

MORE THAN 1000 MEN EXPECTED AT CRUSADE TONIGHT

More than 1000 men from the Methodist churches of Portland are expected to attend the service tonight at the United Gospel Crusade tabernacle, East Third and Irving streets. Tonight is known as "men of the church night." The service begins at 7:30 o'clock.

Wednesday night was women's Bible class night. About 1000 Bible class women attended. The men are making efforts today to outnumber the women. Centenary-Wilbur Methodist church has promised to march 200 men down the aisle of the tabernacle tonight, and Sunday Methodist church leaders say they will outnumber the Centenary-Wilbur crowd.

Dr. George Wood Anderson, the crusader, has not announced his text, but says he will give a sermon of special interest to men. The service is open to the general public.

Friday afternoon the Ladies' Aid societies will be special guests at the tabernacle service, while Friday night will be young people's night.

PARADE FRIDAY NIGHT

The business young people will gather at the Y. W. C. A. social hall Friday at 6 p. m. for supper, at which time the evangelist will speak and Walter St. Jenkins and Ector D. Ackley will furnish special music. The members of the Epworth League will meet 20 minutes later at the First Methodist church, with automobiles and pennants, and parade through the principal streets of the city. The line of march will be past the Y. W. C. A., where they will be joined by the young people attending the supper. The parade will terminate at the tabernacle, where the young people will occupy a reserved section.

CHURCH LOSING CHILDREN

Dr. Anderson told the audience that 25 per cent of the children in Protestant Sunday schools are "slipping through our fingers," much as the coin slipped through the fingers of the Bible character. He declared that they could not be returned to the church unless the church got out a broom, stirred up the dirt of the world and searched diligently for them.

He also censured those who criticized hypothetical church people in front of their own children, stating that such words tended to dampen the ardor of the youth for the church. He also urged the audience not to criticize the minister's sermon before their children.

It's Small Now, But—

Hole in pavement at West Park and Alder streets, capable of bumping automobile tire, automobile and occupants rudely.

Great oaks from little acorns grow, according to the poet, and likewise little holes in street pavement develop into extensive depressions that make the motorist shiver. One hole in city pavement at the intersection of West Park and Alder streets now about twice as large as a baker's apple pie never fails stating that too many children are being given "roast preaching" for their Sunday dinner.

Preceding the sermon Bishop W. O. Shepard said he had been informed by the Rev. N. M. Jones, superintendent of the Spokane district, that the churches of Spokane would feel the effect of the Anderson meetings for years to come. Dr. Anderson recently closed a campaign there. The letter stated that the attendance at prayer meetings had been increased as high as 300 per cent, and that many converts had been taken into the churches.

BEND FOR ABANDONMENT

Bend, April 6.—Sentiment here seems to be in favor of the abandonment of not only the section of O-W. track near North Junction, but all the way to the Columbia. R. S. Hamilton of Bend, member of the State Chamber of Commerce executive board, stated Wednesday that that would be his stand on the question

BUSINESS MEN OF VALLEY FLEECE

W. T. Dozier, alias J. R. Barnes, alias A. E. Nolan, who is said to have fleeced Willamette valley merchants out of hundreds of dollars in a fake rug scheme, was arrested Wednesday by E. C. Clement, United States postal inspector, and lodged in the Multnomah county jail. He is charged with using the mails to promote a fraud.

According to evidence in the hands of John Veatch, assistant United States Attorney, Dozier is alleged to have obtained the position of Oregon agent for the Philadelphia Rug company, after making fraudulent representations. He applied for the position July 24, 1921.

After receiving samples and order blanks he is said to have visited cities in the valley, taking large rug orders. Following receipt of the order he is said to have requested a 10 per cent deposit, claiming that this being a new house and the first order to be placed with it a small deposit was customary. The deposits were obtained, in some cases the checks being made out to Dozier personally. In other cases where the checks were made out to the rug company, Dozier is said to have forged the name of the payee. None of the checks or orders was sent to Philadelphia, Veatch said.

When the orders were not filled the valley merchants complained to the rug company, resulting in the investigation which has been going on for many weeks. Clement had difficulty in locating Dozier, as he jumped quickly from one town to another. He is said to have received from $10 up at each store where he placed an order, the amount depending upon the size of the order.

Owing to the illness of United States Commissioner Fraser, the defendant was taken before District Judge Martin Hawkins, acting commissioner, for a hearing Wednesday afternoon. He waived his rights to a preliminary examination and was held to answer to the federal grand jury under $2500 bonds. In default of bonds Dozier is in the county jail.

Mrs. Joseph Mount Convalescing From Illness at Denver

Advice was received Wednesday by officials of the O-W. R. & N. that Mrs. Joseph W. Mount, wife of the late assistant general passenger agent of the railroad, was recovering from illness at the Meroy hospital at Denver, Colo., today. Mrs. Mount gave birth to a child, which died Tuesday.

Mount died after an attack of pneumonia last week. Although ill herself, Mrs. Mount insisted upon going to the funeral at Denver. The O-W. R. & N. sent her to Denver in a private car with a nurse in attendance. The local officials have been advised that Mrs. Mount will recover from her illness.

POSTMASTER TO RETIRE

Baker, April 6.—W. S. Bowers, recommended by Senator N. J. Sinnott for postmaster here, will succeed George Foster, who has held the position for nine years, the longest service of any man in that capacity. Foster's term expired last April.
