

G. A. R. MAY FAVOR POSTPONEMENT OF BONUS MEASURE

Aberdeen, Wash., June 21.—A rousing campfire Tuesday night closed the day's program of the Washington G. A. R. encampment here. While nothing can be disclosed as to the text of the resolutions, it was the opinion of several of the leaders of the encampment that one of the plans may touch on the soldier bonus. While expressions heard were of entirely private nature, it seemed to be the opinion that if the bonus question is touched upon at all it will favor delay for the present because of the financial condition of the national treasury.

Next to the platform the succession to the command, now held by J. H. Coffman of Tacoma, holds attention. Four candidates are in the field. It is stated, with Enoch Gerry, junior vice commander of Spokane, supposedly holding the lead. Judge Austin of Seattle also is said to be a formidable candidate. Two others regarded as dark horses are declared to be in the race.

SESSION IS BRIEF

Tuesday morning's session of the encampment in Liberty auditorium was of the briefest order. After being called to order by the department commander, the department chaplain led in the recital of the Lord's prayer. During the afternoon session the department commander delivered his annual address.

"We, of the G. A. R. love the flag and nation because they stand for right, justice and progress, and we all stand for 100 per cent. Americanism," the department commander said. "We stand for one country, and only one flag and one language and that flag the Stars and Stripes, Old Glory."

Chinese to Face Murder Charge in Tong War Killing

The Dalles, June 21.—As an outcome of the tong war shootings here in April, when Chang Hong, cannery laborer, was killed, Chin Sic, a Portland Chinese, will go on trial Wednesday on a charge of first degree murder.

District Attorney Francis V. Gallo-way will be assisted in the prosecution by George O. Mowry, deputy district attorney of Multnomah county. Chin Sic insists that his name is Or Ching, despite numerous identifications to the contrary. His wife, who came from Portland a few days after he was arrested, is registered at a local hotel under that name.

Jimmie Sum, a local Chinese cook, who accused of implication in the murder of Chang Hong, will be tried as soon as the court is through with Chin Sic.

SAWMILL BURNED; LOSS IS $120,000

Dallas, June 21.—The plant of the Foster Lumber company, 25 miles southwest of Dallas on the Polk-Benton county line, was completely destroyed by fire late Monday, causing a loss of $100,000 to $120,000. Both the sawmill and planing mill were burned to the ground.

The mill had a capacity of 140,000 feet of lumber a day. It had been shut down for more than a year, but preparations were being made to resume operations.

The fire started in the filling room from an undetermined cause. Some insurance was carried but not anywhere near enough to cover the loss.

Sawed lumber in the yard surrounding the mill was saved and the company contemplates rebuilding the planing mill in order to finish this lumber. The sawmill, however, will not be rebuilt.

The Foster company is composed of Nebraska capitalists.

Asks to Be Classed Preferred Creditor Of Morris Bros., Inc.

Argument on the petition of A. W. Stone of Medford to be classed as a preferred creditor against Morris Bros., Inc., defunct bond house, was made Tuesday afternoon before Federal Judge Wolverton by Gus Newberry of Medford.

In August, 1920, Louise Leonard deposited $228 with the bond house with instructions to secure for her a 6 per cent. Canadian gold bond. Newberry stated. In December, 1920, Stone mailed Morris Bros. a Canadian bond of that description and asked them to sell it for him. The bond was delivered to Louise Leonard and a check mailed to Stone, but before Stone cashed the check the bond house went bankrupt.

Robert Maguire, attorney for the trustees in bankruptcy, contested the petition, claiming that the money was squandered by the bankrupt and never came into the possession of the trustee. Judge Wolverton took the petition under advisement.
