

PORTLAND SCHOOL BOY LOSES LIFE IN LAKE NEAR BEACH

Rockaway, July 12.—Robert O. Shoemaker, age 18 years, son of A. W. Shoemaker, No. 4445 52d street S. E., Portland, was drowned in Ocean lake, 15 miles north of Tillamook, at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

With two companions, Karl C. Riehlund, 17, No. 1030 Morrison street, and Ted Lundy, also of Portland, he had lunched from Cannon beach, where the three boys had been camping. They established camp on the ridge at Twin Rocks and Wednesday afternoon went in bathing in the lake, which covers about 10 acres.

The Shoemaker boy started to swim to a boat near the center of the lake. He was a good swimmer and covered the distance without apparent difficulty, but just as he reached the boat he threw up his hands and sank. He made no struggle and never came up after going down the first time. It is believed he was stricken with heart disease.

The coastguard at Bayview was notified and divers were sent to search for the body, but at a late hour it had not been found.

The drowned boy was a student at Washington high school. His father is an employe of the Southern Pacific.

Robert O. Shoemaker left Portland last Thursday, going to Astoria in search of employment. He obtained work in a lumber mill and was at Ocean lake on an outing. His parents left Portland last Friday by automobile for a tour of southern Oregon, with Crater lake as their destination. Late Wednesday night they had not been located.

Former Portland Man, Hit by Car, Dies of Injuries

Medford, July 12.—T. C. Tomlinson, who was struck by a touring car Tuesday evening, died Wednesday night in Cold Hill. The accident occurred on the Pacific highway near Rockpoint bridge in Jackson county.

A coroner's jury exonerated the driver of the car, P. L. Falsen, of Dinuba, Cal.

Tomlinson's wife and daughter died several years ago in Portland.

Start Movement for Mount Ashland Road

Ashland, July 12.—Jesse Winburn Wednesday started a movement to build a scenic highway to the top of Mount Ashland. Winburn states that there is no place in the world that will excel this trip in the amount of beautiful scenes that will be presented to the eye in the 25 mile drive and that the highway can be built at a small cost compared with other like projects.

Ex-Governor West Backs U. P. Program At Bend Meeting

Bend, July 12.—Oswald West, former governor of Oregon, addressing the Bend Commercial club Wednesday, urged its members to get behind the Union Pacific program of railroad development as the best for the future of the state as a whole. He declared that the Union Pacific must gain access to the Willamette valley if railroad construction is to be made across the state. West went on record as favoring a direct line from Bend to Crane.

"I am not interested in any railroad, but I am interested that transportation be established east to Crane, instead of going south to California," West said. He suggested that the Commercial club cooperate with Ontario in backing the plan for the completion of the line across the state, which the Union Pacific says it will build if the recent decision of the supreme court stands.

Head of Baldwin Locomotive Plant To Visit Portland

Samuel M. Vauclain, president of the Baldwin Locomotive Works of Philadelphia, will arrive here the latter part of next week on a tour of the Pacific coast states, according to advice received by local railway officials. He is accompanied by several high officials of the locomotive works, including Grafton Greenough, vice president in charge of domestic sales.

Vauclain took an active part in the readjustment work following the great war and recently sent a "prosperity special" of 20 locomotives constructed in the Baldwin shops for the Southern Pacific to the West coast. Efforts are being made to induce the visitor to remain in the city several days.

Wife of Portland Salesman Injured

Roseburg, July 12.—An automobile owned and driven by J. W. Collins, a traveling salesman of Portland, overturned on the highway south of Roseburg Tuesday. The car turned over in a ditch, throwing out the occupants, Mr. and Mrs. Collins and another woman. Mrs. Collins was quite severely injured, and was taken on to Grants Pass, where she was placed in a hospital. The other members of the party were bruised.

Astoria Bids for Kiwanis Convention

Astoria, July 12.—The local Kiwanis club is making a strong bid for the Northwest district Kiwanis convention in 1923. Members of the organization are planning to send a delegation to the convention at Olympia in August to present Astoria's request for the convention next year.

OREGON CITY ROAD WORK IS HELD UP

Medford, July 12.—The state highway commission decided Wednesday not to reconsider its location of the Pacific highway through Oregon City. If the city is not willing to cooperate in opening the seventh street and Railroad avenue route, the highway commission will instruct the engineer to abandon the proposed bluff route and to postpone advertising the section south of Fifth street for contract.

The city council insists on the Fifth and Main street route, which is not acceptable to the commission. Other business transacted by the commission Wednesday involved proposed work in Josephine county. It was decided to improve the three mile section of the Oregon caves road between Robinson's corners and Kelly creek. This will complete the improvement of the caves road to the connection with the Grants Pass-Crescent City road. The work will be advertised for letting as soon as plans can be prepared which will be probably in August.

Further improvement in Josephine county will be the improvement of the Grants Pass-Crescent City road between Kirby and the Applegate river. The commission will leave Thursday morning for Klamath Falls to consider a number of proposed projects in that county. Friday night Lakeview will be reached and from there the commission expects to go to Bend. The program is tentative and subject to change.

SOUTH END ROAD TO BE DISCUSSED BY COUNCIL

Oregon City, July 12.—What is hoped will be the final discussion of the routing of the Pacific highway through Oregon City proper will occur Saturday evening at a meeting of the city council. At the request of the state highway commission a special meeting to consider the question over which a warm controversy is being waged was called last night, but adjourned for lack of a quorum.

The city recently received a communication from the commission that the portion of the highway known as the South End road, extending from the Southern Pacific tracks at Fifth street to Canemah is to be contracted for improvement July 25. The routing of the connection between this strip is under discussion as the commission wishes to run it up Seventh street and the city is desirous of using the Fifth street route, which would require no new improvement. At the request of the highway body, another council meeting is to be held before July 25 for the full discussion of the affair and an attempt to arrive at a settlement.

Boys Find Body Of Indian Once Held for Bigamy

U. S. Immigration Agents Hold Man Of Vancouver, B. C.

Henry Sparks, carpenter of Vancouver, B. C., was arrested late Wednesday by United States immigration authorities and held on three counts in connection with his entrance into this country from Canada.

According to the federal authorities Sparks crossed the border at Blaine, Wash., and came through in a truck. He is supposed to have come here to work at his profession and investigation may result into further action involving other persons, the authorities stated.

The charges against him are surreptitious entry into the United States, entry in violation of the contract labor law, and entry within one year after refusal to admitance. He is being held in the county jail.

BOHEMIA SURVEY BEGUN

District Bonds Are Opposed by Madras Resident

L. A. Young of Madras declares that the farmers of Jefferson conservancy district, known as the "north unit," are getting along very well as dry farmers and he heartily indorses the state irrigation securities commission's act in refusing to approve a proposed contract between the officers of the district and a bond buying house for the sale of the district's bonds.

Young came to Portland from Salem Wednesday, where he had presented to the securities commission a letter of appreciation signed by 157 farmers of the proposed district.

The letter stated that the price of $2 cents offered for the bonds was too low, that the price offered showed it to be a doubtful business venture, that the cost-plus system is objectionable, that the practice of giving each land owner one vote instead of basing the voting power on the number of acres owned is unjust—and that, anyhow, the land is fertile, grows good crops, and does not need irrigation.

Druggists Enjoy Picnic in Grove

Roseburg, July 12.—The outstanding feature of the second day of the 22d annual convention of the Oregon State Pharmaceutical association was a picnic held at Riddle, 25 miles south of Roseburg. The picnic was held in a grove with a picnic dinner and an evening dance in an open air pavilion.

Seeks Information At Police Station And Is Arrested

When R. S. Williamson, No. 233 East 34th street, arrived home early, this morning he found a series of notations on a police blank. He could not understand the significance of the slip and forthwith went to police headquarters for an explanation.

"Why, that means they found that much moonshine at your place," declared Patrolman Fleming, at the information desk. "You say you found that when you came home?"

"Yes."

"Well, if they found that booze there, I guess they are looking for you, too," said the policeman. He placed Williamson under arrest.
