

U. S. WARSHIPS STAGE PARADE IN BOSPHORUS

(Special Cable to The Journal and the Chicago Daily News)

Therapia, Turkey, July 8.—(Delayed)—For the first time in Turkish history, American warships paraded through the Straits of the Bosphorus Saturday when Rear Admiral Mark L. Bristol reviewed seven home-bound destroyers under his command.

Although the parade was announced for 7 p. m. the Asiatic as well as the European shores of the Bosphorus were lined with native and European spectators early in the afternoon, all eager to see the American warships.

Rear Admiral Bristol, who, besides being the American high commissioner, also commands the United States naval detachment in Turkish waters, surrounded by the members of his staff, hoisted his flag on the yacht Scorpion, which has been the American station ship at Constantinople for more than 20 years. The flagship was surrounded by a large number of smaller craft containing members of the local American colony, anxious to bid farewell to the officers and crew of the destroyers which for more than a year have protected their interest in these waters.

The destroyers, after passing at full speed towards the black sea, slowly saluted the flagship while French and British warships anchored nearby hoisted farewell signals. A new detachment of seven destroyers arrived last week to replace the home-going flotilla. After leaving one station ship at Constantinople the other six destroyers proceeded to the Black sea and Southern Anatolian coast to protect the growing American interests there.

Smiles in Cemetery Cause Political Row

Here is the picture that caused the widespread dissension throughout France, which finally led to an impassioned defense of Premier Poincare in the chamber of deputies by Rene Viviani. Poincare is pictured with American Ambassador Herrick in one of the American military cemeteries in France. French communists seized upon the occasion to support their contention that Poincare, as president, precipitated the war and declared the photograph showed him smiling and even laughing, in the face of the dead. The premier explained that the brilliant rays of the sun forced the squint which gave the impression of wrinkles of merriment about the eyes and mouth.

FORBES IS TO BE QUERIED ABOUT VETS' HOSPITAL

Colonel Charles R. Forbes, head of the United States Veterans' bureau, who will reach Portland early Wednesday morning, will be asked by the city council probably at a conference Wednesday why Portland cannot have a government hospital for the treatment of tubercular veterans.

The sick men could thus be kept near their relatives and friends, where all the influences would encourage their recovery rather than their prolonged illness, it is pointed out.

The bureau has charge of caring for disabled veterans and Colonel Forbes is coming here on his annual trip of inspection to the Pacific Coast offices. He will be met by Kenneth L. Cooper, head of the local branch.

Colonel Forbes is a Spokane man and Portland veterans felt that his home state of Washington has had more than its share of government hospitals in the Northwest district. This matter will be threshed out at a series of conferences.

Mayor Baker today called a conference for 11 o'clock Wednesday in the city council chamber of the special committee recently appointed by him to represent veterans' organizations, patriotic societies and civic clubs, in connection with the movement to prevent the removal of tubercular ex-service men from hospitals in the vicinity of Portland to institutions in other parts of the country.

It is expected that Colonel Forbes will be present at this conference.

At the session of the city council Wednesday forenoon final consideration will be given to an ordinance adding a new section to the law covering hospitals, whereby tubercular patients may be kept in hospitals within the city limits under certain conditions.

An order which came through some time ago directing that all tubercular patients being treated at the Pierce sanitarium on Terwilliger boulevard be transferred to the government hospital at Walla Walla aroused considerable feeling. The men would be taken away from their relatives. It was charged.

This order was finally rescinded, the bureau making the statement recently that the Walla Walla hospital was filled to its capacity without the Portland patients. The city council, led by Mayor Baker, has informally discussed the possibility of better quarters for tubercular patients here, perhaps at the United States public health service hospital, in East Multnomah street. The city ordinance would have to be changed to allow this.

AMERICAN LAKE SITE IS CHOSEN FOR VETS' HOSPITAL
Tacoma, July 11.—(U. P.)—Four hundred acres of land on the west end of American Lake was selected Monday as the site for the new United States Veterans' hospital by Colonel Charles R. Forbes, head of the Veterans' bureau.

The site includes the present Boy Scout camp, Camp Dover, and extends to the south for one and one-half miles. The hospital itself will cover 50 acres of ground and will consist of 30 separate buildings, it is said.

Kills Parents of Wife After They Are Told to Pray

Eureka, Cal., July 11.—(I. N. S.)—"Get down and pray! Your time has come!"

After so addressing himself to his aged father and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Kimmons, Lee Smith, 50, a railway clerk, early today shot them to death at their home with a rifle.

He fled to an upstairs room, declaring he would also kill his wife. Police officers arriving on the scene were threatened with death if they attempted to go to the upper story of the Kimmons home.

After holding them at bay some time, Smith placed the muzzle of his rifle in his mouth and blew his own head off.

The aged couple killed by Smith were well known here. The husband was about 75 and Mrs. Kimmons close to 70.

Mrs. Smith, daughter of the Kimmons, had sued her husband for a divorce, and this is believed to have caused the tragedy.

The Smiths have a daughter aged 19.

Fresh eggs, 8 cents per dozen; frozen or preserved eggs, 8 cents per pound; dried eggs, 51 cents per pound.

These rates are slightly higher than those in the house bill, which were 6 cents, 4 cents and 15 cents respectively.

Daniel Webster's Hat

ONE of Daniel Webster's famous retorts was to a young man when their hats got mixed.

"Why, Mr. Webster," said he, "our heads are just the same size."

"On the outside, perhaps," replied Webster.

If there had been 10,000,000 automobiles in Webster's day this might have hit off the feeling about tires as well.

To understand the tire situation today, go back to 1918, 1919 and 1920, when tire makers were jumping to catch up with the demand. In 1921 they more than caught up.

And in 1922, every car-owner knows where he can get plenty of tires with plenty of big discounts. Plenty of bargains with ingenious sales-arguments.

A vast quantity of merchandise he knows little or nothing about.

The quantity problem is history. It is all this quantity of tires—and their wide variance in value that is making most car-owners determined to get quality.

Hundreds of thousands of car-owners rode on Royal Cords last year.

The unobserving man might say that this was reaching the limit of the quality idea.

Yet, in January, February, March, April and May, 1922, the sales of U. S. Royal Cords through dealers more than doubled over the same period of 1921. A new high record for Royal Cords.

Spontaneous buying through dealers.

A picture of the public voluntarily making U. S. Royal Cords the measure of all automobile tires.

You have, perhaps, overheard some other tire being sold for "as good as a Royal."

At a time like this remember what Daniel Webster said.

Current prices on United States Passenger Car Tires and Tubes are not subject to Federal Excise Tax, the tax having been included.
