

HARDING AGAINST LAW FOR DAYLIGHT SAVING

Washington, April 28.—Daylight saving will never be national during the administration of President Harding. Although conceding the advantages of getting up early in the morning, Mr. Harding has taken the position that moving the hands of the clock forward is merely a deception during the summer season and that the same ends can be accomplished by the use of an alarm clock.

The chief executive has not been contented with the necessity of signing or vetoing a bill on the subject for the good reason that congress has not been able to agree on the matter and the agricultural interests are strong enough to prevent the passage of any such proposal as was adopted under the Wilson administration as a war measure.

This prompted the observation from Mr. Harding that he would not sign any executive order for the opening of the government departments on a daylight saving basis. He said that the department heads wanted to open his department an hour sooner, Mr. Harding sees no objection. That's entirely up to the chief officer.

CONFLICT OF OPINION Those who favor daylight saving and there is a considerable sentiment for it in congress, answer the president by saying that there is no chance of getting an agreement on anything except by law, and that all human conduct can only be regulated by law. It is admitted that there is conflict of interest, especially between rural and city communities, but the scheme of settling the question by certain states is being considered.

The general feeling is that the farm bloc is powerful enough to prevent President Harding from signing any daylight saving statute of the subject. The national administration may find the problem before it if the railroads decide to take federal permission to change their schedules, but in view of the confusion that might result from the establishment of "railroad time" it is unlikely that the authorities here will favor any modification.

ELDER CONFESSES GIRL'S BETRAYAL

Washington, April 28.—An elderly man, said, and started to tell me of her misdeeds in Chicago—that she had been tampered and had fallen.

"I stopped her. I said 'Gertrude, it matters not what you have done. No matter how bad you have been, I have been many times worse.'"

"It was shortly after this that I went to live with his folks. I was tempted and so was she. Last October we fell."

"I wanted to marry her, but she refused. We severed relations. 'That's all I know. Before God, I regret I didn't kill the girl.'"

"You remind me of Tom Tucker, who got kicked out of Hell for lying," shouted the state attorney.

Questioned as to his whereabouts since April 1, many minor discrepancies appeared in Wyman's story.

SENATE VOTES FOR INVESTIGATION OF OIL LAND LEASES

Washington, April 28.—A sweeping investigation of the leasing of the naval oil reserves by the interior department to private owners was ordered by the senate today.

A resolution sponsored by Senator La Follette, Republican of Wisconsin, providing that the investigation be conducted by the senate public lands committee, and calling on the interior department for complete information regarding the surrendering of the reserve to private companies, was adopted unanimously.

La Follette announced that he would shortly deliver another extended speech in which he would review the details of the circumstances surrounding the leasing of the naval oil reserves in California and Wyoming to private interests.

Her body was discovered two days ago in the basement of the paragon. She wore the same clothes which she had on when she left home. Her hands were folded as she lay on the cement ledge. No marks of violence were discovered on her body.

WOMAN PILGRIMS GREETED BY WILSON (Continued From Page One)

and stepped aside for her husband, who had yielded to the cheers for an encore.

"I am not much to look at," Wilson said in a voice scarcely audible, "and this is too much. But I will tell you my favorite limerick:

For beauty, I am not a star There are others more handsome by far. For me to come to Washington, The town of Marion retained its normal central time, while Columbia, Ohio, 25 miles away, was an hour earlier.

MEANTIME LADY ASTOR ENTERTAINED THE MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL PRESS CLUB with a chaty talk on the place of women in politics.

LADY ASTOR NOT PRESENT. Lady Astor had been expected to lead the pilgrimage to the Wilson home, but was prevented, presumably, by other engagements.

From the Wilson home the pilgrims hurried to the grounds of the Pan-American building to take part in the planting of the first international tree.

MEANTIME LADY ASTOR ENTERTAINED THE MEMBERS OF THE NATIONAL PRESS CLUB with a chaty talk on the place of women in politics.

Union Rail Leaders' Bolt Is Protest on Ruling, They Claim

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

Chicago, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"Our refusal to continue in the rail board's ruling yesterday was a protest against the board depriving employees of their right to have wages fixed as 'just and reasonable' compensation."

CHINESE FIGHT FIRST BATTLE IN CIVIL WAR

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

Shanghai, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—Bombing planes defeated river gunboats in a battle at Canton, according to dispatches from that city received here today.

FORGER PRESIDENT OF FRANCE DEED DISCOVERED

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

Paris, April 28.—(U. N. S.)—"The French public should suspect him somewhat of a mental unbalance undoubtedly hastened the death from influenza of Paul Deschanel, former president of France."

ALIBI PLEADED BY ACCUSED RANCHER

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe, 23-year-old Freshwater farmer, Friday took the stand in his own defense in his trial in the circuit court in which he is charged with first degree murder in connection with the death of Matt Jepson, aged recluse of Government mountain. Jepson's body was found in an abandoned well, August 14, 1921. The head had been crushed with an axe.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Fendleton, April 28.—Charles Von Derahe did not appear nervous, and though he spoke in a low voice, his words could be heard in all parts of the crowded courtroom. He was on the stand almost three hours. His testimony, under the guidance of his attorneys, was largely to corroborate the alibi which has been built up around him to prove that he was not even in the vicinity of the Jepson place when the murder was committed, the exact date of which has never been definitely decided.

Foreign Workers Urged to Oppose Militarism, War

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Geneva, April 28.—The chief attention of the annual meeting of the second or Amsterdam Internationale, which represents 19 countries and more than 24,000,000 organized workers, was given to encouraging the struggle against imperialism, militarism and war. A resolution was adopted saying that it is the duty of the workers to oppose all armaments and that they should be threatened to prevent an actual outbreak by proclaiming a general strike.

Socialists Convene; Anti-Debs Men Want Younger Party Guide

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.

Cleveland, Ohio, April 28.—(U. P.)—Socialist party leaders of America gathered here today for a national convention. Leaders of the party, notably Morris Hillquit, New York; Clarence Darrow, Chicago; and Congressman Meyer London, New York, were lining up candidates for what is expected to be a strenuous fight on the question of party leadership.