Washington, June 2.—Investigations of the cotton schedule in the Fordney-McCumber bill, which Republican leaders are now trying to shove through to passage in the senate, discloses the well founded work for another contemplated raid on the public's pocketbook, this time to the possible tune of $750,000,000 a year.

PEPPER LEADS BEFORE DIRECTORS

San Francisco, June 2.—A plea that the Pacific Coast should request a reconsideration of the decision of Judge Landis in debaring W. H. Klepper and Mrs. Brewster from any connection with the Portland club having a history of a long period, was made to the league presidents in special session here today.

It was also argued that his decision regarding the contract of Hester Kennedy to the league constituted taking away property without due process of law and was therefore not valid.

People for Primaries, Lowell Says

"The trouble with our friends who are attacking the direct primary in Oregon is that they are at heart seers; they love a boss and are anxious again to make political obsequies before his throne."

So declared Judge Stephen A. Lowell of Pendleton, a progressive Republican, who was in Portland today accompanied by Mrs. Lowell en route to Washington, where he will deliver the commencement address before the high school graduating class this evening.

"The rights of the people, when once acquired," Judge Lowell continued, "are never relinquished. They are slow of attainment, but when once secured, remain assured. Such is the history of all civil liberty. The 'old guard' always dies hard, whether in republic or monarchy."

"All that is needed to make the existing primary law satisfactory in its operation is to supplant it by a simple compulsory voting law, a registration act which will prohibit the awarding in voters on election day and a statute which will compel an elector when registering to make solemn oath that he is in good faith a member of the party wherein he claims registration membership, has been a supporter of its principles for at least one election and intends to continue in such alignment."

"The men who now are candidates are the same type as the men who were candidates 20 years ago—no better and no worse."

"I recall the outrageous conditions which obtained in Republican conventions in the old days in Oregon. No man could be nominated for any state office without the approval of my friend Joe Simon, Jim Lotan or Jack Mathews, the bosses who dominated Oregon conventions and legislatures for a quarter of a century."

Those who look ambitiously at school directorships in the election which will name a successor to Director A. C. Newton and the Rev. Dr. J. J. Schell, Clerk R. H. Thomas, that statements of such candor, with petitions, must be filed with the board not later than Saturday.

The law says June 4 is his final date for filing but, since that is Sunday, the previous day sets the time limit. The board will meet in the afternoon at noon Saturday, but any prospective candidate who finds it convenient to file by that time may arrange with the clerk to file any time Saturday. Director Nevill will be a candidate to succeed himself. One or two others are said to be ready to present their petitions.

Denial of Railroads of Right to Compete With Water Lines at Coast Ports Has No Foundation in Law, Commission Informed.

By Carl Smith
Washington, June 2.—(WASHINGTON BUREAU OF THE JOURNAL)—Joseph N. Teal this morning made the principal argument for west coast interests before the interstate commerce commission in the battle to maintain railroad competition with water lines in Pacific coast territory.

"That is a power of absolutism not intended by law and not anywhere found in law," he said. "The commission will destroy itself if it attempts to assume such a power."
