sidered one of the leaders of his party in the county and in the state.

OPPOSED BY MILLER He has been, and is, making an active campaign for the nomination, and if sucfight through the summer and up to the day of the general campaign.

Watkins is opposed for the nomination by Robert A. Miller and Robert G. Dus-Miller, who is an Oregon Demo-of long standing, has been a candidate for various offices in the past upon the Democratic ticket and has served as receiver of the land office.

Duncan's chief claim for political prominence is his connection with the against the members of the public service commission, and the editorship of a couple of trade journals. He is now under two indictments returned by the grand jury of Multnomah county charging him with criminal libel. WOULD BAVE CHANCE

It is currently believed by political students in the district that Watkins, if nominated on Friday, will have a good fighting chance for election in November under all the varied conditions now existing in the present campaign.

Next to the congressional fight, in interest, comes that for the gubernatorial nomination, between Walter M. Pierce, Harvey G. Starkweather, Webster Holmes and Will E. Purdy. The battle here lies between the first three. There are few, if any, who consider that Purdy, in the face of his record in the state, is e counted in the race, MAY WRITE IN NAMES

A pretty battle also is being waged ben Dr. J. W. Morrow of Portland and Will R. King, who for the past several years has been a resident of New York and Washington, D. C., and who the East, for Democratic national committeeman. Dr. Morrow now holds that office and is a candidate for re-elec-candidates filed for the office of treasurer, for congress from the First district, for the three places upon the supreme bench, or for circuit judge of department 2, or the Multnomah county bench. A movement has been ched, however, to have Milton A Miller's name written in on the ballot to give him the nomination for state treasurer. The same thing is being undertaken to secure the nominations of John H. Smith of Asteria, John Van Zaste and Oglesby Young of Portland all of whom would appreciate seats upon the supreme bench of the state. HAVE NO OPPOSITION

The name of L. L. Langley, past president of the Jackson club, is to be written in as a candidate for the Democratic nemination for department 3 of the Multnomah circuit court, though there in also a movement on foot to give the ocratic nemination to Judge Robert Tucker, the Republican candidate who has no opposition upon the printed bal-lets of either party.

There is a full ticket for the senatorial cominations and for the lower house from Multnomah county, and also for county ticket where a county auditor and two county commissioners are to be elected in November. John H. Stevenson, former municipal judge; D. Chambers, a well-known busi-ness man of the city, and Dr. Elof T. Hedlund are seeking the senatorial nom inations without opposition.

Among the 14 candidates for the house of representatives are included : Bert E. former state chairman, former United States attorney and prominent lawyer of Portland; R. W. Hagood, a

CRUMPACKER BATTING FOR

CONSTRUCTIVE PRINCIPLES Maurice E. Crumpacker, Republican candidate for congress from the Multnomah district, during the close of his campaign has been conducting a vigor-ous speaking tour throughout the county, advocating the development of Oregon's resources and the necessity of having representation from this district which is in tune with the progressive spirit of the Northwest.

On Monday he spoke before a large gathering of the Italian Republican club at the Swiss hall, and minced no words concerning the attack which has recently been made on all foreign-born

"This idea of condemning citizens because of their foreign birth is comparable with that of an individual who invites a person to his home and ther abuses him because of his residence, said Crumpacker. "This nation has been developed by the sturdy peoples of Europe and it ill behooves any group of citizens to attempt to place themselves as dictators of the qualifications of cit-

Crumpacker also spoke before the Scandinavian societies Monday evening pointing out the necessity of keeping ptedge once made upon election to of-fice. He flayed Congressman Mc-Arthur's record on soldier relief legislation and advocated the payment of our nation's moral and sacred obligation to those defenders on land and sea.

take up the work if Lasker were to lay it down.

Many times the story has been told, and evidently with some relish, of General Jacob S. Coxey's testimony. Coxey, of "army" fame, had a scheme which he earnestly presented to a house committee, whereby the government's ships were to be turned over to him for oner. were to be turned over to him for operation and paid for by a flat-money plan. Coxey was asked if he had had any experience in operating ships.
"No, none, the same as Mr. Lasker," he responded. It is recognized, however, that Lasker and the present board have adopted many economies and that they have had a hard game in a time of world depression of ocean trade.

SHIPS WON'T SELL They have tried to sell ships, but ships won't sell, except in special cases, for special purposes. Everyone is waiting to see what congress intends to do.

There are intimations that if congress does not act, there will be a spe-cial session, called in advance of the regular meeting of congress next December. This creates no enthusiasm. About nine-tenths of the members of the house and one third of the senators want to get home in good season to carry on their campaigns for reelection, and do not relish the thought of being called back as soon as the campaign is over.

Gospel Tabernacle Being Demolished

Within a few days the united gospel abernacle at East Third and Irving tabernacle at East Third and Irving streets will be a thing of the past. Tuesday men from the O. K. Wrecking company started raxing the structure. The building committee sold it to the concern for $550, according to a report made by the Rev. W. E. Kloster, chairman. The tabernacle housed the meetings of the Dr. George Wood Anderson campaign. The building must be wrecked by June 1, as the church lease on the property expires on that date. The structure cost $3750 to erect and about $1700 to maintain during the six weeks of the grussde.

ANGLERS FINED

Williams were fined $25 each and Luebeck was discharged because he was a minor, according to reports filed at the headquarters of the state game commission today.

Charles W. Garland is a candidate for ticket, despite a record established in recent years that includes disharment by the supreme court, grand jury indictment for larceny by balies in Multromah county and a judgment of guilty on another charge of the same offense in the district court of Multromah county. He is now practicing law on county. He is now practicing law on preme court. The supreme court, in a decision prepared by Justice Bean, June 20, 1915, held that Garland misappropriated funds of the state, "knowingly, wilfully, corruptly, criminally and feloated funds of the state, "knowingly wilfully, corruptly, criminally and feloniously," and he was duly disbarred. Garland had been appointed by the state to escheat to the state property belonging to the estate of Charles
