are made by the Log Cabin Baking Co. at its great modern bakery—the largest in the Northwest—at Vancouver avenue and Ivy street.

In their manufacture, only the best grades of flour, pure lard, and PLENTY of milk are used. These are scientifically blended and then baked to a degree of perfection in large, automatic traveling ovens. Then they are wrapped in crisp, waxed paper to insure their freshness and purity. In the entire course of their manufacture these wonderfully delicious breads are scarcely touched by human hands. They offer the utmost in genuine goodness and health-giving qualities. BETTER BREADS ARE NOT MADE.

If you want the BIG SPLIT DOUBLE LOAF, ask for American Maid in the large family size. .
