One final effort to prevent the execution July 7 of John Rathie and Elvin D L.rby, convicted slayers of Sheriff Til Taylor of Pendleton, will be the attorney for the two men, Charles W. Garland, who returned recently from Washington after an unsuccessful attempt to obtain a writ of error from the United States supreme court. Garland announced he would try to get a restraining injunction from federal judges. Sheriff Taylor was killed two years ago during a jail break led by the two condemned men. The supreme court judges were scattered about in various Eastern cities, making it impossible to get favorable action from them, Garland said. rie was advised by two of the fudges to ask for this injunction, that he question might be referred to them the customary channels.

The injunction is asked on two grounds, first that authorities who methods in obtaining confessions from the condemned men have never been brought to justice, and second, that capital punishment is unconstitutional from the heat since it denies a citizen one article inherited through the bill of rights handed down from old English com-

INVITATIONS SENT OUT FOR HANGING OF TAYLOR SLAYERS

Salem, July 5.-Formal invitations to witness the executions of Elvie D. Kirby and John Rathie at the state prison here Friday morning were being issued today, according to Warden J. W. Lewis. The invitations will be very limited in number, and will in-clude only the sheriff and deputy sheriffs of Umatilla county, immediate relatives of the condemned men, members of the coroner's jury and news-

The time for the hangings has been set for 8:30 o'clock, only one of the condemned men mounting the scaffold

REPRIEVE GRANTED

Rathie and Kirby were condemned to hang for the murder of Sheriff Til 106 to 94. 1920. The original date of their execution was fixed for December 3, 1920 but a stay of execution was had when an appeal of the decree of the Umatilla county circuit court was filed with the

Following the affirmation of the decree of the lower court by the supreme ourt, the two men were returned to for resentencing, and the second dates for their execution was for December 2, 1921, within a year from the first date. Execution at that time was stayed through the issuance of a reprieve by Governor Olcott. pending the outcome of habeas corpus proceedings brought in a final effort to save the two men from the gallows. This reprieve was issued for 30 days, and at the expiration of that time the supreme court not having acted upon the proceedings already instituted, the governor extended the reprieve until

ONE HANGED When the supreme countcupheld the in the habeas corpus proceedings, at-torneys for Kirby attempted to secure of error from which to base an appeal to the United States supreme court, and failing in this they went directly to the higher court, where again they were met with failure. Kirby and Rathie since the date of their first sentence have been confined in murderers' row at the prison here, and have been model prisoners. have apparently become reconciled to the fate which now seems certain, and Rathie has accepted the Catholic faith. He was baptized in a service at the prison Sunday by Father Buck, prison chaplain. Since the return of capital punishment to Oregon only one execution has been staged at the state prison, that of Neil Hart, who was hanged on November 5, 1920, for his part in the Deputy Sheriff Christoffersen has eturned empty handed and depressed, from Vancouver, B. C., where he went to interview Victor Brayer, who has been sought for two years by Portland police and the sheriff's office, and earn what he might know about the mysterious disappearance and supposed murder of Ernest Descamps, ex-saloon sceper and leader of the French colony. Brayer has again slipped through the fingers of the authorities. Christoffersen, who was dispatched post haste to Vancouver when word was received recently that Brayer was custody, returned Tuesday night Brayer, it appears, was arrested by a Vancouver policeman on suspicion and on the strength of a circular picture sent his department by the Portland immigration officials. Brayer was going under the name of Bissett, Vancouver then wired Portland immigration officials, but before the latter could get in touch with the police authorities here and decide on aution, with the heat wave that smothered it Brayer had been released at Vancouand immediately disappeared, even leaving his baggage behind.

POLICE WEAR BLANK LOOK When Christoffersen reached Vancouver the police there wore a blank "Brayer has been turned loose," they said, without even hinting why such action had been taken.

Soon after Christoffersen's arrival Sunday the mercury made a season's in Vancouver a dispatch from the Canasked that Braver be held for further instructions, as he was in the country illegally. Thus Brayer, by the hasty blundering of British Columbia police officials, escaped two traps. The office of R. P. Bonham, head of

Spokane, Portland & Seattle Railway Company Oregon Trunk Railway Oregon Electric Railway Company

TO EMPLOYES MEMBERS OF FEDERATED SHOP CRAFTS:

The management of these railway companies requests that striking employes affiliated with the federated shop crafts, give earnest consideration to the following quotation from statement by Chairman Hooper of the United States Railroad Labor Board:

"Regardless of any question of the right of men to strike, the men who take the strikers' places are merely accepting the wages and working conditions prescribed by a government tribunal and are performing a public service. They are not accepting the wages and working conditions which an employer is trying to impose.

"For this reason public sentiment and full governmental power will protect the men who remain in their positions and new men who may come in."

It is the wish of the management that the harmonious relations which have in the past existed between these companies and their employes may continue, and in order to protect the interests of employes who are now on strike, such employes are hereby advised that all who report for duty on or before Wednesday, July 5th, 1922, will be returned to service in their former positions and with seniority rights unimpaired. Those who fail to return on or before Wednesday, July 5th, 1922, will lose their seniority and if re-employed rank as new men, and their seniority will date from the time of their reemployment.

Portland, Oregon, July 2d, 1922.
