, valued at $62.75, according to the testimony of Brown.

Sentences will be pronounced Monday morning. Lee Hing, Chinese drug peddler and addict, who attracted notoriety in federal court by trying to eat up the evidence, and who was convicted, was sentenced Wednesday by Judge Bean to 18 months at McNeil Island. While some sympathy was accorded Hing because of his being, himself, an addict, Judge Bean in pronouncing sentences said he saw no way of protecting society except through the confinement of a narcotic peddler, even if he were an addict.

Gov. Hart Declines Comment on Word Pen Head to Quit

Walla Walla, Wash., March 2.—Governor Louis F. Hart, Wednesday with a party of state officials, returned from a tour of inspection of the state institutions, would say nothing concerning the report current here that Warden W. G. Fotts would resign his position as head of the state penitentiary. Fotts also refused to discuss the subject.

C. Frank Vollendorff, state clerk at the penitentiary for eight and a half years, Wednesday turned over his books to Thomas F. Rogers of Walla Walla, recently appointed to succeed Vollendorff by Governor Hart. Vollendorff was appointed during the late Governor Lester's administration and served the most of the time under former Warden Henry Drum. He has announced that he will make his home here.

Missing Cashier Accused of Taking Money From Bank

Fendleton, March 2.—Earl S. Rowe, former cashier of the Bank of Free-water, backed by the fruit growers of that district, took with him $10,000 of the bank's money, in addition to $4000 which he owed the bank on a loan, according to the allegations in a complaint filed Wednesday by S. Eaton, who said the notes Rowe gave the bank had been assigned to him.

Rowe, who was formerly connected with a loan company in Spokane, disappeared early in February. No trace of the young man has been found since, except that an automobile said to have belonged to him was found deserted in between Walla Walla and Wallula a few days after his disappearance.

Lou Hodgen, Banker, Wheat Grower, Dies Of Heart Trouble

Walla Walla, Wash., March 2.—Lou Hodgen, 51 years old, prominent wheat farmer and bank director of Athena, Or., dropped dead on the street here late Wednesday afternoon of heart trouble. He was one of the most prominent men in Northwestern Oregon. He was a member of the Oregon state legislature four years ago, and while a director on the Athena State bank was actively engaged in the operation of his 1400-acre ranch near Athena.

He was born and raised near Umpqua, Or., and is survived by his wife, three daughters, Helen, Ethel and Phyllis; two sons, James and Alton; two sisters, Mrs. N. B. Atkinson of Olympia, and Mrs. John Freese of Wallburg, and three brothers, William, Hodgen of Freewater and Fred and Orlando Hodgen of Umpqua.

Verdict Given in Favor of Physician

Fendleton, March 2.—On the first ballot taken, a verdict for the defendant, Dr. Frank L. Boyden of this city, was voted Wednesday by the jury which had heard the case against the Fendleton physician, brought by Charles and Lella White, who alleged that Dr. Boyden had damaged the health of Mrs. White by a Caesarian operation performed in 1920. Damages of $25,000 were asked. It developed at the trial, at which a number of Portland physicians testified, that the operation had not caused the death of the child in 1920 and that since that time two other children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. White.

Clothes to Match New Automobile

"Good morning, Mrs. Brown. I hear you folks got a lovely new automobile last week." "Yes, we did, and I want you to see it and take a trip with us as soon as husband and I learn to run it. You know we saw it at the automobile show last week and we just couldn't get away from it; so John finally decided we had gone without a car long enough, so we got this beautiful one. But you know, Mrs. Jones, what that splendid new car my old clothes look so shabby by contrast. We paid so much for the car I don't feel that I can buy a lot of new clothes now and I don't know what to do."

"Let me tell you how to solve your problems. Go down to 349 Morrison and buy some pretty new clothes at Cherry's. You can get what you like by paying a very small amount down and by making small payments each month, you really won't miss the money."

Cherry's have the entire second floor at Park and Morrison, center of block. Take elevator.—Adv.

GET-RICH QUICK WALLINGFORD

Man Charged With Attack Acquitted

Astoria, March 2.—Not guilty was the verdict brought after 20 minutes' deliberation Wednesday by the jury trying E. Nicodemus, charged with assault with a dangerous weapon. The case was the second trial of Nicodemus on an indictment growing out of the serious shooting of John Janson at a ranch on Clatsop plains last November, when Nicodemus and three other men are alleged to have gone to the Martin Costello ranch ostensibly to steal a cache of liquor. Two of the men are serving terms in the penitentiary and the fourth was acquitted.

O. A. C. Graduate Was On Ill-Fated Roma

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, March 2.—Sergeant Lee Harris of Vale, a graduate of O. A. C., was a member of the crew of the dirigible Roma. Harris was cited for bravery and distinguished service a few weeks ago for averting an accident to the same dirigible which caused his death. He was in line for a commission, according to the report. He will be buried in Arlington cemetery, in Virginia.

Morris, 22, and Clara R. Giese, 20, Portland.

CONTRACTS LET ON MOUNT HOOD LOOP

Salem, March 2.—Contracts for the grading of the last two remaining units of the Mount Hood loop highway from the Multnomah county line through Clackamas county, the National Forest reserve and Hood River county to Hood River, a distance of 27 miles, were awarded by the state highway commission Wednesday on bids submitted at the meeting in Portland on February 21. Contract for the grading of the Hood River-Booth Hill section of the Mount Hood loop highway in Hood River county, 8.1 miles, is awarded to E. A. Webster & Co. on its bid of $126,242.50.

Contract for the grading of 12.1 miles of the Booth Hill forest boundary section of the Mount Hood loop highway is awarded to the Johnson Contract company on its bid of $74,121.

The awards have been approved by the county court of Hood River county, which is cooperating with the state highway department to the extent of 50 per cent of the cost.

Amateur Yeggs Fail In Attempt on Safe

After they knocked off the combination and jammed the handle, amateur sledgehammer yeggs were frustrated Wednesday morning in an attempt to open a cabinet safe at the Willamette Fuel & Supply company, Thirteenth and Pattycroft streets. G. N. West, proprietor, found the safe had been tampered with, and called police, who declared it was doubtlessly the work of amateurs. Entrance was gained by smashing a rear window. Nothing was taken except a few supplies from the office.
