Always Something New in Oriental Rugs
THE Oriental Rugs can trace their history back beyond the time of the patriarch Abraham, they never have lost their charm, because while designs are handed down from generation to generation, each rug bears the individuality of the weaver. One could study them for years, and not exhaust their symbology. And their lovely soft colors blend so charmingly with draperies, upholstery, and ornaments that they fit into any surroundings, and never become tiresome, as do brighter shades. Fund Is Approved For Forest Roads
Washington, May 2.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL).—Senator McNary was advised today of the approval by the secretary of agriculture of the apportionment of $1,127,000 to Oregon national forest roads from federal funds, which is reduced to $927,000 when administration and contingent allowances are deducted for use of the following eight projects: Alsea, coast highway in Curry county, Crescent-Grants Pass, Eugene-Florence, Mackenzie, Anna Creek, Trail-Prospect and Prairie City-Unity. The sum to be used for each project is not determined, and whether all can be constructed, depends upon local cooperation and reliability of construction estimates when tested by location surveys. Approved by the secretary of agriculture of the projects recommended by the chief forester makes the federal funds immediately available. It was said at forest service headquarters today. The actual beginning of work will depend on weather conditions and whether or not provision has been made in these sections which are contingent on cooperation of the state highway commission and the various counties for raising their proportion of the funds.

Although convicted on a federal charge and in a federal court, after pleading guilty to the charge, Mrs. Wurtzbarger was committed to the Oregon prison because of lack of accommodations for women prisoners in federal prisons. The petition for the pardon sets forth that while living at Falls City, Wurtzbarger was "brutal" to his wife and also that he was "immoral" and "dishonest" and declares that her pardon would be "performing a humane act to an unfortunate woman." Mrs. Wurtzbarger killed her husband by beating his head to a pulp with a large hammer while he slept in their home at the Indian school.

At What Age Should You Take Needless Risks With Your Health?
Is that a queer question? Then many people are doing a queer thing—and often it turns out to be a serious thing. The Federal Bureau of Education says in its rules for the health of school children that children should not drink coffee or tea. This rule is based on the well-known fact that the drug element in coffee and tea whips up the nerves, and that serious ills often follow. If it's a good rule for children to keep away from the harm of nerve-stimulation, isn't it a good rule for everybody? Think it over. Granted that your body may stand more, can your judgment afford to risk more? Any doctor can tell you what coffee and tea often do to the health of adults as well as children. There's no sacrifice in being safe. Postum is a delightful, satisfying mealtime beverage, wholesome and pleasant alike for adults and children. Postum has no age limits! Your grocer has both forms of Postum Instant Postum (in tins) made instantly in the cup by the addition of boiling water. Postum Cereal (in packages of larger bulk, for those who prefer to make the drink while the meat is being prepared) made by boiling for fully 20 minutes.
