

TURKS LEAVE DOOR OPEN, IN REPLY TO DEMAND OF ALLIES

(Special Cable to The Journal and the Chicago Daily News, Constantinople, April 26, 1922.)

The Ankara government to the allied note has been transmitted to the allied high commissioners here. It produced a favorable impression because the Nationalists did not answer in riddles, but state their views clearly. The points made are these: The Nationalists are unable to accept the conditions that the evacuation of Asia Minor by the Greek troops should be accompanied by complete abandonment by the Turks of all the peace terms proposed by the allies.

Daughter Shoots Herself Dead as Mother Plays Cards

(By United News)

Chicago, April 25.—A daughter killed herself Tuesday while her mother was playing bridge in an adjoining room. When the mother heard the shot that ended her daughter's life, she cried: "My poor, poor baby!" and collapsed.

The suicide left a note, reading: "I couldn't help doing it." That's all the police know. Added to the more than unusual mystery enveloping such cases, it was learned that the daughter herself came as a distant surgeon to friends of the family. Until Monday no one seemed to know there was a daughter. She came ostensibly from Detroit, "on a visit."

The girl, 20, strikingly pretty, of wealthy parents and in apparently perfect health, was Miss Mildred Lawson. She shot herself to death in an ultra-fashionable north shore hotel, where her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Lawson, have lived since last fall. Mr. Lawson is not in Chicago, nor could he be located last night.

Never had the parents spoken of a daughter, and when Miss Lawson arrived at the hotel Monday night she went directly to her mother's apartment and was not seen until the shot attracted guests to the scene of her death.

A coroner's physician says the girl undoubtedly killed herself, but an inquest will be held Wednesday.

In the meantime the police are endeavoring to talk and the police are endeavoring to notify Mr. Lawson, a salesman.

Irish Peace Parley Having Hard Time

Belfast, April 25.—(L. N. S.)—The negotiations between Sir James Craig, premier of Ulster, and Michael Collins, representing the Free State, over details of the peace pact which was agreed to in general outline on March 30, today are reported to have reached a deadlock. A breach in the negotiations is considered very likely.

Mary Langdon Baker And M'Cormick Dance Together at Hotel

(By C. F. Bertell)

Paris April 25.—Throwing off the mask of mystery which has so completely surrounded the movements of both since their arrival in France, Miss Mary Langdon Baker and Allister McCormick appeared together publicly in Paris Tuesday.

They were seen dancing at the Claridge hotel. Mary's mother was not present. Miss Baker wore a new Paris tea frock of skyblue attracting flattering comment from fashionable women present.

Miss Baker, however, did not confine her dances to Allister, granting a fox trot, among others, to a young Californian whose acquaintance she made on the boat coming over.

The young couple dined last night at the home of the American Consul, De Lanza, with whose sons young McCormick is now on the most intimate terms.

To curious inquiries as to when the wedding is to take place, Miss Baker refused to give any positive answer, merely smiling. McCormick, however, maintained that it would be in June at Waybridge.
