pianist, tells interestingly of the musical activities of his country, which, it develope, is making wonderful advancement in the domain of musical art.

Finland, one of the new republics of Europe, has a population of about 3,500,-600, and among this number has arisen a list of composers of such magnitude that the musical world is now looking toward the mystic land of the thousand lakes with keen expectation.

"Sibelius," said Mr. Palmgren, who is here to appear in joint recital tonight at Pythian temple with Maikki Jaernefelt, soprano, known as the greatest prima donna Finland ever produced," "is the leader of the Finnish school of music; he is the first incarnation of the Finnish musical soul. His symphonic works are well known throughout the world and his style is familiar. Then we have Melartin, a very fine composer, who has written five symphonies. He is a modernisi, and his work shows a slight influ-ence of the French atmosphere. He has also written an opera, "Aino," based on the Finnish legend "Kalevala."

"Merikanto is a well known Finnish composer of simple, beautiful songs, very melodious. He is of the older school and is head of the national opera.

"One of the most promising of the young Finnish composers was Kuula, of whose songs we include one on our pro-gram for tonight. Only 35, he had al-ready written a number of big things, and he was a very talented orchestra conductor. His fate was tragic, for he was murdered during the revolution. Two officers shot him. One of them later was shot or shot himself and the Over C. White other's dead body was found in the river. "The tendency of the Finnish composers is toward modernism, but not ex

MISS MICHAELSON IN RECITAL An interested and discriminating audience attended the first of a series of Beethoven program biano recitals given Friday night by Miss Henrietta Michaelson at the Art museum. She played three sonatas of the middle period of the composer's activities, including the familiar Waldstein sonata. Miss Michaelson is a powerful planist, who can also play with fine grace, and her presentations therefore, are indeed interest compelling. The other recitals of the series will be on March 31 and April 7.

The meeting was called by E. L. French, state director of agriculture, to consider recommendations made by two grain experts of Kansas to Henry C.

The report of the investigators showed that 11 per cent of the club raised tested 60 pounds and that 68 per cent of it tested 58 pounds to the bushel. The growers also asked that the grades of wheat take the same differentials upwards that club wheat takes down-

Woman Ends Life by Jumping Into River; Ill Health Is Cause

Goodspeed, an old-time residence of Tiliamoek, committed suicide sometime between midnight and 7 o'clock Friday morning by jumping into the Trask river from the bridge on the outskirts of this city. She was last seen by her daughter Retta about midnight lying on her bed with her clothes on. When her daughter want to her room to arouse ber for breakfast she was missing, and an aiarm was given. Searching parties went out in all directions from the city, and early in the afternoon Mrs. Goodspeed's body was found by Bert Thayer floating in Hoquarton slough, about one hundred pards below the old mouth of the Trask river. Mrs. Goodspeed had been in poor health and subject to fits of deepondency. She is survived by a son, Egbert Goodspeed, and by two daughters, Mrs. Leeland Irwin and Miss Retta Goodspeed, all of Tillamook.
