Phone Company Suit Formally Dismissed

An order dismissing the suit brought by the Postal Telegraph company against the state highway commission seeking the right to erect poles on the river side of the lower Columbia river highway, was signed Thursday by Federal Judge Wolverton. The order also assesses all costs to the plaintiff. The telegraph company was denied its request for an injunction against the commission several weeks ago. Erection of the poles here is said to be progressing now as previously ordered by the highway commission, except in a few instances, where concessions were granted.

Firecrackers and Kindred Noise to Be Barred July 4

Salem, May 25.—No more may the youthful patriots of Oregon vent their enthusiasm on the grand and glorious Fourth of July through the medium of firecrackers and fireworks. "Them days is gone forever." Under the provisions of an act of the legislature of 1921, effective January 1, last, firecrackers, rockets, torpedoes, blank cartridges, caps, Roman candles, pistols, canes and all forms of explosives and pyrotechnics hitherto associated with the celebration of the annual natal day have been banished from the realm of Oregon forever. Not only is it forbidden to make use of these once common and necessary adjuncts to a fitting and proper observance of the Fourth of July, but their sale or possession by dealers is also prohibited and the state fire marshal or his assistants are authorized to confiscate and remove any such stocks as may be discovered within the state.

NORTHWEST PLACE OF BIG IDEAS, SAYS CHURCHMAN

"The church throughout America is looking to the Northwest as the place of big ideas," said Dr. R. T. Williams, general superintendent of the Nazarene church, in an address Thursday afternoon before the North Pacific assembly which is in session here. The remark was made at the conclusion of a home missionary anniversary service, when, in response to the leader's appeal for a more earnest support of home missions, $5000 was raised within a few minutes. "This country is in the best financial condition of any part of America today," declared the presiding officer. "I know it because I've seen all of it. You don't know what hard times are out here. If you folks would go out after money for your churches and home missions you would get it."

Willamette to Be At Flood Stage of 17.6 Feet Monday

Higher temperatures in the intermountain country for the past week were having their effect on the freshets in the Columbia river today when a new rise was recorded that presaged a flood level at Portland which will be 1.3 feet higher Monday than today. Reports said that the Snake rises 1.1 feet at Lewiston and that the Columbia river rose 1 of a foot at Wenatchee. Umattila reported a rise of 1/2 of a foot in the main channel. The district weather office issued a forecast which indicated a stationary flood level Saturday and a rise to 16.8 feet Sunday and 17.6 feet Monday. The office also advised that the flood would continue to rise for several days until the cooler weather of today cut down the freshet.

Muratore and Other Opera Stars to Quit; Salaries Reduced

Chicago, May 26.—(I. N. S.)—Grand opera temperaments hereabouts are exceedingly ruffled, it became known today. Prospective salary reductions, affecting even the great Muratore, are responsible. It seems the "business management" which has taken over the affairs of the Chicago Opera association following the departure of Mary Garden as "directrix," has drawn up a new budget to meet the salaries of the song birds. Pay checks have been revised downward. And so Muratore, Backlanek, Irene Pavloska, Ricardo Martin, Margory Maxwell and other local favorites will be conspicuously absent from the company. From an authoritative source, admittedly close to Muratore, it was learned today that the great tenor flatly refused to accept a cut in his previously guaranteed figure of $2200 per performance. Irene Pavloska is said to have refused to accept a cut of $100 a week. Baklanek, Russian baritone, was asked to take a slight cut in his $1000 a performance salary and he is said to have refused. Thus and so. The budget will stand.

FORMER BUDDIES TO BEAR BODY OF VETERAN OF WAR

The body will lie in state at The Armory until the morning of Decoration day, when it will be returned to the cathedral for interment. From the cathedral the body will be returned to The Armory until the public memorial service at The Auditorium in the afternoon. The honorary pall bearers will be Martin Grass, C. Ross, Carl Mack, E. M. Tilton, Earl Woods, Albert Camp, Eugene McEntee, Earl McCormick, Lawrence Schnell and H. C. Morgan. All of these men were wounded on the same day Schaffer was killed. Schnell was wounded by the same shell that killed his buddy. The firing squad, also former members of company D, 163d infantry, who commanded company D, will be made up of E. Woodman, W. Smoke, Dewey Powers, Grank Bosch, Kenneth Hastings, John Alexander, L. Corning, Norman McCormick and Al. Herbert Baker.
