THE new hospital just completed at Walla Walla, Wash., for war veterans of the Pacific Northwest suffering from tuberculosis is opened Wednesday morning, May 10, to receive patients, according to information given out by Kenneth L. Cooper, head of the United States veterans bureau here. This action was taken following instructions from Director Charles R. Forbes at the new institution May 10, which were by the new Walla Walla institution by June 1, he stated. The opening of the new hospital has taken place earlier than anticipated.

NEXT Sunday the body of Walter Schaefer, the last of Portland's war dead who lies in state at the Army-Veterans of the World Memorial home will file by the pier to pay last homage to one of their comrades—a comrade who "went west" when duty called.

The government has agreed to furnish four field plots for use at the Mt. Scott cemetery if the patriotic organizations will pay the handling charge, which same will amount to about $250. As this cemetery is used by veterans of all wars, the cannon will be very appropriate markers. The cemetery will be dedicated Memorial day, Chaplain Gilbert, who was chaplain of the old 2d Oregon in the Philippines, and in the last war with the 162d in France, will be the speaker of the day.

Cooper stated that it is expected that the first unit of the new hospital of 250 beds capacity will be filled within 60 days. Government plans call for enlargement of the institution to 500 beds if this capacity is needed. According to schedule of employes allowed veterans' hospitals, 227 men and women will be employed in the Walla Walla hospital. The medical staff is being recruited largely from the East, it was stated. Plans for the transfer of the first group of tubercular veterans from the government hospitals at Portland, Oregon, were also to be transferred from the government hospitals at Tacoma and Boise, giving increased space there for out-service patients.

At 2 o'clock a military cortege will form at the Army to escort the fallen hero to the Auditorium, where the public memorial services will be held. Upon the completion of this ceremony the body will be taken to Mount Calvary cemetery for interment.

The officers of the camp were appointed a committee to represent the camp at the Memorial day observance, held at the Auditorium Monday, as the final services are held over our returned dead from France. That the colors be taken to the Auditorium and be properly draped.

At 9 o'clock on Main street east will start at 9:30. The order of formation will be as follows: Band, Appomattox post, G. A. R. veterans, W. R. C. company, D. O. external organization, school children and automobiles. H. K. Metcalf will be the marshal and will have charge of the parade.

At the cemetery the assemblage will be "America" and prayer will be offered. Then will follow the G. A. R. and W. R. C. ritual exercises. Exercises appropriate to the day will be held in the Methodist church at 1 p. m. There will be readings by Robert Herrington, William and George McKeon, and George McKeon. The address will be given by Elbert Bede.

Two special representatives of the Veterans' Bureau have arrived in Portland from the District of Columbia, for the purpose of assisting ex-service men in the State of Oregon who may have claims for compensation and vocational training against the government. These representatives will make his headquarters at the Portland office of the Veterans' Bureau for a week or ten days and will make an extended tour of the state. He will assist in obtaining evidence to be used in promoting claims of veterans in the smaller, as well as the larger, communities. Fred May, another representative, will do contact work in institutions for the insane located at Salem and Pendleton, with the purpose of expediting and determining their compensation status.

Following these exercises the members of the R. C. will hold their exercises in memory of the sailor dead at the Main street bridge, a few steps from the church.

Plans for a "living hall of fame" with a representative from each state are being completed by the Disabled Veterans organization, who desire these delegates to attend the second annual convention of the organization at San Francisco, the latter part of June. The Commander of the Disabled Veterans organization has appealed to the State legislatures of the country, numbering 110 in the state, to select the man whose service during the war was most noteworthy.

Hermiston—A county council of the American Legion will be held in Hermiston Friday, May 26. There are seven posts in Umatilla county, the largest number in any Oregon county. The local Legion will entertain at noon at a banquet at the Hermiston hotel. The purpose of the meeting is to stimulate interest in the work of the Legion to uphold the ideals of Americanism.

It is a mighty fine legion spirit" was the comment of Harry Nelson, state adjutant of the Oregon Legion, on hearing that Post Commander C. R. Morrow of the Wasco Legion post, Ryland Scott, post chaplain and W. H. Hull, post adjutant, journeyed forty miles south of their city to Grass Valley last Friday evening for a short meeting with the ex-service men of that district. The trio carried plenty of legion material, typewriter, paper, bonus applications and full information regarding the workings of the loan feature of the Oregon State measure. They will endeavor to visit the visiting legionnaires. The visit culminated in the ex-service men desiring to form a post of the American Legion in that district, numbering about fifty. Gene Vinton, ex-service man of Grass Valley is handling the organization of an American Legion post in that territory.

Athena Weston Post No. 69 American Legion has the "radio bug." In correspondence with state legion headquarters, it is stated that the post is planning for installation at Athena, Oregon. It is probable that the state department of the Oregon Legion will purchase a broadcasting outfit if enough of the legion posts in the state obtain radio sets to warrants sending out legion news.

Auxiliary to World War, Post No. 307, V. F. W., held a short business meeting Tuesday evening at W. O. W. hall, East 5th and Alder streets, over the top No. 31 auxiliary.

In view of the splendid reception and patronage extended the initial smoker given by Athena Weston American Legion Post at West Hill in Athena, on Saturday evening, the members of the post decided to put another one on. C. H. Smith is chairman of the arrangements and promises a first class card.

Reedsport Post No. 62 of Reedsport, lays claim to having the oldest enlisted man in service during the recent unpleasantness, in this state and the country as well. Joseph J. Adams, a very promising lot of youngsters, and "oh boy" they can pull. They have one good hurdler in Larus. The association of Woodstock held a meeting and Mrs. Dellamy, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Williams reported on the national convention at Tacoma.

Over-the-Top Post No. 31, Veterans of Foreign Wars, and the Auxiliary have asked the gold star mothers of Portland to be their guests at the Memorial day exercises, at Mt. Scott cemetery. A flag will be presented by the auxiliary to the Soldiers, Sailors and Marines Cemetery association for the veterans' plot. All gold star mothers to attend the exercises are requested to notify Mrs. Lillian Likens, No. 1729 Berkeley street, so that proper transportation may be provided.

Robert Loop post of Amity, Or., has made application for rifles and equipment from the United States government for ceremonial purposes. The request was approved by Department Commander Goodell of the legion and forwarded to the Ninth Corps area for action.

A big smoker was recently held at Reedsport by the American Legion post. At the business meeting, prior to the smoker, the post decided definitely to put on a big Fourth of July celebration for that end of the county, with a baseball and field and track events and water sports and a dance as a wind-up to the program.

Since the resignation of F. W. Kime, commander of the Williamscombe Post No. 11 of Corvallis, W. H. Ellenburg, vice commander has assumed the command of the post. A meeting will be held shortly by the members of the post commander for the remainder of this year. The post has selected its delegates to represent it at the Fourth Legion convale.

The executive committee of the La Grande Post of the American Legion has been instructed to meet with the wives, sisters and mothers of the members to perfect the organization of a ladies auxiliary to the post. This auxiliary is being organized by the post to join the G. A. R. and the Women's Relief Corps in celebrating Memorial Day in a fitting manner. The memorial services will be held at the graves of all the soldiers who died in the World War. It is anticipated that ten regulation Springfield rifles ordered from the war department for ceremonial purposes, will arrive in a few days.

The firing squad for the memorial services at Mount Scott cemetery will be furnished by Over the Top post of the Oregon of Foreign Wars.

A 500 party will be given for the benefit of Peter A. Porter Circle No. 25, Ladies of Grand Army of the Republic, by Ella Austin, Dew Plough and Mollie Olmstead at No. 1179 Albina avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Prizes will be given.

Peter A. Porter Circle No. 25, Ladies of Grand Army of the Republic, will meet Wednesday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at Baker hall, Killingsworth and Albina avenues.

Legion Invades Madras in Mass Formation

SATURDAY and Sunday, May 13 and 14, Madras, Oregon, was in the hands of the American Legion. The legionnaires, Sisters, Redmond and Madras. The big initiation and convention of the American Legion posts in the district were under way and 22 legion men from Central Oregon went through the paces and took the obligations into the legion "sunshine order," the La Societe des 40 Hommes et 8 Chevaux, at the command of Adjutant Harry N. Nelson of the Oregon legion and Ed Elvers National President of the forty and eight company with headquarters at the Dalles, were on the ground at Madras during the seasons.

Delegates to the first state convention for the "sunshine" order were elected late Saturday night by representatives of the arrangements under George T. Pearce, Post Commander. The post informed the visitors that they had under consideration the proposition of building a fine legion home in that city for use by the legionnaires and citizens of the community. Already, the legionnaires have been subscribed by the post membership. This post, Commander Pearce informed the visiting members, had since the first of the year placed over forty new members in the ranks and had increased its membership over its 1921 total.

Following the sessions, a banquet was served and given by representative of the post. The legionnaires and their families were entertained by Dorothy Young who danced in the old Greek fashion. Later the executive board presented the legionnaires with a book of the legion. The term "legion" was declared Latin champion. Several impromptu stunts by groups of legionnaires concluded a most successful evening.

Woodstock A May festival was held last Friday by the pupils of Woodstock school. Five hundred children took part in the entertainment and 1400 parents and friends were there to witness the program. The festival consisted of the wand drill, the Indian club drill, the dumbbell exercise, primary ring dance and some folk dances.

Tomorrow the boys who are to take part in the track meet at the end of the month will try out for both running and jumping. The team is now doing good work and is in fine shape for the finals. Earl Watson, all star of the school in track events, will be the star of the meet, as he believes he could throw it farther if he could eat a little more mush for breakfast. He is also good in broad jumping, for he can clear a high jump, and he is a very promising lot of youngsters, and "oh boy" they can pull. They have one good hurdler in Larus. The association of Woodstock held a meeting and Mrs. Dellamy, Mrs. Kelly and Mrs. Williams reported on the national convention at Tacoma.

Couch Couch school children held their annual exhibition Wednesday afternoon, at which displays of sewing, cooking, manual and other work were shown to parents and visitors.

The program opened with a radio program in the school auditorium at 2 o'clock, after which the rooms were thrown open to the public. The program was a very fine one, especially the seventh and eighth grade girls, little dresses, underwear and aprons, designed and sewed under the supervision of Miss Sara Harsh and supervised by Miss Edna Waples.

The manual training exhibits represented the year's work of the seventh and eighth grade boys, and the entire school was represented in the exhibit.

Gregory Heights H. P. Coffin of the public safety section visited the Gregory Heights school yesterday morning, May 19, and spoke to the assembled pupils, urging them not to play in the streets or to jump on moving automobiles or trucks, and to observe the code in crossing the streets. He also presented the new regulation sleeve bands to the two boys appointed as safety patrols for the school. These patrols are Alvin Cottrell and Henry Groth. The Gregory Heights Parent-Teacher association held its regular meeting at the schoolhouse Friday evening, May 13. The meeting was held at 8 o'clock, in order that the fathers, as well as the mothers, might have the opportunity to attend. This association is greatly interested in the school and the children. A. R. Baseball has, to a large extent, given way to track and field work, in preparation for the general school meet to be held May 21. The Gregory Heights baseball team won one and lost three of its regularly scheduled games. However, the players feel that this was not a bad record, as the G. H. team has been strong players from grades below the eighth, no eighth grade being taught in the school this year.

When the pupils of this school in their auditorium Friday evening May 13, under the direction of Mrs. Lou Gray. This entertainment was in the form of an opera.

The program was divided into two parts. The first part was the cantata, "The Walrus and the Carpenter," this was sung by ninety voices from the fifth and sixth grade classes. The second part was the play, "The Flower Shop," in which the plot deals with the celebration of Little Au San's birthday.

Au San around whom the plot is built was played by Virginia Davis. The characters of Au San's cousins Kitu and Kayo were played by Autumn Sprague and George Boardman and the Emperor's part was sung by Millard Jones. The other two characters were a couple of American gentlemen visiting in Japan, these parts were played by Kenneth Hagerman and John Wartsman. They each sang solos from the "Song of Tokio" and their efforts were loudly applauded. The songs "Far Away in Old Japan," "Au San," "Japanese Lullaby," "The Flower Shop" and the "Chamber Song" were sung by a chorus consisting of 200 pupils. The stage was draped up so as to represent a cherry blossomed garden in Japan.

While getting the opera ready Mrs. Gray was assisted by the following teachers: Miss Eleanor McCarty, Halle Thomas, Sophy Dalstrom, Edith Waik and Irma Whittier. Everyone that saw the performance, and there was a good sized crowd, was loud in their praise of the work done by these teachers in putting out such an excellent entertainment.

Peninsula Pupils from the Portsmouth, Williams, George and Linnton schools who are entering the music memory contest attended a program consisting of numbers difficult to secure on piano, violin and phonograph in the assembly room Friday afternoon. Miss Godwin of Seberling-Lucas company presented the record numbers; Duncan Allen of Jefferson high school, the piano, and Max Ohm the violin. W. H. Boyer, supervisor of music, was present.

Glencoe The Glencoe girls have been victorious in all of the indoor games which have been played so far. Two of the games played this week were Clinton Kelly and Glencoe, 25 to 19; Mount Taber and Glencoe, 15 to 15. A book review contest was held at the East Side library, May 10, between Hawthorne and Glencoe schools. Miss Fannie Wood, of Glencoe, won.

Coeds' Terms for Men

The phrase used by slangy coeds to characterize the varieties of the masculine members of the genus homo, are varied and startling according to a recent questionnaire circulated in Wisconsin University. Popular classifications divided the sheep and the goats among the men among the following classes: boobs, dumb-bells, he-flappers, "intellectuals and pseudo-ones," grinds, hicks, ideals, drunks, politicians, fusers, non-fusers, loafers, woman-haters, rough-necks, duds—and some more.

One feminist said there were "poker ones and fast ones—slow, fast and medium."

Another divides them by the way they fix their hair, "Bandoline-haired, normal haired, and subnormal haired."

Others said there were "snobs, low brow, trunkish highbrows," "those who are getting an education through at them," "those who only work, those who only play, and those who do both successfully."

One cheerful lassie sums up the lass deadly sex like this: "But for a that, they're not a bad lot. They are usually pleasant to talk with, pleasant to walk with, and pleasant to work with."

Those Who Want the Finest Once upon a time the advertising manager of the Hazelwood said to me, "I admire the Joneses so much. One of the first things they did was to get that I should never say a word in their advertising that would detract from the home and home cooked meals." I've never forgotten that attitude and I do admire the Joneses. Truly the American home is a wonderful institution, but when you go away from home you find the Hazelwoods the finest place in the world.

Just now, strawberry shortcake and spring vegetables are most attractive. Both Hazelwoods serve a roast chicken dinner Sunday, 12 to 3, at one dollar. That is well worth a half hour.

Far more suits are worn by San Francisco women than any other costume.

Shoes of Fashion Never have shoes played so big a part in the season's styles! They are decidedly in fashion, not only in cities, and they're all so attractive, especially when accentuated by light toned hosiery. In fact, there are so many popular styles that one can hardly "find" shoes. What else have you? When she goes a-buying, at Greenfield's, Fourth and Morrison, is a much bigger variety than I've seen any place else. It becomes a question of what not to buy, rather than which to select. Business Is Splendid

Says the manager of Proctor's, and it's not the least wonder in the world; I don't see how it can be any place else on the entire coast. Showing of smart millinery!

What's new? I asked. "White," he exclaimed in capital letters. White crepes de chine, white Georgettes, white novelty silks. They can be worn with anything—therein lies their charm. Wear what you will, they will compliment it perfectly. Of course, they're finished with splashes of color or black that enhance them even more. Some carry embroidered motifs, others odd button effects and of course wherever there is a smart collection of white there also is wheat used as a trimming.

Price? I had almost forgotten it in my enthusiasm. Seven dollars and thirty-five cents. You had expected me to say Fifteen dollars, hadn't you? Seven dollars is the wonder of the world. No one will suspect you've paid so little for the one you select. What a time! Just below Broadway. Proctor's!
