ULSTER BORDER VIOLENCE GROWS

Belfast, March 21.—(I. N. S.)—Another are of violence rolled along the Ulster ontier today. Armed Orangemen and Feiners clashed at numerous points. Raiders attacked Glengreen Lodge, County Donegal, but the owner, John Allingham, a Unionist leader, and his tenants, stood off the attackers.

A special constable was killed in tash with Republicans. A wave of incendiarism has swept

DEMOCRATS PROPOSE TO RECOMMIT FOUR-PARTY PACT By J. Bart Campbell

Washington, March 21.-(L. N. S.)ove to recommit the four-power Pacific treaty to the senate foreign relations ommittee was planned today by its emocratic opponents for the purpose of empelling the appearance of Secretar lughes, Elihu Root, Paul D. Cravath, the new York lawyer, and others who have figured in charges of secret negotations involving the pact before the ommittee.

The move was expected to come in the form of a motion by Senator Shields. Democrat of Tennessee, a member of would insist upon all the circumstances surrounding the making of the treaty being fully "aired" by the testimony of those he held responsible for it.

DEFEAT ALMOST CERTAIN As a majority vote would be required for the adoption of the proposed Shields motion, Democratic senators conceded would probably be "lost," but they declared that they would be satisfled if they succeeded in placing their Republican opponents on record as voting down efforts to secure "pitiless publicity" for the secrecy which they charged enveloped the four-power pact. Senator Borah of Idaho, Republican "irreconcilable." was also prepared to hallenge a denial by Cravath that Borah had quoted him correctly as stating that there was a secret understand-ing between the United States and Great Britain to hold Japan in check with Anglo-American fleets in the Pacific. BORAH IRE AROUSED

Cravath's statement that Borah's harge was "pure romance" was understood to have aroused the ire of the Idaho senator to such an extent that expense and temptation that involves an he was prepared to quote further from the address he accused Cravath of de livering before a gathering last month at the Hotel Astor. Matron to Make Luxurious Home Modiste's Shop

San Francisco, March 21 .- (I. N S.)—San Francisco society was agos with a new sensation today. Mrs. John Spring, wife of a milety's most popular matrons, has opened a dressmaking shop. ciety friends, Mrs. Spring sent word that she would use her residence one of the handsomest in the city, for a shop in order "to reduce the overhead to a minimum," so that she could devote her time to "standardizing the price and reducing the cost of fashionable dresses to less than one half of the prevailing prices."

and Great Britain in the four-power treaty as made by Paul D. Cravath, for the Morgans and other lords of international finance, to a seect group of Wall street representatives in the council of foreign relations in New York and read Monday in the senate by Senator Borah:

"Cravath-Now in my mind a important part of the achievements of the Washington conference is not recorded at all in black and white in that negotiated. And that is the bringing about of what seems to be a sympathetic understanding between the States and Great Britain regarding the Far East and Pacific questions generally. I quite agree that under the program produced by those treaties we have practically surrendered our naval position in the Pacific. I assume that upon, we could not successfully compete with Japan in the Pacific alone and certainly we could not compete with ar Anglo-Japanese fleet in that region. LARGE ENOUGH TO DOMINATE

"On the other hand, and to my mind this is the much more encouraging state ment based on the safe fact, an Anglo American fleet in the Pacific would dom we have substituted in place of the necessity for creating the greatest fleet the world has ever seen, with all the understanding and basis for cooperapowers the control of a combined fleet the Pacific which will be large enough to dominate Japan and make her live up under secretary of state)-"I want to know if you are making that statement as a fact, or is it just your opinion of what would happen?"

THEY TOLD HIM SO Cravath-"I have been told by every mber of the American delegation, and while I haven't been told by every memer of the British delegation, I know definitely that the view is held by Mr. Balfour and I think by every other memer of the British delegation that the result of the conference has not been a formal agreement, by any means, but an understanding and such a degree of inderstanding and such a basis of sympathy has been created between Great Britain and the United States that both ides assumed that in all future emergencies they can both count on having the very closest cooperation.

Davis-"No, that isn't what I mean. What I mean is as to the agreement on fortifications and the agreement as to the naval ratio. Do you mean to say that both fleets would dominate the Japanese fleet?"

pendent knowledge of that. I am not a naval expert, and have no independent opinion on that point, but I am informed that our technical advisers are satisfied that if the United States and Great Britain are on one side and Japan on the other, the Anglo-American fleet and the entire Anglo-American naval position would dominate that of Japan in Japanese waters. As I say, I have no independent opinion of my own on that. HE SIMPLY REPEATS

"I am simply repeating that which I have been told in Washington. But in all events we are very much better off -if I am right in assuming that undering sympathy with Great Britainthan we would have been with as large a fleet as the one we had in contembeing opposed with the largest fleet that Japan would find herself physically able to build, and Great Britain being bound as a matter of course to keep pace with both. So, assuming that our theory of Anglo-American cooperation is well grounded, it does seem to me that our naval position as against Japan has been mproved rather than weakened, and we have the great advantage in the reuction of our naval program and all that means, financially and otherwise."

Defects in Title To Steel Shipyard Are Said to Exist

Vancouver, Wash., March 21.-The title to the site occupied by the steel shippard was brought before the council Monday night by Councilman Enright, who said matters in connection with it should be investigated without delay. He asserted that the lease clause had been changed to a deed for 30 years and that other doubtful points are contained in the title.

City Attorney Bates said he was willing to investigate the abstract, but it s not an affair of the city, as title to the tract is held by the port commission and the city could take no action if irregularities were found to exist. A de-cision was reached to bring all interests together at the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce for the purpose of clearing up doubtful points in the

San Francisco 'Wets' Are Going to Polls

San Francisco, March 21.—(I. N. S.)— San Francisco voters will be called upon at the November election to determine whether they desire a modification of the Volstead act. Requested by the Order of Camels and other "wet" organizations to memorialize congress for the restoration of light wines and beer, the city board of supervisors decided to "pass the buck" to the people and ordered steps taken to put the question on the ballot.

Japan Begins to Scrap War Vessels

(Special Cable to The Journal and the Chicage Daily News) (Copyright, 1922) Tokio, March 21.—Japan began th work of scrapping a portion of her navy today, in accordance with the naval treaty adopted at the Washington con ference. The doomed vessels are the destroyers Asagird, Murasame, Asashio and Shirakumo, veterans of the fighting at Port Arthur. They will be used as targets by the Kure and Sasebo navy de

EDUCATIONAL

Our unique plan of teaching you shorthand at home is proving very popular with those who have only a limited amount of time and money. You take your shorthand instruction like your "music lesson," by appointment, at your noon hour or in the evening after work, and by the aid of our especially prepared lesson practice at lionse. Many of our students take letter dictation after 2 weeks of instruction. We have day and night school also, and teach typing. English and spelling. Write, phone or call for information on our low-price, easy-payment plan.
