

J. L. DAY IS OUSTED BY W. E. EDDY FOR COUNTY CHAIRMAN

W. E. Eddy is the new chairman of the Republican county central committee. He defeated John L. Day, who held this position for many years, by 13 votes. The contest took place Wednesday night in the midst of excitement at a meeting where the spectators equaled the number of delegates, and where there was such boisterous demonstration that wardens were given that police would be called to preserve order. Several policemen were at the place of meeting, but they kept out of the hall when the excitement was at high pitch.

Harriet Lane Richards was reelected secretary and Finley O. McGraw was made treasurer. A. A. Bailey was selected a state central committeeman. The Federated Patriotic societies ticket was the winner in a contest where several of Day's former supporters went over to the Eddy support as votes were taken on rollcall. Eddy received 150 votes; Day got 137. The defection from the Day ranks came especially toward the close of the rollcall. There was a spirited protest against the winner in a contest rollcall, but the advocates of a secret ballot were defeated.

DAY PLEDGES LOYALTY

At the beginning of the meeting, Day urged that "nothing be started" that would be detrimental to the Republican candidates nominated at the primaries and expressed his own loyalty to these nominees. Day stated that there was considerable contention over the action of the credentials committee, which made exception to four delegates. They were Sandy, Sandy, Ray H. Sheldon, Fred W. Brown and Norman F. Coleman. Three, it was alleged, were not registered as from the precincts which they were listed to represent, and in the case of Sheldon, it was claimed he was registered as an independent. A faction headed by John A. Jeffrey tried to force the seating of Sheldon, but this failed by a vote of 167 to 90.

JEFFREY NAMES EDDY

Jeffrey presented the name of Eddy, and Horace S. McIntosh nominated Day, and in this speech declared that a Democratic politician, referring to Jeffrey's recent conversion from the Democratic party, was trying to run things in a Republican convention. There were some fiery speeches and much uproar, and then came the vote on rollcall, resulting in Day's defeat. Day at once congratulated Eddy and introduced him as the new chairman. Yellow tickets were circulated among the delegates prior to the start of the meeting, giving the names of the federation candidates.

Following adjournment, although numerous supporters of Day had left the hall immediately on the finish of the rollcall, many of those remaining extended their congratulations to Eddy.

RESERVE TO BE DISCUSSED

Salem, June 8.—State Engineer Cuper will leave tonight for Burns to attend the conference of interests involved in the Malheur lake bird reserve. Definite settlement of the rights of all interests concerned is expected from an investigation by representatives of the federal biological survey of the state.

Business Assuming Brighter Aspects, States C. H. Baker

Business is a trifle better—the financial thermometer has climbed a notch or two. That is the scientific conclusion of C. H. Baker, head of the C. H. Baker Shoe stores in Portland and other coast cities, who left here today for a business trip to the East.

Baker's home is in Los Angeles, where he started his chain of stores. The stores are strung up the coast between Los Angeles and Portland, with a few in Detroit and other eastern cities. There are three in Portland with a new one to be formally opened at Park and Morrison streets next Monday.

"The reports from my stores show that almost over night there has come a very perceptible change for the better all over the West, in a business way," Baker stated.

General Pershing, Lordly Swan, Has Increase in Family

"General Pershing," the lordly swan who heads the swan family in Laurelhurst park lake, today has added responsibility of an increase in his family. Three baby swans have arrived, and two more are expected to take their first peek out of their mother's nest at the edge of the lake some time today.

"General Pershing," locally known for his belligerent disposition, has not been mollified in temper by the arrival of the babies, say park attendants. Rather, the increase in his responsibilities has made him more than ever determined that mere humans must keep their distance, and he carefully guards the nest. Visitors to the park are warned that it is the part of wisdom to keep their distance from the Swan family home just at present.

Man Conceals $150 In His Sock; Thief Robs Him at Night

P. M. Brickley, Nyssa, Or., farmer, will return to Nyssa a poorer but a wiser man.

Wednesday night when he jumped into his bed at the Willamette hotel he had $150 tucked in the bottom of his sock. This morning when he awoke he found that he had been robbed. During the night robbers had entered his room, thrown back the bedcovers and with some sharp instrument slit his sock and removed the money.

Brickley told detectives that when he retired Wednesday night he tied a string around the top of his sock, thinking it would be impossible for anyone to remove the string without awaking him. Police found no evidence of chloroform or ether, and Brickley did not experience any strange feelings, so police judge that he was sleeping so soundly that the robbers did not disturb him.

There's danger of spoiling good coffee in roasting. One of the reasons for the smacking good flavor of M.J.B. is the care we use in roasting. Every roast is exactly the same. M.J.B. never varies.

"The Quality Coffee of America" Why?

A modern Jack and Jill

Nothing of the fairytale about this Jack and his playmate. For his Bantams are the real thing built for the hard-wear realities of play. Twist and turn, run and romp, up hill and down dale—it's all in the day's work for Bantams and all in the day's play for the boy who wears them.

Bantams are the new play suits for boys with the "boy idea" built into them. Double [drop] seat, double knees, two handy front pockets, brass rooster buttons! That's why every lad who wears them is proud as a strutting little bantam. Your dealer has "Can't Bust 'Em" Bantams in blue denim and khaki—for boys of all ages from 1 to 8.

Remember, too, that Bantams give a dollar more wear for an extra quarter.

Pretty as any "picture book" child is this modern Jill—yet Kute Kuts let her play as "rough-and-tumble" as she likes. And no scolding from mother, either. For mother knows that once her girlie is "dressed up" for play in Kute Kuts—there will be no rips or tears or stopping for repairs.

From the cute Dutch peg, high curved waistband, handy patch pockets, narrow red piping with "every stitch guaranteed"—down to the shiny red buttons—Kute Kuts match the pride of any little miss and mother, too! And every bit as sturdy as they are stylish.

Ask your dealer to show you Kute Kuts in khaki, denim and fancy stripe twills. What's more, you'll be surprised how little they cost.
