WOOL MARKET STRONG; ADVANCE IN WORSTED YARNS IS FACTOR (Bosten Bureau of The Journal)
Boston, June 1.—The wool market continued strong today and the advances of from 2 ½ to 25 cents a yard in the prises of worsted goods by the American Woolen company was a factor. That company is reported to have bought considerable wool in bond.

Prices on the Montana ranges are advancing, recent sales having been recorded as high as 41 ½ cents a pound unscoured, with a good quantity selling around 38 cents. Buyers are picking up edd lots of Texas wools around 50 cents while waiting for the Kerryille and Del Rio sales. About 2,000,000 pounds of California wools have arrived here and are being sold around $1,25 to $1.30 on a cleaned basis.

DRYGOODS MARKET TRADERS

DO BUSINESS IN SMALL LOTS
(Wall Street Bureau of The Journal)
New York, June 1.—Traders in the drygoods market today watched the dourse of the raw staple closely and the business done was in small lots. Prices, however, were firmly held with scellers disinclined to accept any bids % of a cent below current quotations. Sheetings were more active than printy-cloths and some choice grades brought figures slightly above the market. Sattens were in demand and some business was recorded in drills, twills and pajama checks. Some lines of denims have been withdrawn from the market until late in July and material for work shirts was in good demand.

ity is excellent. On the public market they are selling at 15c a pound or two pounds for 25c.

First home grown cabbage for the season is also being offered on the market, about a month later than normal. The heads are small but the quality is good. California cabbage remains at a very high price.

Head lettuce from local places and from The Dalles shows increasing supplies in the retail shops, with sales at 10c to 15c head. Galifornia stock will soon disappear from the market.

California strawberries are of very poor quality and are higher. They are really high at any price just now. Local stock is showing a slowly increasing supply and the fruit is but liste higher.

Armour Buying Forces Rally on Wheat at Closing

Chicago, June 1.—Wheat was as west at midday as it was strong at the start and it was hard to understand the chunge in sentiment. Everyone seemed to feel that the market was going to do better before the start, and they governed themselves assordingly. They were encouraged to buy by the strength in cables and the market reduction in receipts and these factors eliminated some of the short interest. The market held well for a time and bulls gained confidence when they learned that 750,000 bushels of cash whoat had been sold to exporters overnight. Some interest claimed that the people who bought the wheat hedged it in July, indicating the wheat was unsold. Later Northwest interests sold and there was heavy selling by- a house connected with the long side of the defunct May deal. This pressure brought out liquidation and stopious selling. On the break shorts took profits. Snow estimated the wheat crop at 80-1,090,000 bushels of vinter and spring.

Trade in corn was mostly local. Prices followed the trend of wheat. A feature on the late break was the liquidation of extensive long holdings by some of the larger professionals. Cash demand for corn has dropped off. Receipts continue of good size. The weather is too cool and wet in spots.

Oats followed the trend of leading cersals. Prissure developed when other grains started their downward journey. The demand for cash outs is not so good as of late.

Frovision trade was unimportant and of small volume. Price changes were of little importance.

Wheat rallied late in the session on buying condited to Armour. The demand in and the condition of the condi wheat rallied late in the session on buying credited to Armour. The close was % to % c higher; July, $1.19 to $1.19 %; September, $1.17 % to $1.17 %, and December, $1.20 %.

Special Correspondent of the Journal Kausaa City, June 1.—Marked improvement continues to be apparent in business conditions in the Southerst, This condition is based on the strengthening of market prices for many agricultural products. The crop outlook is bright and practically all wholesale lines report an increase in the volume of merchandise sales, although in some lines, due to lower prices, the money value of the business done is slightly lower than for the corresponding period last year. Dry goods merchants declare general conditions in this section are particularly multilying to them and say collections have improved materially. Bad reads, due to heavy rains had incisment weather, cut down the relume of business in groceries in the rural districts in April and May , but business now is picking up satisfactorily.

There has been no increase in the price of
