Two Weddings to Be Events Today

By Helen Hutchinson

THIS social calendar for Easter Monday registers full program, two important events of which are anniversaries of unusual social interest in the city. The annual Easter tea at the Old People's home (Bandy boulevard) assembled a large number of Portland women, who are interested in the home and call each year on this occasion, and there are several dances planned for this evening.

The marriage of Miss Louis Bracson and Mr. Alexander Morrison was solemnized this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in Trinity Episcopal church. The church was filled with the lovely lilies and other blossoms which were used in the church for the Easter services, and the setting was unusually beautiful for a marriage service. Dr. A. A. Morrison, father of the bridegroom, read the service in the presence of the families of the bridal couple, who assembled at the church following the ceremony. The bride was smartly costumed in a tailored model of tan and blue check, with which she wore a chic hat of henneton silk and braid. Her corsage was of Ophelia roses with lilies of the valley. Mrs. John Cabean Beatty, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor and wore a smart tailored costume of tan and blue. Mr. W. H. Woodward, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage, and Mrs. Robert A. Morrison, a brother of the bridegroom, was his attendant.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Mable Woodward Bracson and a granddaughter of the late Judge George Henry Woodward. She is a member of a pioneer family of the state and has come with her husband an unusually wide circle of friends here. Mr. Morrison, who is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Morrison, attended Bishop Scott academy in Portland. He served with United States troops on the Mexican border. Later he served with the 18th United States field artillery during the war and will leave Tuesday for his bride for New York, where they will make their home.

Another wedding of this afternoon was that of Miss Jane Lowe, daughter of Mrs. David J. Lowe, and Mr. Thomas James Webb, which took place at Grace Memorial church, the Rev. Oswald W. Taylor officiating. The ceremony, which was without a hymn, was performed at 2:30 o'clock, after which Mr. Webb and his bride left for California for a brief trip.

The bride wore a costume of midnight blue with fur necklace and a smart hat to match her gown, and a corsage of orchids and lilies. Mrs. J. L. Lowe, mother of the bride, was dressed in a smart frock of dark blue with a tailored hat and fur. The wedding march was played by Miss Ethel Dawson and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alexander Lowe. Mr. A. L. Steele was best man. The wedding music was played by Miss Ethel Dawson.

Miss Lowe, who comes from a line of Oregon pioneers, was graduated from St. Helens hall. Ms. Webb is a member of several civic clubs of the city and is local manager of the Noiseless Typewriter company. Following their sojourn in California they will make their home at 660 East 24th street north.

The marriage of Mrs. Stella Tison and Mr. Hubert Ragan was quietly solemnized Sunday evening at the home of the bride at No. 694 East 16th street. The ceremony was performed by Judge W. A. Coffey in the presence of relatives and close friends. Mr. Ragan is a member of the Portland police force.

Mrs. Margaret Mason Moore of Piedmont, Calif., who comes from a line of Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Dickey, Mrs. Moore has many friends here and several affairs have been arranged in her honor for the coming week.

The Beta Gamma sorority held a potluck dinner at the home of Miss Lucile Leland last Thursday. Plans were made for a dance to be given in the near future.

Mrs. Ralph A. Fenton has returned from an extended visit of several weeks in California. Dr. and Mrs. Fenton are at their home at Rockspur.

Lyric Fun Makers Give Best Effort To Snappy Comedy

The tropical flavor of real farce revolutions, although the flavor is provided in comic vein and with the assistance of a score or more of girls, marks "Miss O'Dea," which was presented for the first time Sunday to matrons of the Lyric theatre. Incident to rapid action and interesting characters, song and dance numbers were introduced in profusion amid stage settings.

"Miss O'Dea" is a musical comedy with a plot, featuring Dot Raymond in the title role and providing plentifully the fun making of Ben Dillon, Al Franks and Eddie Wright as Mike, Ike and Iny. "Ivy" had on with the terms of Mr. O'Dea will, which signifies that his pretty Southern daughter marries a perfect Northern gentleman under penalty of being disinherited.

Of course, the girl loves a Southern swain and her only way out, if she is to save the family purse, is to marry a man from the Northland. Who will promptly pass on to his heartily Edward. Mike and Ike qualify as Northern lovers whose only hope is one will live long enough to go through the marriage ceremony.

While the Southern chorus sings and dances in helter-skelter abandon, the Northern girls waver and wend again, with fun to mark every minute of the action which leads up to a glittering climax wherein Miss O'Dea, of course achieves her heart's desire, rather than the wish of father's will.

Among the new songs introduced this week are "Ragtime," "I'm a Little Bubble," Billie Blythe's "Pick Me Up and Lay Me Down in Dear Old Dixie Land," Howard Evans' "My Lady of the Lamp," Clara Heath's "Chinese Laundry," and Evelyn Hunter's "Carolina Blues."

The present show continues throughout the week, with daily matinees.

WINSOME, trotsome Viola Dana, cinema star, entertained patrons of the Hippodrome theatre in a lively and thoroughly interesting manner at the opening of the new program of vaudeville at Saturday and Sunday shows. Miss Dana, appearing in person in connection with the exhibition of her latest film feature, is just as pretty as can be, and, moreover, she is full of a variety of "pep" that does much to put a kick into the program ensemble of entertainment and enterainment.

Indeed, Miss Dana is the headline feature, despite the merits of other interesting acts on the same program. She is charming in simple raiment, and proves the point by drawing expressions of admiration as freely from the men in her audience as from the women. Many girls have made their acquaintance with picture players through Miss Dana are hoping that other actresses have as much to recommend them as has this pretty girl.

Viola has an interesting personality, and her voice is rendered unusually useful in a movie star. She makes a pretty little speech and then her latest film success, "Glass Houses," is flashed on the screen. "Glass House" is a dandy picture, with lots of plot and plenty of opportunity for Viola to show her ability.

"The Melody Festival" is a smart set, featuring six pretty damsels, who are varied as to age and size. A couple of them can sing creditably in the stellar act of the regular vaudeville bill. It's a keen act and well received. Colonel Viola and the bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Alex. Alexander Lowe. Mr. A. L. Steele was best man. The wedding music was played by Miss Ethel Dawson.

Viola, born and brought up from a line of Oregon pioneers, was graduated from St. Helens hall. Ms. Webb is a member of several civic clubs of the city and is local manager of the Noiseless Typewriter company. Following their sojourn in California they will make their home at 660 East 24th street north.

2000 Volumes Are Given to Library; Value Set at $1200

Gifts of 2000 books valued at approximately $1200 have been made to the library, as a result of the book drive, according to Miss Anne Mulhern, librarian.

A table in the lobby contains some of the gifts, including some of Barron's works, Galsworthy, George Eliot, and a set of an Encyclopedia Britannica.

That the book drive was only a means and not an end in itself, was the statement of E. B. MacNaughton, president of the drive, who said that the hope of Portland citizens might be into the habit of making contributions. The quality of the books given was especially commented on.
