

People's Battering and Walberg's Pitching Break Long Losing Streak of Portland Beavers

Jinx Chased; Beavers Win One From S.L.

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 21.—"Tar-Heel" Jim Poole's two crashing home runs—which accounted for four of the runs scored by Portland—and the effective pitching of George Walberg, the big southpaw, enabled the Beavers to put a crimp in their losing streak Thursday at Salt Lake. The victory was the first scored by Portland in 17 games.

Until the seventh inning, the score stood, Poole 4, Thurston 1. Poole had chased all of Portland's runs in with his two circuit clouts, while Thurston's homer was the only score registered off Walberg.

In the seventh singles by Cox, McCann and Sargent, King's walk and a sacrifice fly gave Portland two tallies and in the eighth singles by High and Cox and an error resulted in another run.

Poole made his first home run in the opening inning, driving Greenest in ahead of him. His second came in the third inning, scoring Wolfier.

Thurston made his hit in the fifth inning.

Paul Strand, who hit safely in 33 consecutive games, did not get a hit off Walberg.

The two postponed games, which were scheduled to have been played this series, will be staged during the trip of the Salt Lake club to Portland late in the season.

Dodger Leader's Prediction in Big Race Coming True

NEW YORK, July 21.—A few weeks ago Wilbert Robinson spoke. He said he expected to see his club up in the fight for the pennant within a month. He didn't concede the Giants a walkover. He didn't say the Pirates were due for a flop, but he did expect some important changes in the upper flight of the National league.

At this time the Giants are out in front around the bend and almost out of sight. The Pirates and Reds are tied up in deep fourth, not far from the Cuban fifth. The Cardinals are virtually tangled with the Dodgers for second place.

John McGraw never says anything about the chances of his own club or of any other. After the example of the Pirates who tossed off a nine-game lead last year and lost the pennant in the last couple of weeks, he "I expect some changes," said Robbie and how things have changed to bear him out.

But once in a while old Wilbert Robinson speaks and when he murmurs it's a wise idea to listen.

If Wilbert Robinson could be obtained by the Yankees he might even handle Babe Ruth. It was his fatherly, friendly approach, his encouraging personal interest that retrieved Dutch Ruether from the bargain counter and made him the leading pitcher of the date claim to be the best pitcher as much as the efforts of the team that brought the Dodgers up to a fighting position after a wretched start.

Walter Hoover, winner of the Diamond ball team, but you can't put the powers of Wilbert Robinson on paper.

Joe Benjamin Injured; Delays Coming Here

JOE BENJAMIN must be the easiest injured batter in the world. Willie Bernstein, his Western representative, brought a telegram from the Portland Lightweights, Thursday, stating that he had strained a ligament in his leg and would be unable to box in Portland until the latter part of August.

Benjamin's injury will result in a change of the plans of the Portland boxing commission, which planned to use Joe in the main event of the smoker to be staged during the second week of August against the winner of the Harter-Sacco contest.

Abe Mishkind, who will meet Harold Jones of Tacoma in the semi-windup attraction, will arrive in Portland Friday night to resume his training. In the eight bouts he has fought since being injured, Mishkind has lost but one decision and that to Jimmy Sacco in Vancouver, B. C., a short time ago.

Sacco and Harper continued their hard training Friday. Both boys appear to be going at top speed in their workouts and should put up a wonderful scrap.

Can't Expect a Solo to Beat a Quartette

THE big attraction for Sunday in semi-pro baseball circles is the Nicolai Door-Brotherhood of Railway Clerks game on Columbia Park for the 1922 championship of the City league. The last two days have seen considerable squabbling over eligibility of players on the part of the Nicolai and Clerks managements and a bitter feeling has developed. The feeling came about because of the desire to keep the game free from "ringers" and develop a real champion of the City league. The Nicolai Door club will go into the game Sunday, with practically the same line-up as has been seen all season. The last men signed by Nicolai was over three weeks ago, according to Manager Ben Feetham.

On the other hand, according to Feetham, Railway Clerks are endeavoring to use new players in spite of a "gentleman's" agreement between the two managements. The Railway Clerks manager, Ted Richter, in giving his version of the squabble, maintains he is strictly within the league by-laws and signed men up last Wednesday night.

President Leon S. Jackson of the City league spent several hours Thursday endeavoring to reach a settlement with the course of interviews at the club, but they might play carelessly and without sufficient fight if they felt that they didn't care whether they won or not.

The club owners in refusing to repeal the anti-barnstorming rule and in declaring each fall that they made no money out of a short world series, might influence some players in believing they were doing no wrong if they didn't fight their heads off for the pennant.

The in and out showing of the New York Giants has brought forward the rumors again that Miller Huggins will be decapitated as leader of the American league champions.

Bitter Rivalry Exists Between Semi-Pro Teams

NEW YORK, July 21.—Speaking of the peculiar features of the 1922 pennant race, a New York baseball man who does more than merely look at the games, says:

"Wonder if some of these fellows want to win the pennant?"

Money being the ruling influence of most of the players, he points out that some of the players could make more money by barnstorming and playing winter baseball than by living on the glory of a world's series.

He made direct reference to no club, but he pointed out that star players would have more in the long run with the share of a second place club in the world series money and a fat winter contract than they could get out of the winner's cut of the fall classic.

He pointed out that it might never enter the heads of the players to throw games, but they might play carelessly and without sufficient fight if they felt that they didn't care whether they won or not.

The club owners in refusing to repeal the anti-barnstorming rule and in declaring each fall that they made no money out of a short world series, might influence some players in believing they were doing no wrong if they didn't fight their heads off for the pennant.

The in and out showing of the New York Giants has brought forward the rumors again that Miller Huggins will be decapitated as leader of the American league champions.

Huggins' Job Said to Be on Fence Again

NEW YORK, July 21.—If you are good at threading verbal needles, you may be able to deduce from the utterance of Mrs. Mollie B. Mallory, a tennis champion who says she knows nothing about tennis, that America's defense of the Davis cup this year against the Australians will have to be almost fool-proof. Otherwise, so you will be allowed to imagine, the cup will go back across the Pacific to the land from whence it came.

Mrs. Mallory did not say these things in so many words. She merely allowed your humble scribe to infer this much during the course of interviews at the tennis champion's home today.

J. O. Anderson was one of the most improved players she had seen, this or any other year, Mrs. Mallory intimated. Gerald Patterson, now had a comparatively strong back-hand supplement, she further declared.

"Then you think the Australians have a great chance to win?"

"Oh, no, no, no," Mollie hastened to reply. "Don't make me say that. Don't make me say anything. I know nothing about tennis. Ask Mr. Tilden. He'll tell you I never study or analyze the game."

"You just go out and play it," I suggested.

"Yes, that seems to be it."

She had noted, however, that Patterson's back-hand, and perforce his game in general, had improved.

The Stanford university baseball nine will play a series of games in the Hawaiian islands during the summer.

Eastern Fistic Gossip

NEW YORK, July 21.—Whether or not Bobby Barrett, the Philadelphia lightweight, had his career totally spoiled, in being hurried too swiftly to a meeting with Lew Tendler—as Jimmy Handier was spoiled years ago by being hurried against Kid Lavigne scouted, seems to have succeeded in Jimmy Dougherty's hard puncher will go against Joe Welling. Welling is not a great hitter, but he is great on defense and if Barrett, hammers him much he will be made line for new start upon the path with Tendler—a path which Tendler so rudely blocked.

Tommy Loughran, the South Philadelphia middleweight, who treated Harry Greb with so little consideration recently, seems to have succeeded in locating the missing Johnny Wilson. At least Joe Smith says he has run Wilson to earth and expects to get him to agree to a match next month. Loughran, by the way, says he wants to fight Greb again, this time 15 rounds to a decision, in New York.

This desire has been made known to Greb, who has no reply as yet. Greb is curiously intent upon meeting big fellows and letting men of his own size or smaller alone. Jeff Smith seems to be unable to induce him to get into the ring and when the New York boxing commission invited Greb to meet Dave Rosenberg for the midweight title Greb said he was no longer interested in that particular crown.

BOXING

CHICAGO, July 21.—(U. P.)—Floyd Fitzsimmons, Michigan City promoter, wants to match Jack Britton and Dave Shade for the welterweight championship.

Montreal, Que., July 21.—(U. P.)—Paul Lahay, amateur heavyweight champion of Canada, has been suspended for boxing against Jim Dempsey and may lose his amateur standing.

Ottawa, Ont., July 21.—(U. P.)—Jack Dempsey, here on an exhibition tour, said he would box Bill Brennan within two months, and would then fight Jess Willard and Harry Wills.

Jr. Oarsmen To Compete For Honors

PLEASED with the prospects of a good day for rowing, the visiting crews from Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., as well as from the Portland Rowing club are ready for the opening events of the annual North Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen regatta billed for this afternoon.

The junior contests are set to start at 1 o'clock this afternoon and the final races—all senior—will be staged on the one and one half mile course just south of the east approach of the Sellwood ferry at the foot of Harney avenue, Saturday afternoon. The first event is scheduled to start promptly at 2:30 o'clock and there will be no waits and delays, according to those in charge.

The Canadian rowers were out for a short workout Thursday night and they reported themselves in the pink of condition. With the exception of the junior fours this afternoon, both Vancouver and Victoria will have representatives in each race against the Portland combinations. Victoria was unable to muster a junior four but there is a possibility that a last minute entry may be made.

H. E. Judge, president of the association, will be the commodore of the two day program and the other officials have been instructed to be on hand to handle the affair promptly. The barge Stefan has been engaged by the Portland Rowing club to take spectators to the scene of the races and it will leave the east approach of the Morrison bridge both the afternoon in time to anchor opposite the finish line.

There is plenty of room on the banks to permit thousands of spectators to witness the contests and all who care to be on hand are requested to remember that it is the new course that is going to be used and not the one near the old club site at the foot of Ivon street. Any of the trains leaving the First and Alder streets station every 15 minutes will take spectators to Harney avenue.

The many beautiful trophies which are up for competition are on display at Spalding's and Jaegers' jewelry store.

TENNIS

SEATTLE, Wash., July 21.—Herbert Suhr of San Francisco was the most feared of all the visiting players to the annual Washington state tennis championships here this week but he has been eliminated. Marshall Allen of Seattle defeated the Californian, who was runner-up in the Oregon state men's singles last Saturday, in the most spectacular and sensational match of Thursday's play. The scores were 6-3, 6-4. The finals of the junior section will be played here Saturday between Armand Marion of Seattle and Harry Shaw, also of Seattle.

White Posts Check For Go With Leonard

(By United News)

New York, July 21.—Without waiting for the outcome of the Leonard-Tendler fight for the lightweight title, Charley White of Chicago, whom Leonard once knocked out, has filed a formal challenge to Leonard with the New York athletic commission, accompanied by a forfeit check of $2500.

White gave White Jackson a terrific beating here last winter and Jackson has never come back. Charley also beat Johnny Dundee recently, compensating for the defeat Dundee gave him in the Garden last winter.
