

BOOZE SHIPS ARE HOVERING SAFELY NEAR 3-MILE LIMIT

By John Gleisner
Universal Service Staff Correspondent.

New York, June 20.—Riding safely at anchor off the Jersey coast lies a fleet of seven vessels, brigs with thousands of cases of the choicest foreign wines and whiskey, intended to be smuggled ashore. Prohibition enforcement officers know the fleet is there—some of them have visited the flagship and talked to the captain.

But they are powerless to do anything more than guard against the landing of the contraband. The fleet is outside the three mile limit, and the 12 mile customs limit and the Volstead law is not operative there. The smugglers are serenely confident they will dispose of their cargo without difficulty. Most of the liquor is from the Scotch ports. The cargoes of the seven vessels are valued at around $3,000,000.

John D. Appleby, prohibition director for New York and New Jersey, has ordered the prohibition navy to be on the alert. The former submarine chaser Hahn is patrolling the mouth of the harbor, her forward gun ready for action.

Smaller craft are guarding the coves and inlets which dot the coast.

When one of Appleby's agents, through a ruse, was able to board the flagship, he found scores of cases of liquor on deck awaiting the arrival of small speed boats which will carry it ashore.

The agent went to a small Jersey seaport and posed as a bootlegger's agent, with authority to purchase thousands of dollars worth of booze. He arranged with the captain of a little tug to carry him out to the fleet for $50.

BOOZE SHIP LARGE

One of the vessels—the flagship of the fleet, was as large as the huge freight liners that come into New York harbor. The captain of the little tug vouched for the agent and he was received aboard with every courtesy. He saw a shipload of the finest liquor money will buy—ten thousand cases, he was told. And the ships at anchor near by were almost as large.

Names of the cases stored on deck were those of world renowned distillers and wine makers. The agent told the captain of the flagship he probably would want the entire cargo. The captain apparently used to doing business on a large scale, showed no surprise. He made a price of $55 a case and said that the responsibility of the kipper ended when the goods went over the side. Also he added, that business was conducted on a cash in advance basis.

OFFICIALS POWERLESS

After assuring the captain that the terms were satisfactory, the agent hurried back to New York and reported to Appleby. A hurried conference of the prohibition force followed, but it was decided nothing could be done except to guard the coast.

Appleby declared that rum runners are finding it increasingly difficult to land their stuff.

Much Married Pairs Try Wedlock Again

Vancouver, Wash., June 20.—The combined ages of two couples who obtained marriage licenses here Monday totaled 236 years, and there were two other couples far enough advanced in years to resort to the term "legal" in giving their ages. Fred S. Rogers, 72, of Butteville, Or., was married to Lucille Kramer, 62, of Los Angeles, by Judge Vaughan. This is the fourth venture for the groom. The bride was a widow and this is her second marriage. Paul Warra, 52, was married by Judge Vaughan to Cecilia M. Mowe, 50. Both live in Astoria. The bride had been married twice before. The groom was a widower, this being his second marriage.

Berlin-New York Radio Talk Shows Big Improvement

By Special Wireless to The Journal and Chicago Daily News.
(Copyright, 1922.)

Berlin, June 20.—A 90 per cent efficient radio connection has just been put in operation between Berlin and New York. The new instantaneous method enables the great wireless stations to work 24 hours a day, each for a requiring only a fraction of a moment to travel 2000 miles through the air. So powerful is the apparatus used that static conditions will seldom interfere with sending and receiving. Even if at this end or the other three or four words arrive in a mutilated condition the receiving station can at once ask the sending station for a correction and get it within five minutes.

Until now the receiving and sending operations had to be kept apart so that the stations worked 12 hours in receiving and 12 in sending. Now receiving and sending take place at the same time without interference. German radio experts expect soon to have 10 or 12 super-wireless stations working with all quarters of the globe at the same time with no limit to the number of words which may be filed for transmission.

Thye to Grapple With Chicago Man

Spokane, Wash., June 20.—Final arrangements were closed Monday by "Hat" Freeman for a championship wrestling bout between Ted Thye of Spokane and Johnny Meyers of Chicago in Spokane June 30. The two principals of the bout have posted $250 forfeits to guarantee weight and appearance for the bout. Articles call for a weight of 158 pounds, give or take two pounds, at 3 p. m. the day of the match.

Husky Life Savers Rescue Stray Auto

Astoria, June 20.—Though shipwrecks are its specialty, the Point Adams coast guard crew is not above saving a foundering automobile from the sea. The occupants abandoning hope of saving the machine started to strip it of its movable parts. The lookout for the life-saving crew saw the danger and summoned the coast guard, who pulled the car out with a block and tackle. The motorists camped on the beach for the remainder of the night.

Hope to Strike Oil At Grays Harbor

Aberdeen, Wash., June 20.—Revival of the hope of the finding of oil in the Grays Harbor section has been created by the announcement that leases on state lands amounting to more than 40,000 acres have been taken by outside oil speculators. It is said drilling for oil will be started again, notwithstanding the alleged failure of the Standard Oil company to find oil in this section.

Holiday Declared For Rose Festival

Prineville, June 20.—Virtually all Prineville is going to the Rose Festival in Portland. The mayor has declared Friday a holiday here. The few remaining at home will help clean the city of debris left by the conflagration of June 1, which destroyed more than half of the business section.

ASKS SUPPORT MONEY

Vancouver, Wash., June 20.—A motion was filed Monday in the divorce suit of Rufus E. Allen against Sarah J. Allen, in which the defendant asks $30 for monthly support for herself and minor daughter pending the determination of the case.
