Shipowners Object To High Fee for Mailing Notices

Owners of the steamer Alaska, which was wrecked last summer off the California coast, objected Monday through their attorney to the United States marshal's office charging $2 each for mailing out 311 notices to claimants against the ship.

Several weeks ago the owners obtained a court order requiring the marshal to notify 406 claimants that all claims should be filed immediately. The marshal served the Multnomah county precipes in person and mailed out the balance to the last known address of the other claimants. His report shows 311 were received.

Although attorneys for the ship had all the notices printed and engaged a clerk to assist in the mailing, the marshal charged the full fee required by law, or $622. Proctors for the ship owners are endeavoring to have the court set the cost bill at $25, which they allege is an ample fee for the small amount of work left for the marshal to perform. Judge Bean took the petition under advisement and gave the attorneys five days in which to file briefs.

Jas. Casey, Pioneer Of 'Railroad Row,' Dies in Sanatorium

James Casey, pioneer member of "Railroad Row" for almost two score of years as traveling freight and passenger agent for the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway, died Monday at Derr's sanatorium after an illness of six months.

Casey came to Portland 40 years ago and started a transfer business. In 1886 he joined forces with the Milwaukee road when it opened its Portland office. He was a charter and life member of the Elks which organization will conduct the funeral ceremonies at Finley's mortuary, Wednesday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. He is survived by his widow, Ella Logan Casey. Interment will be made in the family plot as Astoria.
