

KLAN GIVES $50 TO DR. ANDERSON, GOSPEL CRUSADER

Appreciation of the services Dr. George Wood Anderson, crusader, is rendering the city through his special meetings, was expressed by three members of the Ku Klux Klan, who interrupted the service Thursday night and handed the evangelist $50 in cash.

While the crusader was preaching on "Bringing Cowards," the three Klansmen, garbed in white flowing robes and with masked faces, entered the rear door of the tabernacle. They walked down the aisle in single file and when about half way to the platform Dr. Anderson ceased preaching. At first the audience looked perplexed as to why the crusader should stop talking, and then a ripple of laughter broke out, but as the three Klansmen mounted the stairs to the platform, a breathless quiet prevailed.

The trio marched over to the pulpit and the centerman advanced and said, "As representatives of the Invisible Empire, Knights of the Ku Klux Klan, we wish to present you with this little gift as a token of appreciation of the services you are rendering the city."

KLANSMEN THANKED
The three turned immediately without waiting for a reply. Dr. Anderson merely said "Thank you," after which the audience burst into applause. As the Klansmen marched out of the building Dr. Anderson said:

"I am not a member of this organization, and do not know anything about it, except what I have been told. A similar visit was paid me at Spokane, where I was informed that they stand for America for Americans and for the open Bible in our public schools." The applause after these remarks was greater than at first. Without any further comment the evangelist resumed his sermon.

The sermon was directed at men and women in all walks of life who are afraid to take their stand for the right, for fear of public opinion. At the conclusion of the service over 100 went forward in response to the evangelist's plea for redemption or consecration.

SERVICES TONIGHT
Tonight at 7:30 o'clock Dr. Anderson will preach from the subject, "The Carpenter That Bridges the Chasm." Guests at the service will be the young people's organizations and organized labor. Proceeding the service the young folks will march through the downtown streets and sing the crusade songs. The teenagers are asked to meet at the First Methodist church at 8:30 for the parade.

Portland Student Fourth in National Art Competition

Oregon Agricultural College, Corvallis, April 21.—In competition with students in institutions all over the United States, including a dozen or more leading art schools, Miss Pauline White of No. 312 Fargo street, Portland, a junior in vocational education at the college, taking work in the art department, won fourth honorable mention in the annual scholarship contest of the Art Students' League of New York, according to a notice received from Margaret Mercereau, secretary of the league.

Approximately 100 students were entered in the contest, including representatives of the Minneapolis School of Fine Arts, California School of Art, San Francisco; Mission School of Fine Arts, Boston; Downer School of Art, Tacoma Art school, Denver Academy of Applied Arts, Detroit Art school and Chicago Art Institute.

Miss White's entries included drawings from antique fragments, water-color drawings, figure drawings for costume, two pieces of batik, and photographs of her work in pottery and clay modeling.

The contest was held Friday, March 21, the decision being under supervision of directors of the league, which has a substantial history in art education dating from 1875.

"I am much pleased over Miss White's success," says Professor F. D. McLouth, head of the college art department, "as our work is confined to those phases of art education related to the industries, dress, and the home, and to the ideals of art in everyday life."

JOHN L. BURNS FREED BY JURY OF MURDER CHARGE

John L. Burns, charged by the state with being one of the murderers of James Harry (Buck) Phillips, O-W. R. & N. special agent, the night of June 14, in the Moxie Bottom yards of the O-W. was found not guilty by a jury in Circuit Judge Stapleton's court, which returned its verdict at 9 o'clock Thursday night after being out since 10:10 o'clock Wednesday morning.

This was the third trial of Burns for the crime. Dan Casey, indicted jointly with Burns, was tried twice and at the second trial found guilty and sentenced to be hanged. He is now awaiting execution.

A peculiarity of the cases was that the evidence against Burns and Casey was practically identical, but Burns was freed and Casey sentenced to die. They lived together at Burns' rooming house, 127 1/2 Russell street, and were arrested there June 17, three days after the killing.

Casey, however, was "hard boiled" and gave a bad impression in the courtroom, while Burns has a pleasing personality. Moreover Burns' wife sat by her husband's side with their baby at her breast throughout the trial.

Phillips was shot when he was searching a freight train for boxcar thieves. He came upon the men and a pistol battle ensued. The murderers escaped in the darkness. One count against Casey was that he had a pistol wound in his wrist at the time of his arrest. His account of how he got this wound in a fight with a stranger at a moonshiner's house was very incoherent.
