

CHAMBER ELECTS FIVE DIRECTORS; RADIO IS ENJOYED

Three candidates for directorship of the Chamber of Commerce nominated by the nominating committee and two elected by the membership were elected at the annual meeting of the organization held in the green room of the Oregon building Friday night.

The three selected from among the nominating committee candidates were Roy F. Bishop, Max E. Hirsch and R. H. Burnside. The two elected from the membership appointees were Clay S. Morse and A. C. Callan. Bishop received the highest number of votes and was followed by Hirsch, Burnside, Morse and Callan, in order.

Radio programs were a feature of the evening's meeting and a portion of President Van Dusen's annual address was delivered over the new instrument. A summary of the year's work was given by W. D. H. Dodson, general manager of the organization. The finance committee reported that between $6000 and $8000 of the budget allowance for the year had remained unexpended and the finance department reported that despite depression in business the new members obtained offset the number of former members dropped from the roster.

William H. Odell, Oregon Pioneer, Is Dead at Age of 91

William H. Odell, Oregon pioneer and prominent for many years in Republican political circles, died Wednesday night at the home of his niece, Mrs. J. H. Baker, No. 471 East 24th street, at the age of 91 years and four months. Odell was born in Indiana January 25, 1831, and came to Oregon across the plains with his parents in 1851. He became deputy United States surveyor for Oregon in 1852 and served until 1857. He then became surveyor general of Oregon. He was the Republican elector of the presidential campaign of 1876 and carried the vote of Oregon to Washington. He was editor of the Salem Statesman from 1877 to 1885 and state printer from 1884 to 1885. He was postmaster of Salem during the administration of President Arthur and the first term of Cleveland's administration. He became clerk of the state land board in 1895, where he served for four years.

About 1900 Odell removed to Portland where he had lived until the time of his death. He leaves no family. Last Tuesday, the day before his death, he went to Salem to attend the funeral of W. H. Byars. He came home ill, and within a few hours died.

Funeral services will be held today at Salem. Interment will be in Lee Mission cemetery.

Jap Accused of Misuse of Mails To Be Deported

Shin Saka Takima, the Japanese who was arrested from a vessel recently and lodged in jail, pleaded guilty Friday in federal court to the charge of sending improper matter through the mails and paid a fine of $25 imposed upon him by Judge Bean. He will also be deported.

Takima's bride, from whom he was separated upon his arrest and who was denied admission here, was also denied admission at San Pedro, where the vessel sailed after leaving Portland, and is now on her way back to Japan via Portland. Takima may be placed upon the same vessel.

Jackson County Gets Ready to Stage Fair

Medford, April 28.—The Jackson County Fair association approved the lease of the fair grounds from the county and city. Plans were considered for the building and planting of the grounds. The city of Medford designated the following directors to represent the city on the board: E. C. Gaddis, J. W. Pressler, J. H. Carlin, E. I. Brown, W. H. Gore and H. L. Walther. The stockholders elected C. B. Gates, S. S. Smith, J. C. Pendleton, H. W. Bigham, D. M. Love, George Alford, C. C. Cate, M. J. Norris, E. C. Hamilton, Floyd Chastain and E. E. Beeson, to serve on the board.

Salesman Demands Daughter's Custody From Former Wife

A. J. Gerrans, salesman for the Log Cabin Brewing company, who resides at No. 465 Cleveland avenue, is taking proceedings to obtain the custody of his two daughters, 15 and 18 years of age, who have been living with their mother who was divorced from Gerrans 12 or 15 years ago, and who is now facing a charge of murder with her husband, George H. Gardner, who shot two officers near Salt Lake City last year. Gerrans has been living with Gerrans.

It is the belief of Gerrans that his former wife is innocent of the charge against her and that she was upset from certain previous happenings and not in her right mind when the shooting occurred. Officers had gone to her home to serve papers of attachment of property upon her.

ROOSEVELT STATUE NEAR COMPLETION

Washington, April 28.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Dr. Henry Waldo Coe leaves today for the West after six weeks spent in supervising the final stages of completing the equestrian statue of Roosevelt, which he will present to the city of Portland. The statue has just been turned over to the artist. He also has conferred with officials, Mrs. Roosevelt and members of the Roosevelt family concerning plans for the dedication.

Another problem receiving attention is transportation of the statue, which is 12 feet high and weighs 12,000 pounds. It is to be taken by water through the Panama canal, and Theodore Roosevelt, assistant secretary of the navy, is making inquiry. Dr. Coe is unable to fix a date for the dedication because of the uncertainty regarding the attendance of President Harding, the president's western trip depending upon the adjournment of congress. The same uncertainty is holding back definite acceptance of invitations by General Pershing, Assistant Secretary Roosevelt and other members of the Roosevelt family.

Awards Are to Be Made in 130 Cases Hinging on Decision

Salem, April 28.—Compensation awards in approximately 130 industrial accidents sustained upon navigable waters in this state hinged upon the mandamus proceeding which was decided favorable to the industrial accident commission in an opinion handed down by the supreme court Thursday, according to Will T. Kirk, a member of the commission.

In but a few of these cases had the compensation award been made by the commission, and in these cases payment of the award was withheld by Secretary of State Kirk. The court decision in this case has withstood its award until the court should dispose of the disputed points. These claims, Kirk said, are being assembled for immediate adjustment.

"The decision is of much importance, because it clears away all doubt from a situation which has been perplexing and troublesome," Kirk said. "It means that all Oregon industries which have operations touching the navigable waters of the state are assured of complete insurance protection when under the compensation law.

"This will be helpful, not only to stevedoring companies, but to fish canneries, paper mills, river transportation and other industries."

One Rail Ticket Will Hold Section, Is Latest Ruling

Only one railroad ticket will be required for a passenger desiring to hold a sleeping car section beginning Monday, according to announcement made Friday by Charles S. Fee, passenger traffic manager for the Southern Pacific railway system. Under present rules a passenger desiring to hold a whole section is required to pay an additional half railroad fare. Two railroad tickets will be required to hold a drawing room or compartment as usual. Pullman fares will not be affected by this ruling, as the passenger pays for the space occupied as heretofore.

PROPOSE CHANGE IN SCHOOL LAWS

Salem, April 28.—The preliminary draft of a proposed amendment to the Oregon school laws, requiring compulsory attendance of children between the ages of 5 and 18 years at a public school, was presented to Secretary of State Koser for his approval as to form and for the preparation of a short title to be used in obtaining signatures to place the initiative measure on the November ballot.

The measure is sponsored by a committee consisting of Ira B. Sturges, Baker; R. C. Ellsworth, Pendleton; Harold Baldwin, Prineville; W. Dager, Redmond; Lewis H. Irving, Madras; Collin E. Davis, The Dalles; Leslie G. Johnson, Marshfield; C. A. Swope, Grants Pass; W. F. Harris, Roseburg; John R. Pendleton, Albany; J. R. Jeffery, Seaside; F. C. Hollibaugh, St. Helens; O. O. Hodson, McMinnville; E. L. Johnson, Hillsboro.

The proposed measure would require parents of children between the ages of 5 and 18 years to send the children to a public school, and makes failure to comply with the law a misdemeanor punishable by fine or imprisonment.

The only valid excuse for failure to attend public school would be in the case of children physically or mentally incapacitated. Children having completed the eighth grade, children of 18 years of age or under living at a distance of more than one and one-half miles from the school house and in the case of children over 10 years of age, three miles from the school; provided, however, that where transportation is furnished, this exemption shall not apply, and children under the instruction of a parent or private tutor, who has been granted permission to teach by the county superintendent of schools.

In the event of its adoption the measure would not become effective until September 1, 1923.

Idaho High Court Sustains Ruling Against Picketing

Boise, Idaho, April 28.—In an opinion given out Friday, the state supreme court upheld in general the injunction of Judge Charles F. Reddock against the Hotel and Restaurant Employees' local No. 783 stationing pickets at the doors of cafes and restaurants declared unfair to the union.

The order of Judge Reddock, issued in May, 1921, is modified by the supreme court decision, which says that "the stationing of pickets near the restaurants was intimidating in character and was properly enjoined, but strikers are not debarred from the streets, nor from displaying truthful placards. There was no occasion to enjoin the use of force or violence, since none had been used nor threatened.

"Neither should the injunction require the appellants to refrain from interfering in any manner with the business of respondents, nor should it include all exhortations and entreaties. The case is remanded with directions to modify."

Game Warden From Canyon City Is Here En Route to Spokane

I. B. Hazeltine, game warden from Canyon City, whose district comprises Grant, Baker, Malheur and Harney counties, is in Portland arranging for Stanley G. Jewett of the United States biological survey and Ray C. Steele, United States game warden, who are going to Spokane Saturday night, to attend to an exhibit from his part of the state at the Sportsmen's and Tourists Show, which is being held at the city hall here. Hazeltine was one of the members of the party that recently rounded up the deer in front of a motion picture camera, so as to get some game pictures for state advertising.

W. S. C. Glee Club Members Get Pins

Washington State College, Pullman, April 28.—Seventeen members of the 1922 State College Glee club were awarded pins yesterday as follows: Floyd Stevenson, Pomeroy; Frank Brock, Riverdale; Cecil Chisholm, Yakima; Leonard Downie, Seattle; Edward Smith, Frank Martin, Helmer Hanson, Delmar Rubie, Spokane; William Just, Tillamook; Willis Kirkpatrick, Tacoma; Wallace Buchanan, Garfield; Clayton Bernhard, Newport; Carrie Andrew, Walla Walla; William Steiner, Pullman; Donald Sharp, Vancouver; Robert Prescott, Kamiah, Idaho; Philip Fridlund, Tacoma. Three first-year debate pins were awarded to Rex Turner, Yakima; Fred Waller, Tacoma, and Thad Byfne, Seattle. An oratory emblem was presented to James Lindsay of Pullman.

Lithia Water to Be Placed on Draught At Oregon Building

The Associated Industries submitted a proposal to Ashland, the home of the famous lithia water of the Pacific Northwest and coast country, that if the citizens there would fill and load the tanks of lithia water and ship at intervals, arrangements would be completed for having the water on draught free of charge at the Oregon building, Portland, for visitors and particularly tourists.

The Associated Industries proposes to have the freight and installation expenses taken care of and also has suggested that a large brass tablet be affixed to the fountain, where the lithia water would be on tap, as a permanent advertisement of Ashland and its wonderful product. The novelty of the arrangement, should it be possible to carry it out, would impress visitors and constitute the best kind of inducement for people to stop and enjoy Ashland's attractions and water.

Crash Held Due to Partly Blind Driver

Medford, April 28.—It has been established that J. C. Eads, the owner and driver of the truck which was struck by a Southern Pacific train at a street crossing in Medford last Monday, was blind in his right eye, and did not see the train, which approached from this direction. In this accident two men were killed and three very seriously injured.

Coal Dealers Close Oregon Convention

The first annual convention of Oregon Coal Dealers was concluded Friday night with a banquet given at the Multnomah hotel. Speakers representing the California Coal Dealers' association delivered brief addresses. Prior to the meeting the delegates from six Western states were taken for a tour of the Columbia river highway.

PATTERSON ADDRESSES LEGION
Senator I. L. Patterson of Polk county, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor, arrived in Portland today from Tillamook, where he addressed a meeting of the American Legion Friday night. Sunday night he is to speak in the Methodist church at Silverton.

WOMEN'S CLUBS TO PROMOTE SALE OF OREGON PRODUCTS

The Oregon State Federation of Women's Clubs has about 80 vice presidents in the different counties of Oregon, who are manifesting an interest in follow-up work of the women in connection with promoting use of Oregon manufactured products. The annual convention of the state federation will be held at Tillamook the last week in May, and Fred C. Baker, president of the Tillamook Chamber of Commerce, has advised the Associated Industries of Oregon that the chamber of commerce of that community will celebrate the visit of the women by giving two banquets, which will serve practically 100 per cent Oregon products.

The banquets will take place on June 1. A committee of merchants has been organized in Tillamook and Oregon manufactured products. Tillamook county is the cheese and dairy capital of the country, and every person who knows something of the Tillamook country realizes that the hundreds of visitors from distant portions of the Beaver state are going to meet with a great revelation when they view the resources and taste the hospitality of the land where the nationally famous cheese comes from. At the head of the women's committee on arrangements is Mrs. W. S. Conover and, through the influence of the women, it is designed to have an educational exhibit of all kinds of general manufactured goods of the state in every store window in that city.

At the federation state convention further plans for carrying forward the auxiliary council's work for Associated Industries will be announced by the president, Mrs. Ida B. Callahan.

Interstate Fair Heads Announced

Spokane, Wash., April 28.—Department superintendents for the 1922 interstate fair, September 4-9, were announced Friday in the premium list published by Thomas S. Griffith, president of the fair association. In addition to the usual list included in booklets published in recent years, the book this year includes special articles on the livestock department at the fair. Articles in support of competitive stock exhibition are also included in the booklet.

Innocent Hubby Accused as "Dip," Wins His Freedom

A supposed pickpocket arrested on the Morrison street bridge late Friday afternoon turned out to be only an innocent husband who had quarreled with his wife.

A report was turned into police headquarters from Sweland's candy store, No. 268 Morrison street, that a man had snatched something from a woman's hand and fled. He was described as dressed in a workman's clothes and was said to be going toward the Morrison street bridge.

The police arrested a man on the bridge answering to the description and took him to headquarters, where he gave his name as Jack Sharp.

He explained to the officers that he had just quarreled with his wife and that he ran away from her. Mrs. Sharp was called and without questioning it is told a story identical to that of her husband.

Seeing that it was purely a family case and one not to be handled by outsiders, the police freed the supposed pickpocket.

JOHN GALLOWAY DIES

Dayton, Wash., April 28.—John J. Galloway, 50 years old, a resident of Dayton for 22 years, died at his home Wednesday afternoon. His funeral was held from the United Brethren church Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. He was a native of Indiana. His first settled near Pomeroy but soon came to Dayton, which he has made his home ever since. Besides his widow, he is survived by one daughter and four sons, who are: Mr. C. A. Hale, Watsburg; James S. Galloway, Echo, Or.; Sheridan Galloway, Idaho Falls; John C. Galloway, Kahlotuz, Wash.; and George Galloway, American Falls, Idaho.

Evangelist Talks To Woman Audience About 'Fool Women'

Jazz music, low-cut dresses, cigarette smoking, immodesty and the desire to rise in society were given a severe rapping at the united gospel crusade tabernacle Friday night by Dr. George Wood Anderson in his sermon to women only. The audience hall filled the huge tabernacle, being about twice the size of the men's audience last Sunday afternoon.

"When it comes to intelligence, women are far keener than men, but when a woman does act the fool, there's no man on earth can come within 50 miles of catching up with her," said the crusader. His topic was "Fool Women."

"You may make a fool of yourself about dress if you want to," the evangelist said to the mothers in the audience, "but, in the name of common sense, don't make a fool of your daughter and thus make her name a byword.

"The charm of a woman's life is modesty. The awfulness of a girl's fall is that it is never an extreme case. Modesty is the protection of a girl's life."

Tonight, at 7:30 o'clock, the service will be for the general public, when the crusader will again attack the teachings of spiritualism, preaching from the subject "What Lies Beyond the Grave." The tabernacle is at East Third and East Irving streets.
